NICARAGUAN WAR HOTLY DENOUNCED BY SENATOR DILL

His Reading Account of Loss of Five Marines Causes Clashes Over Administration Policy.

ONE MORE SANDINO FIGHTER IS KILLED

Irregulars in Brush With U. S. and Guard Patrol Near Scene of Recent Surprise Attack.

By the Associated Press.
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 2.—One of Sandino's men was killed and another wounded in a clash between the Nicaraguan irregulars and a United States Marine and Nicaraguan national guard patrol, according to reports received here today from the interior.

The patrol was under the command of Lieut. Lepage, Commandant of the 1st Marine Regiment, and was operating near Somoto, 20 miles southwest of Ocotal. There were no marine casualties.

With marine patrols swarming in the region of Darail, scene of last Monday's clash, in which five Americans were killed and eight wounded, in a surprise attack by a Sandino band it is expected that other contacts with the irregulars will be made should the Sandino men leave their hiding places in the mountains.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The killing of five more United States Marines in Nicaragua precipitated another row in the Senate today over the administration policy in that Central American Republic.

Senator Dill (Dem.) of Washington read news accounts of the latest encounter between the Sandino forces and the Marines, at the same time firing a broadside at the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee for not reporting on any of the resolutions concerning the Nicaraguan situation which were introduced early in the session.

Chairman Borah of that committee rose immediately to say that the committee had been gathering "all the information" possible and had "exhausted the subject as far as the facts of the military and naval action are concerned." He said that some pronouncement on the subject would be forthcoming within the next 48 hours, telling Dill, however, that no action had been taken or contemplated on any of the resolutions submitted.

Doubts Effect on Policy.
Borah said he doubted the effect on the administration policy of Senate action, and Dill took violent exception to this view.

"Does that mean that the Marines will continue to wage war in Nicaragua indefinitely, regardless of our attitude?" Dill asked.

Senator Shortridge (Rep.) of California asked if he wanted the Marines withdrawn and the Washington Senator returned an emphatic "yes."

Shortridge said such withdrawal would mean that United States citizens and property in Nicaragua would remain at the "mercy of the bandit, Sandino."

Dill denied that American property or American lives were endangered, and showed that he did not believe the Marines should be sent anywhere to protect "large investments of a few." His declaration was greeted with applause from both the floor and the galleries, while Vice-President Dawes pounded for order.

"No Lives for Profit."
Senator Edge (Rep.) of New Jersey, then asked if the Washington Senator would "repudiate a solemn contract with both political parties" and leave Nicaragua to "bloodshed." "It is not an American bloodshed," Dill said. "It is against spending American lives to buy profits for men who have investments in Nicaragua."

Senator Smoot (Rep.) of Utah sought to end the debate by calling for the regular order and was successful, but Dill was allowed time to complete reading the news account of the skirmish in which the five Marines were killed.

The Nicaraguan situation was brought up again later by Senator Blaine (Rep.) of Wisconsin, who demanded that double pension privileges be allowed enlisted men in the Central American Republic, such as Senator Steck (Dem.) of Iowa proposed to make possible for disabled survivors of submarine accidents and relatives of men so lost.

No More Marines to Go.
Making known that no further marine reinforcements will be sent to Nicaragua, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur observed today that while the corps in suffering additional casualties in the little republic, the Marines are accomplishing their purpose—the elimination of Gen. Augustine Sandino.

Will Hays Testifying Before Teapot Dome Committee

Stewart Indicted for Refusal to Answer Question

To the G. O. P. National Committee (in bonds), $150,000.
Total in cash and bonds, $463,000.

In addition to the foregoing, Sinclair lent to the Republican National Committee, for a period of about two years, $100,000 in bonds, of which no interest was charged.

The fact that the Republican National Committee had received from Sinclair a gift of $35,000 and a loan of $100,000, in addition to a gift of $75,000 previously made, was disclosed to the investigating committee yesterday for the first time by Will H. Hays, former Postmaster-General in the Harding Cabinet, and now "czar" of the motion picture industry.

Hays failed to tell full truth, the simple reason that Hays failed to tell the full truth when on the witness stand four years ago.

As a matter of fact, comparison of his testimony yesterday with that which he gave in March, 1924, showed something more serious than a failure to give all the facts. It showed flat contradictions.

As a result of that, and of his obvious attempts at evasion on both occasions, Senator Walsh declared today that he was far from contented with Hays' story. He was not ready to say whether Hays would be recalled and given a third opportunity, however.

Of the $255,000 in Liberty bonds given to Fall by Sinclair after the Teapot Dome lease, $195,000 have been identified as bonds purchased out of the corrupt profits of the fake Continental Trading Co. Ltd., of Canada. Of the $150,000 donated to the Republican National Committee, to be applied on the deficit sustained in the Harding-Coolidge campaign of 1920, at least $25,000 have been traced to the Continental.

That the entire total of bribes and donations was made easy by the Continental deal, and that it was in return for the Teapot Dome lease, appears fairly well established by circumstantial evidence.

The Continental Trading Co. purchased $3,050,000 worth of Liberty bonds with the profits of an illegitimate oil deal made in 1921. Of these bonds, or their equivalent, a total of approximately $2,000,000 now has been accounted for, thus leaving a remainder of about $1,000,000 to be accounted for.

Future efforts of the Senate investigators will be directed toward learning whether any of that sum also went to the Republican party or to Republican officeholders.

Hays, who was chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1920, and directed the Harding-Coolidge campaign, testified yesterday that it resulted in a deficit of $1,200,000. He did not explain how that sum was supplied beyond saying that $150,000 of it was donated by Sinclair, $100,000 by the late Daniel G. Reid, steel and tin magnate, and $50,000 by the late John G. Pratt, a brother of the chairman of the Standard Oil Co. of New York.

Turned In as Personal Contributions.
During the hearing evidence was produced which indicated that a considerable portion of the Sinclair bonds were distributed among Republican politicians, who sold them, and then returned the proceeds to the National Committee in the guise of personal cash contributions. Apparently this was done in an attempt to conceal the fact that the funds actually had come from Sinclair. The law requires that a list of all contributors and their contributions be filed with Congress.

Briefly, Hays' story of the Sinclair gifts and loan was as follows: In 1923, a year after Hays had retired from the Cabinet, he became the supervising head of the film industry. Chairman John T. Adams and Treasurer Fred Upham of the Republican National Committee appealed to him for aid in raising funds to pay off the deficit which remained from the 1920 campaign. They were anxious to pay all debts in order to prepare for the 1924 campaign to re-elect President Coolidge.

Sinclair Gave Hays $250,000.
Hays went to Sinclair, who agreed to donate $75,000 and also agreed to turn over $185,000 in Liberty bonds, to be used as "collateral" in guaranteeing the payment of the National Committee's obligations. Hays personally received the package, containing $250,000 in bonds from Sinclair in New York. The gift of $75,000 was at once applied on a note held by a New York bank. Of the $185,000 loan, $50,000 was returned to Sinclair because it was not needed.

Hays sent another $50,000 of the bonds to Pratt, to be used as "collateral," but later induced Pratt to make a contribution of that amount, which was forwarded to Sinclair as partial repayment of the loan. Of the remaining $85,000, Hays sent $60,000 to Treasurer Upham in Chicago and $25,000 to Secretary of War John W. Weeks of Massachusetts.

He never got any of the bonds back from Upham or Weeks, and subsequently, finding himself unable to raise the amount necessary to repay Sinclair, he sent the oil magnate $25,000 out of his own pocket. Sinclair, "knowing that Hays had suffered financial losses," refused to let Hays bear the burden and returned the sum, instructing Hays to regard it as an additional donation.

Hays Speculated in Sinclair Stock.
The Senate Committee had previous information that Hays' "losses" were suffered through dealing in Sinclair stocks, following the Teapot Dome lease. Before taking the stand yesterday, Hays privately besought the committee members not to cross-examine him on that point, and they acceded to his plea.

Hays is a leading elder in the Presbyterian church, and lists that fact in his biography which appears in "Who's Who," together with the fact that he is a member of the Laymen's Committee on Ministerial Relief and Student Relief. He has continued his religious activities since removing to Hollywood to assume the moral guardianship of the movies.

He testified that he did not know when he received the bonds from Sinclair, that any of them had come from the profits of the Continental Trading Co. He was, however, that Sinclair had secretly obtained a lease on Teapot Dome from Fall, and that charges of corruption in connection with the lease had been made publicly. At the time he received the bonds, he was not aware of the oil scandal as bearing the weight of authority. They may invite him to appear before the committee within the near future and tell exactly who he has been in contact with since he got his information.

OIL COMMITTEE WANTS TO KNOW WHOM STEWART AND OTHERS ARE SWINDLING

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The prime purpose of the Senate Committee investigating the Teapot Dome slush fund of $2,000,000 in Liberty Bonds is to find the man or men higher up in business or politics who shared in the division of this fund with Fall and Sinclair.

They want to know who it is that Robert W. Stewart, Harry M. Blackmer, and James E. O'Neill are protecting by their refusal to testify in the face of heavy penalties of property confiscation or possible imprisonment. They are convinced that those who are thus shielded must be persons of extraordinary position and influence to command this unprecedented protection.

This conviction has been strengthened in the minds of members of the committee by the rediscovery of a forgotten speech delivered by Senator George H. Moses (Rep.) of New Hampshire, before the Marquette Club in New York, Feb. 14, 1924, soon after Doherty had declared his $100,000 "loan" to ex-Secretary Fall. In this speech Senator Moses said in discussing the oil scandals: "Those yet unnamed are greater in number and of far more consequence than the ones already involved. Of course, this information cannot be stifled and it is bound to come out."

Senator Moses is not an agitator nor a sensationalist. He is one of the Old Guard Republican leaders who is generally credited with knowing more about what takes place behind the scenes than any man in Washington since the death of Penrose. Senators, therefore, regard this declaration by Senator Moses regarding the men higher up in the oil scandal as bearing the weight of authority. They may invite him to appear before the committee within the near future and tell exactly who he has been in contact with since he got his information.

JOHN D. JR., EXPLAINS ATTITUDE ON STEWART

Still Investigating, So Did Not Oppose Oil Chairman's
Re-Election.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 2.—John D. Rockefeller Jr., who declined to vote for or against the election of Robert Stewart as a director of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana yesterday, is still seeking the facts, and is now taking, and will take, such steps as he thinks proper, one of his associates declared in a prepared statement today. The statement was given out at Rockefeller's office at 25 Broadway, but the identity of the "one of his associates" was not divulged.

"The published correspondence which Mr. Rockefeller has had with Senator Walsh," the statement said, "showed that Col. Stewart had offered to resign from the Indiana company on request. In view of this offer and of the fact that his resignation is available at any time, it is clear that nothing would have been gained by opposing Col. Stewart's re-election yesterday."

"Mr. Rockefeller has in his correspondence and in his testimony indicated clearly that if and when he felt that Col. Stewart's resignation should be had, he would not hesitate to request it as far as his stock is concerned. Mr. Rockefeller is seeking the facts and is now taking and will take such steps in the matter as he thinks proper. Since more than 50,000 other stockholders of the Indiana company are involved, it is obvious that Mr. Rockefeller must not act precipitately."

Nye and Walsh Assail Attitude of Rockefeller.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 2.—Chairman Nye and Senator Walsh of Montana, prosecutor of the Teapot Dome Committee, took sharp issue yesterday with the attitude of John D. Rockefeller Jr. in failing to cast the Rockefeller vote against Robert W. Stewart, who was re-elected chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

"I regard that, of course, as tantamount to an endorsement by the Rockefeller interests of Col. Stewart's management of the business of the company, in the face of the testimony that he was faithless to its interests," said Senator Walsh.

Chairman Nye said he "had hoped for something better from Mr. Rockefeller than that."

"It begins to look as though it might not be Stewart alone the committee was concerned with," Nye continued. "It is only fair to assume that Stewart's attitude with respect to the Continental deal is regarded as being proper and in keeping with their interest."

"It might be that transactions such as these which have been uncovered and in which Stewart is found involved to some degree at least are the sort of transactions which have made Standard Oil what it is today."

"In that event it would be too much to expect Standard Oil stockholders to complain, even when they were being looted with the consent of their own officers."

ADAM BREEDE DIES OF FEVER CONTRACTED WHEN IN AFRICA

Writer, Publisher and Big Game Hunter of Hastings, Neb., Succumbs to Kanisus City.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, March 2.—Black fever, contracted in Africa three years ago, caused the death here yesterday of Adam Breede, big game hunter, author and publisher of Hastings, Neb.

Invited to join a Missouri Editorial Association excursion to the Southwest States and Mexico, Breede came here several days ago, but was forced to abandon the trip when he became ill.

Breede, who was editor and publisher of the Hastings Tribune, was known as a world traveler, writer of adventure stories and war correspondent during the World War. He was unmarried. Two sisters and three brothers survive.

GENEVA PAPER SAYS KELLOGG
MEANT LETTER FOR LEAGUE
Opportunity to Reply Should Not Be Let Slip, Journal Asserts.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, March 2.—Under the heading "Don't Let the Opportunity Escape," the Journal de Geneve tonight comments that the Kellogg proposal to France is of extreme importance on two points.

First, says the Journal, it implicitly condemns the Monroe Doctrine which cannot be sustained except by a threat of war as an instrument of national policy. Secondly, it implies a decided evolution by the United States toward the League of Nations.

The paper sees difficulty in assuming the League as a political organism. Over France's head, it is to the League that Kellogg speaks and discusses an interpretation of its fundamental conception.

"We allow this opportunity to escape," it may never return. Logically it is the League which should reply, for France cannot speak in its name."

Near Butte, Mont.

By the Associated Press.
BUTTE, Mont., March 2.—Three men working in the Diamond Mine of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. here perished while fighting a fire in the Badger-State workings, an adjoining property, company officials announced here last night.

The dead were identified as: James White, shift boss; Edward Barnes and William Hasty.

The fire started yesterday morning in the Badger-State mine and smoky and gas forced suspension of work in the Diamond and Elm Orlu properties. Large crews continued to fight the blaze last night.

LEARNS HE HAS BEEN ROBBED WHEN THIEVES ARE ARRESTED

Farmer Who Didn't Trust Banks Hid $10,000 Under Smoke House.
PURDY, Mo., March 2.—Richard Wormington, farmer near here, did not know $10,000 he says he hid under a smoke house had been stolen until the alleged thieves were arrested. Wormington, who does, or at least did not trust banks, concealed his savings, all in gold coins, on his farm. Avery Wormington, a grandson of Wormington's second wife, visited him some time ago and then left for California. There his freedom in spending gold coins resulted in his arrest on suspicion. Barry County officers were notified, and on information furnished by Avery Wormington, arrested Bill Wilson, a farm hand employed by Wormington.

Wilson is said to have confessed that he and Avery Wormington took $15,000. Wilson returned $2,250, and Avery turned over $300 to California officers. The elder Wormington asserts he lost $10,000. Avery Wormington will be brought back to Barry County for trial.

BATTLESHIP GUN ELEVATION AGAIN BEFORE CONGRESS

House Committee Approves $14,800,000 Appropriation for Lifting of Barrels to 30 Degrees.

ONLY TWO VESSELS WOULD BE AFFECTED

Plan to Thus Alter Three Other Ships Rejected by Refusal to Meet Wilbur's Request for $34,670,000.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 2.—The much-discussed question of gun elevation again has been thrust to the front in Congress with approval by the House Naval Committee of an authorization of $14,800,000 for modernization of the battleships Pennsylvania and Arizona.

Among other things, the money would be used to increase the elevation of the big turret guns on these vessels to 30 degrees, which, it is said, would lengthen their firing range by 10,000 yards and enable them to match the shell radius of any warship afloat.

Similar work on three other capital ships, the New Mexico, Mississippi and Idaho, was disapproved by the committee, thereby marking the second time within a month that it has turned thumbs down on Navy Department recommendations. First it endorsed a project calling for the construction of only 16 ships as against 71 proposed by Secretary Wilbur and yesterday it disregarded, in part, a department request for $34,670,000 to modernize the five battleships. However, Representative Britten of Illinois, ranking Republican on the committee, said that, if the 1921 naval conference under the Washington arms treaty should not disapprove additional modernization, the committee probably would authorize the work on the other three battleships.

"The increase in maximum range of the turret guns of the Pennsylvania and Arizona," Britten declared, "will prevent their being outgunned by battleships of any other world power, and will also equalize approximately the extreme ranges of all battleships of our own fleet and materially facilitate the operations of the fleet by enabling the vessels to maneuver together."

"Installation of a five-inch anti-aircraft battery is also provided for each ship in accordance with standards adopted for all our first line battleships," he added. "When modernized to better withstand airplane and submarine attacks, the Pennsylvania and Arizona will afford much greater protection to officers and men aboard and will continue in the first line of the nation's right arm of defense, for an additional 10 years."

MAN IN THREE EXPLOSIONS IN SAME NUMBER OF MONTHS

Arkansas Lost $5000 Stock in Store Fire, Then Auto and Last, 200 Chickens.
ST. JOE, Ark.—Moscos Cash, formerly of this place, has been the victim of a costly explosion a month for the last three months. The first was at Pindall, when a gasoline stove, operated by a barber in Cash's store, exploded, and the store and its contents were destroyed, entailing a loss of $5000. The following month Cash's automobile caught fire on the road between St. Joe and Pindall, the gasoline tank exploded and the occupants of the car narrowly escaped with their lives.

Cash then moved to a farm near Harrison and now is engaged in the poultry business. A few days ago the brooder lamp in an upstairs room exploded, and in rushing into the room Cash was overcome by the fumes and fell to the floor, but managed to get up and call for assistance. The flames were extinguished, but 200 baby chicks were killed.

BOY KING OF TAVOLARA HAS ONLY 100 SUBJECTS

TAVOLARA, March 2.—Tavolara, one of the smallest inhabited islands in the Mediterranean has a new boy king who says that he intends to follow the example of King Amanullah of Afghanistan and put his country on the world map. He is 11-year-old King Paul, son of the late King Charles I. Although it has less than 100 subjects, Tavolara has been ruled by Kings for 85 years. The monarch holds his job under a grant made by King Charles Albert of Savoy in 1843, but the royal family of Tavolara has been more or less neglected by the crowned heads of Europe.

The island kingdom wants tourists to visit it. King Paul's people are nearly all fishermen and follow the sardine schools which play around the waters of nearby Sardinia.

Centralla, Ill., Prepper Shot.
By the Associated Press.
CENTRALLA, Ill., March 2.—Robert Vaughn, 29 years old, a Negro, was shot and severely wounded Wednesday night by Frank Hoag, who discovered the Negro peeping into one of his windows. The wounded man was struck by seven pieces of buckshot, but is expected to recover.

MAN WHO CLUBBED TWO TO DEATH IN FIGHT IS CAPTURED

Roy Shaw, Sought Nearly a Year for Murder Near Kennett, Mo., Caught at Louisville, Ky.

SAID TO BE FORMER BIRGER GANGSTER

Is Said to Have Admitted Crime—Missouri Officers
Start Back With Prisoner Immediately.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 2.—Wanted for nearly a year for clubbing two men to death near Kennett, Mo., Roy Shaw, 27 years old, of Herrin, Ill., was arrested yesterday in a rooming house here. He admitted the killings, police said.

Shaw was formerly associated with Charlie Birger, Southern Illinois gang leader, who is to be hanged April 13 at Benton for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City, Ill.

The prisoner, in custody of officers, was on his way to the Missouri town an hour after his arrest, having waived extradition.

"Tip" Led to Arrest.
The dual murder occurred May 8, 1927, in Belle Needham's roadhouse, 20 miles from Kennett. During a free-for-all fight Shaw is said to have killed J. J. Wilson and Joseph Barnett, and to have seriously injured the latter's brother, Oliver Barnett, with a piece of stove wood.

Shaw fled, and no trace was found of him until several days ago when Missouri officers received information that he was in Louisville. Deputy Sheriff H. G. Wilson and T. J. Groves of Kennett came here and, with the aid of Louisville officers, located Shaw yesterday.

Readily Admits Identity.
Shaw admitted his identity when the officers entered his room and blandly said he was the one wanted for the murders. A 45-caliber automatic pistol was found in his pocket.

He said he had been in Louisville for four months and had operated a dice game in Southern Indiana.

When Shaw was asked if he would return to Missouri without extradition papers, he refused to give a definite answer until he ascertained the means of transportation.

"I'll go without the papers if you take me in an automobile," he told the Deputy Sheriff, "but I won't go back if you try to take me on a railroad train."

Fugitive Was Traced Through Letters From a Girl.

KENNETT, Mo., March 2.—Roy Shaw, 27 years old, arrested yesterday at Louisville, Ky., will face two charges of murder in the first degree, the Prosecuting Attorney said here yesterday. Shaw was arrested after Dunklin County officers traced him through several states. He is charged with killing T. J. Wilson and Joe Barnett, young farmers living near Cardwell, May 8, 1927. Officers say Shaw had been arrested on charges of violating the traffic laws at Cardwell and "was still smarting" under fine given him when the two young men made some idle remarks. Shaw picked up a piece of stove wood and clubbed them to death.

The arrest of Shaw followed a "tip" from officers here who had learned that he had gone to Louisville, having trailed him through letters from a girl.

HYDE INDORSED AS DELEGATE TO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

TRENTON, Mo., March 2.—Dr. B. B. Clements, Mason, was endorsed for re-election to the Republican National Committee and Former Governor A. M. Hyde, Trenton, was indorsed as a delegate-at-large to the National Convention, at the Republican county meeting here yesterday.

A delegation was elected to the Congressional District Convention at Moberly, and was instructed to support D. C. McVay, Trenton, for delegate to the National Convention.

A. G. Knight, Trenton attorney, was indorsed for Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit. A resolution was adopted unanimously, advocating farm relief legislation.

WOMAN DIES FROM POISON

Mrs. Walter Steube Had Been in Bad Health.

"EQUAL DISTRIBUTION" CLAUSE IN RADIO BILL OPPOSED

Congressman Declares Apportionment by Population Would Close Many Stations.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The "equal distribution" of radio stations among the states in proportion to population and area, proposed in a House Committee amendment to the Watson radio bill, would wreck the present broadcasting system, Representative Celler, (Rep.) of New York, declared yesterday in the House.

He declared the redistribution of stations would mainly benefit the South which "has the largest population and fewest stations," but the smallest number of listeners. This would take away the stations of the North, East and West that "have a high percentage of radio stations," he added.

The best broadcasting is done from stations in large cities which can secure "high class artists and musicians and orchestras," he said. "You can not produce good programs when the studio is located at Painted Post or Sequeokunk."

The House Merchant Marine Committee discussed the amendment in executive session yesterday, but did not decide to reconsider its action. It was indicated by several representatives interested in radio legislation that a move will be made to eliminate this amendment when the bill comes before the House.

YOUNG FARMER DENIES BOMBING SCHOOLHOUSE

Confession to Putting Dynamite in Stove Repudiated on Stand.

By the Associated Press.

OTTAWA, Ill., March 2.—Hiram Reed did not dynamite the Pleasant Valley schoolhouse, he testified at his trial here today.

The young farmer was calm as he stepped into the witness chair after a chemical expert had testified the explosion in the school stove might have been caused by coal gas.

Iola Bradford, the young man's sweetheart, who taught at the school, was seriously injured in the explosion.

The night of Nov. 30 and the morning of Dec. 1, did you place any dynamite in the school stove?" asked Defense Attorney George Springer.

"No, sir," I did not," answered Reed without hesitation.

"Did you go to the schoolhouse and enter that night or that morning?" the attorney queried.

"No, sir," was the prompt reply. In the defendant's confession, admitted to the court records yesterday, after a three-day fight, he said he had broken into the school house and placed the dynamite in the hope of evading fatherhood and marriage with the young school teacher.

"Did you open the door of the school with a screw driver or anything else?" he was asked. "No."

"Did you use a skeleton key?" "I did not."

In his confession Reed told the State's Attorney he had used a screw driver in entering the door. "I will ask you whether two months previous to Nov. 30 you bought any dynamite from Dooley Bros. at Peoria, or anywhere else?"

"No."

"Did you ever buy any dynamite?" "No, never in my life."

Mrs. Howard Clegg, sister of Miss Bradford, and others have testified for the State that Hiram told of buying dynamite to break up hard pan on his farm.

The young man's confession also admits buying dynamite at the Peoria store.

12 Witnesses to Confession. A dozen witnesses testified that Reed admitted placing dynamite in the stove of the Pleasant Valley school where his sweetheart, Iola Bradford, was teacher. He hoped to avoid marrying her, they asserted. Reed was also quoted as saying he had never intended to wed the girl.

His first confession, made to the State's Attorney at the county jail, was admitted as an exhibit and read to the jury. This described how he stuffed the dynamite into the top of the stove. Reed's confession said: "I intended that the dynamite should explode when the stove was started by Iola Bradford the next morning."

The confession was the only one of three that bore his signature.

ASSES FORGED CHECK THEN ROBS MERCHANT

Negro Slugs Store Owner Who Demands Return of Money.

After cashing a $10 check for a Negro yesterday afternoon, Max Appel, proprietor of a dry goods store at 23 North Jefferson avenue, took the check to a nearby bank and learned the signature had been forged. On the way back to the store, Appel encountered the Negro, who accompanied him to the store promising to repay the $10.

Once inside the store, the Negro charged Appel, robbed him of $150 and escaped, after overturning a table. A passerby, seeing the scene from the smoldering coals, entered the store and removed Appel, who was treated at City Hospital for a lacerated skull.

Two men and two girls, seated in an automobile in O'Fallon Park last night, were held up by three men and robbed of $3 and two cigars. The holdup victims were Robert Robinson, 4215 W. Lexington avenue; Carl Smith, 1421 Goodview avenue; Ruth Atkins, 6209 Ridge avenue; Alberta Franklin, 1114 Hobart avenue.

Other holdups reported: Grady Mayfield, manager of Kroger store, robbed of $35; Kuntz's drug store, 1400 Olive street, $100; grocery of David Sakowsky, 2668 Morgan street, $25; grocery of Henry Uffelman, 1 North Spring avenue, $47; grocery and meat market of Ernest Purkay, 2510 North Grand boulevard, $77. At the latter place the robbers locked the grocer and butcher in an icebox, but they released themselves.

SLAYER OF TWO DETECTIVES ELECTROCUTED AT SING SING

Youth Killed Policemen During New York Holdup; Confederate Adjudged Insane.

OSISING, N. Y., March 2.—Philip Ecker, 24 years old, died in the electric chair in Sing Sing prison tonight for his part in the fatal shooting of two police detectives during a robbery in New York of a lower East Side restaurant last May 17.

Harry Vishnitzer, also sentenced to death for participation in the same crime, was adjudged insane recently and transferred to the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Dannemora. A jury in General Sessions required only 49 minutes last July to return a verdict of guilty against Ecker and Vishnitzer.

CERAMISTS ELECT F. E. BAUSCH
St. Louis Section of American Society Chooses Officers.
Frederick E. Bausch, head of the Frederick E. Bausch Co., was elected chairman of the St. Louis section of the American Ceramic Society last night.

Other new officers are: L. C. Hewitt, ceramic engineer of Ladelle Christy Clay Products Co., vice chairman; C. C. Lake, ceramic engineer of Parker Russell Mining and Manufacturing Co., secretary; and E. W. Perry, superintendent of Ladelle Christy Clay Products Co., treasurer. Plans of the American Ceramic Society for a tour of Europe, to leave New York May 19, were announced.

Don't Let a Cold Put You on Your Back
A cold is a serious germ attack. Highly contagious. Don't neglect it for an hour. Nobody knows where a cold leads.
Four things should be done for a cold and at once. Break the cold, check the fever, open the bowels, tone the system. HILL'S Cascara-Bromide-Quinine does all this in 24 hours—and the cold is on its way out. HILL'S means safety for millions know.

Just in Time for Saturday—New Arrivals in Our Great Sale of

YOUR ST. LOUIS

How Well Do You Know It?

THE ELECTRIC STORAGE BATTERY COMPANY

The Electric Storage Battery Company is the oldest and largest manufacturer of storage batteries in the world. The company was established in 1888 at a time when automobiles and radios were unthought of and storage batteries of any kind were practically unknown to the public at large. The first batteries were manufactured by this company in a small room not 20 feet square and the business has grown until today, the main plant covers a total of 63 acres. The Electric Storage Battery Company, in addition to its main factory, has seventeen direct factory branches in the larger cities of the country, and it is interesting to note how the list of commercial applications, in which storage batteries are used, has grown. Electric street trucks, industrial trucks and mine locomotives are motive power uses for batteries. In the large central stations, that furnish the light and power for your home, there are tremendous standby batteries and batteries for the operation of the oil switch—emergency interruption in service would cause not only inconvenience but also possible loss of life and damage.

Every day this space will be devoted to some one particular manufacturing plant or industry, which is contributing to the dynamic growth of St. Louis.

Bohemian Mine Strike Settled.
P. R. A. G. U. E., Czechoslovakia,
March 2.—The strike of 20,000
miners in the Bohemian coal fields centering around Bruix has been settled and the men are expected to resume work shortly. Attempts to fill their places by others brought out the wives of the strikers in force on Feb. 19. They beat several of the workers and attempted to prevent the pumps from keeping the workings clear of water.

Miss Minter's suit asking her mother to account for approximately $1,000,000 of her earnings was dismissed on Miss Minter's request by Superior Judge Harry R.
Archbald. The suit was begun
three years ago.

200 PERSONS LOSE IN FAILURE OF LOAN AND SAVINGS FIRM

Scores Had Complained Previous to Closing of Losses From Operations
of Commerce Association

More than 200 persons will lose
in the failure of the Commerce Savings and Loan Association, in addition to hundreds of would-be home owners, who suffered losses previously. The association was taken over by the State yesterday for liquidation.

Under the name of the Own-a-Home Savings Institution, the organization began business as a housing trust in 1921 and operated until 1923, when the State barred housing trusts. It was then reorganized as a building and loan association.

Scores of dissatisfied clients
made complaints to the Better Business Bureau and State authorities. Some complained the loan association never paid dividends on its stock, although its official statements paymastered a surplus and indicated prosperity. Some complained that former executives
of the association, when complaints were made to them, ordered clients to "get out," and
"don't come to this office—we don't want your business."

Complaints of Lost Savings.
Still others complained they lost their savings through misrepresen-tations.

"A stenographer entrusted $108
to the association in the belief it was sort of a savings bank," said Dwight Lee Holmes, financial manager of the Better Business Bureau. "She didn't make any further deposits for several months and when she tried to withdraw her money, she was told it had been wiped out through fines and penalties assessed for failure to make regular payments."

"A Negro woman paid $80 on a $100 share of stock. Her payments lapsed, and when she inquired about getting her stock, she was told her $80 had been wiped out, and in addition she owed $60
in fines and penalties."

Moved Office Several Times.
At one time the organization did business in the Republic National Bank Building. At another time it was on the ground floor of the City Club Building, directly under the Better Business Bureau, which was trying to put it out of business. Then it moved to the lobby of the Holland Building, and finally to the second floor of that building.

Its officers changed frequently.
Its last semi-annual statement, as of Aug. 31, listed George T. Priest as president and I. L. Currier as secretary. The statement showed a book surplus of $9426.

Last December, a new set of officers, headed by John F. McCar-mott, took charge, found the association in a failing condition, and ceased business. With the officers' co-operation, an audit was begun in January by Sam Sharp, examiner under Roy A. McCoy, State Supervisor of Building and Loan Associations. The audit, just completed, shows not a surplus,
but a deficit, the liabilities being $15,856.97 in excess of the assets,
which total $11,177.60.

200 Stockholders to Lose.
More than 200 stockholders will share the loss, which will exceed the amount of the deficit, due to expenses of liquidation and probable inability to realize face value
on the assets. In addition, a substantial loss was suffered by hundreds of other shareholders who lost their equity in stock through fines and penalties.

Commissioner McCoy promised an investigation of previous administrations of the association.
The Better Business Bureau has suggested suit be filed against the surety bonds of past officers.

WILD FOR WOMAN'S DEATH

Mrs. Emma Hoffman Charged With Performing Operation.

Mrs. Emma Hoffman, a midwife, 5517 Wren avenue, was arrested yesterday at her home, on a charge that she had performed an illegal operation on Mrs. Aubrey Johnson, who died Feb. 19 at City Hospital. Her husband and police testified at the inquest that Mrs. Johnson told them Mrs. Hoffman had performed the operation. Mrs. Hoffman, who was released on $5000 bond, denied the charge.

Teachers Who Smoke Barred.

MANSFIELD, Mo., March 2.—School teachers who have acquired the habit of smoking need not apply for a place in the schools of Houston, Mo., according to J. K. Connolly, County Superintendent of Schools of Texas County. Teachers who smoke cigarettes are to be ousted and when new ones are employed, those who do smoke will not be considered.

Skinny Women Don't Stand a Chance!

Gain pounds of weight with New YEAST and IRON. Pleasant to take—Quick results—or pay nothing.

You don't want to be underweight, nervous and thin. IROXIZED YEAST now and get pounds of flesh on those bony arms, hollow cheeks and emaciated limbs. See why these give you so graceful curves. Feel a new vitality and fighting strength you haven't known for years.

How Yeast Builds Weight

IROXIZED YEAST is two tonics in one—iron and iodine. It builds up the system and gives you the same used in making malt, which makes men so beefy.

This yeast is treated with iron taken from pure vegetable—spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is IROXIZED in this way is it most effective. For iron is needed to build up the weight-building values of Yeast. By this formula IROXIZED YEAST gives you results in half the time required by yeast sold from taken separately.

IROXIZED YEAST brings pounds of weight in astonishingly quick time. One full treatment added 7 pounds. "It sounds and better health." The blood is toned up, too, because the iron adds strength and richness to the blood, clearing up the complexion and increasing your vitality. IROXIZED YEAST comes in pleasant-tasting tablets in a handy bottle. Send for every body. Does not upset the stomach. Get yours now or by mail.

First treatment gives results—or no money

Ask the druggist now for a full course treatment. It will prove that you can gain many pounds, or your money will be refunded. It is guaranteed to bring you 10, 15, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, 70, 80, 90, 100, 110, 120, 130, 140, 150, 160, 170, 180, 190, 200, 210, 220, 230, 240, 250, 260, 270, 280, 290, 300, 310, 320, 330, 340, 350, # MISSER WIFE GOING TO HIM

AS HE RETURNS SEEKING HER

Christian W. Schneider Comes Home From California After Year: Held for Abandonment.

Christian W. Schneider, for whom a police search had been made for more than a year on a charge of wife and child abandonment, until his arrest two weeks ago in Los Angeles, was rearrested here last night when he went to the home of a brother in the 5500 block of Chamberlain avenue.

He had just returned to St. Louis from Los Angeles, without knowing that the Governor of California had refused to honor a Missouri requisition for him. With Schneider when he was arrested last night was a 7-year-old son, Dudley, whom he had taken with him to California. He said, according to the police that he had come back to St. Louis to make efforts for a reconciliation with his wife. He did not know she had gone to California when it became known he had been arrested there. He is being held and the boy is being cared for in the matron's room at Police Headquarters.

TWO NEGROES GET 8-YEAR

TERMS FOR TWO ROBBERIES

Men Pleaded Guilty to Holding Up Leon Hirsch and Breaking Into Home of G. D. Hancock.

Elmer Fair, Negro, 20 years old, of 1229 North Garrison avenue, and Leonard Savington, Negro, 29, of 1355 Elliot avenue, were sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary on their pleas of guilty to charges of robbery and burglary before Circuit Judge Rutledge today. They were given eight years for a $25 holdup of Leon Hirsch in his store at 2840 Market street Feb. 1 and five years for a $75 burglary of the home of George D. Hancock, 3212 Pine street, Jan. 31, the sentences to run concurrently.

On his plea of guilty to assault to rob Henry Gottschlich of 2411 Fall avenue, Jan. 31, Irwin Hall, 18, of 1032 Allen avenue, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

$350,000,000 BANK COMBINE

Two National Depositories in Philadelphia to Be Merged.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—The largest bank consolidation in the series of recent banking mergers in this city was approved today when the directors of the Philadelphia-Girard National and the Franklin-Fourth Street National voted to combine under the name of Philadelphia National Bank. The new bank will have resources of more than $350,000,000 and surplus and undivided profits will aggregate more than $32,320,000. The consolidation will be effective April 3, if stockholders approve.

Joseph Wayne Jr., president of the Philadelphia-Girard, will be the president, and Levi L. Rue, chairman of the board of the Philadelphia-Girard, will be the chairman of the new board.

HOOVER REFUSES TO ENTER PRIMARY IN WISCONSIN

Name Filed at Madison "By an Unauthorized Person" Says Spokesman and Will Be Withdrawn.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 2.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover intends to remain out of the Wisconsin primaries in Wisconsin. Announcement was made on his behalf today that his name had been entered yesterday at Madison as a presidential candidate "by an unauthorized person" and would be withdrawn.

A statement issued by George Akerson, personal representative of the Secretary of Commerce, said:

"Mr. Hoover's name was placed in the Wisconsin primaries by an unauthorized person without the knowledge of his friends. His friends have no organization in that State and the request has been made that the filing be withdrawn. This will be done today."

Norris' Name Filed in Wisconsin Primary.

By the Associated Press. MADISON, Wis., March 2.—Nomination papers placing Herbert Hoover and Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska in the Republican presidential primary race were filed here with the Secretary of State yesterday.

Norton Hunter, Milwaukee, member of an industrial firm, filed the Hoover papers and Leonard J. Sheahan, campaign manager for the Blaine-La Follette Progressive forces, filed the papers placing the Nebraska Senator on the ballot.

It was announced that almost complete sets of candidates for delegates to the national convention have been listed in the Secretary of State's office, both by the La Follette wing, and that section of the Republican party opposed to the Progressives.

The names of candidates on two lists of delegates who favor the nomination of Gov. Smith by the Democrats have been filed.

Huston Thompson's Candidacy Filed in North Dakota.

By the Associated Press. BISMARCK, N. D., March 2.—The name of Huston Thompson, former Federal Trade Commissioner, has been entered against that of Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York for a place on the Democratic presidential preference ballot in the North Dakota primaries March 23.

Filing of the Thompson candidacy was by petition, and became known after the lists for nomination had been closed. It had been generally understood that a petition was to be filed in behalf of Senator Reed of Missouri, but the Secretary of State said it had not been received.

The filing for Thompson was made by George Wallace of Minneapolis, former Minnesota State Tax Commissioner.

Idaho Democratic Convention Instincts for Gov. Smith.

By the Associated Press. BLACKFOOT, Idaho, March 2.—Idaho delegates to the Democratic National Convention will support Gov. Smith of New York for the presidential nomination, it was decided last night by unanimous vote of delegates to the State Democratic Convention.

On the first ballot 94 votes were cast for an instructed delegation for the New York Governor, while nine opposed it. The Idaho delegation will have eight votes, but will have 24 members.

FIVE KILLED IN PLANE FALLS

Two Die in Oregon Crash; Three in English Air Force Loss Lives.

SALEM, Ore., March 2.—Dare Sloper, a druggist of Stanton, Ore., who had ambitions to become an aviator, and Everett Boedeker, pilot, are dead today as the result of an airplane crash. Flying in an old, reconstructed plane, the machine was seen to dip, then roll over on its side and crash.

Sloper was taken from the crushed plane dead and Boedeker died later in a local hospital.

CHATHAM, England, March 2.—Three members of the Royal Air Force were killed today in the crash of their plane from a height of 2000 feet above the Isle of Grain. "The machine seemed to be flying all right but suddenly did a spiral dive, came shuddering to the ground, and broke in two," said an eyewitness. "I saw an officer and two men in this machine and helped to get them out but they had been killed outright."

SMUGGLING ON NAVY SHIP

Customs Officers Seize Undeclared Brandy and Cigarettes on Chameleon.

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Customs officers have found undeclared sales of rum and an assortment of liquor on the Army transport Chameleon, which has arrived here from the Orient. All baggage on the vessel has been seized for search. Two members of the crew, said to be petty officers, have been questioned, but no formal charges had been placed against them.

The Chameleon, manned by officers and sailors of the United States Navy, makes regular trips to Manila, thence to China, back to Manila, and calls at Guam and Honolulu before returning here.

STANDARD OIL PLANS MERGER IN VENEZUELA

Creole Syndicate Stockholders
to Meet March 16 to Decide.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Negotiations were completed today looking to a merger of properties in Venezuela of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and the Creole Syndicate. Ratification has been given by the boards of the two companies, and stockholders of the Creole Syndicate will meet March 16 to act on the plan.

In effect the Creole Syndicate will become a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. As a part of the transaction the Standard company is to provide $5,000,000 cash for new working capital for Creole's operations. Standard operations in Venezuela have been conducted by the Standard Oil Co. of Venezuela.

The negotiations have been under way for several weeks, conducted by George F. Naphen, representing the majority ownership of the Creole Syndicate, and by the Standard Oil officers.

The Creole Syndicate owns or controls approximately 1,400,000 hectares of oil concessions in Venezuela, its production from lake properties, owned jointly with Venezuela Gulf Oil Co., subsidiary of Gulf Oil. The company now is developing the Rio Palmar field, fully owned through a subsidiary.

Reorganization of the Creole Syndicate involves an increase in the capital stock from 2,500,000 shares to 6,000,000 shares of no par value. A new board of directors will be named, a majority of them by the New Jersey company, and the name will be changed to the Creole Petroleum Corporation.

CITY FIREMEN'S WAGE
BILL IN COMMITTEE

Taken Under Advisement by Aldermen—Would Add $25 Monthly to Salaries.

A bill which would add $25 a month to the salaries of 900 city firemen, increasing the Fire Department payroll $270,000 annually, was taken under advisement by the Public Safety Committee of the Board of Aldermen yesterday after a public hearing.

Passage of the proposed ordinance was advocated by W. R. Bruce, president, and Michael J. Mulvey, secretary, of the Firemen's Union. When Mulvey recited the dangers and duties of a fire fighter, Alderman Wimer remarked: "In spite of this, being a fireman must be a good job. People tear down my front steps and run me ragged trying to get to be fireman."

Mulvey contended that the St. Louis Fire Department was undermanned and underpaid in comparison with fire departments in other large cities. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment disapproves the proposed raise, on the ground the city lacks money. However, Mulvey insists the Board of Aldermen can pass the ordinance without the other board's approval. The Missouri Supreme Court having ruled the Board of Estimate has no authority to fix salaries, in compelling the city to pay the firemen a salary increase voted them at an election in 1925.

The $25-a-month increase would affect employees of the Fire Department from the rank of captain to watchman. The raised salaries would be: Captain, $235 a month; Lieutenant and engineer, $215; watchman, $180, and private, from $205 to $165, depending upon length of service.

Dr. Copeland Says:

"Mineral waters of the right sort are preferable to many cathartic compounds. Their power to overcome the immediate effects of constipation is unquestioned. In their effects upon the bowel and its lining membranes they are far less irritating. Indeed, many have qualities that make them soothing and healing. Sugar-coated pills are pleasant to take, which may add to their danger. They are no less habit-forming and drastic because they appeal to the taste."

Pluto Water, with its mineral content, flushes the bowels and washes away impurities. It is gentle, soothing, healing, non-habit-forming. Corrects constipation and restores normal bowel movements. Acts in 30 minutes to 2 hours.

ORDINANCE TO TAKE $103,000 OUT OF BOND ISSUE FUNDS OK'D

Money Will Be Used to Reimburse Property Owners in McKinley Playground District.

An ordinance appropriating $103,464 out of bond issue funds to reimburse the property owners in the district of the McKinley Plaza and Playground, between Salisbury and Bremen avenues and Ninth and Eleventh streets for special taxes paid for construction of the playground was approved by the Citizens Bond Issue Supervisory Committee yesterday.

The ordinance was introduced in the Board of Aldermen by Aldermen Hoeftle, of the Second Ward, at the request of property owners in the taxing district who complained that they had been taxed $119,000 for the creation of the Plaza on that site and that the tax for the playground in addition, particularly since the tornado which destroyed and damaged the homes of many of those who were taxed for both improvements was a hardship on the property owners.

The committee approved an ordinance appropriating $75,000 for the construction of a second cottage building at the Meramec Hills Home for Girls. A cottage for $80,000 has been constructed there out of bond issue funds.

On the recommendation of the Comptroller's office an ordinance appropriating $9000 for the purchase of 1227 Chestnut street for Memorial Plaza purposes was approved.

CHARGES PRICE-FIXING IN HEATING AND PIPING

Answer to Suit for $4336 Dues Says Contractor's Group Restrained Trade.

The Heating and Piping Contractors' St. Louis Association is charged with restraint of trade by a price-fixing "understanding" among its members, in an answer to a suit for dues, filed in Circuit Court today by A. E. Humphreys and Edward O'Mara of the O'Mara Heating Co.

The defendants allege the "understanding" tended to lessen "full and free competition" and increase the market price of heating installation, but do not amplify their assertions. They deny the specifications of the Association's suit, which presented a claim for $4336 dues for a fiscal year, 1926-27.

It is alleged by the association that the O'Mara concern handled $209,300 contracts and that dues were 1 per cent of the members' gross income before July, 1926, and 2 per cent thereafter.

Aeronautic Inspector Resigns.

GENUINE CORK LINOLEUMS

When Selecting New Floor Coverings It Will Pay You to Come Here Most households find need for new Rugs or Linoleum about this time of the year. If you have any such requirements, and would like to quickly solve your Floorcovering problem, you can save both time and trouble by coming to our store at once. Here you will find a most representative variety of Spring and Summer Rugs and Linoleum in the newest designs and colors most in demand for present-day decorative purposes. Very specially priced for this sale; cut from rolls at a square yard.

65c FELT-BASE FLOORCOVERINGS

This FELT-BASE Floorcovering will give the same satisfactory service as a well-made printed linoleum, but of course doesn't wear so long. The difference, however, is made up by the much lower cost. It is WATERPROOF, SCRATCHPROOF, MOISTPROOF and has a hard surface, into which dirt will not grind, making it easy to clean with a mop or damp cloth. Let us show you our patterns in the popular 3 yard width, special in this sale at, a square yard.

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys
and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation.

'Know Your Stuff' Motto Of City Police Rookies

Recruits Now Carry Dictionaries as Well as Clubs and Often as Not Are Studying History at Library.

Meet the 1928 St. Louis police rookie. He is an alert young man, anywhere from 22 to 32 years old, chosen for intelligence and moral character as well as physique. In addition to his police manual and city guide, he carries a pocket dictionary. If he is not at his desk in the Police Training School classroom listening to lectures on a score of subjects, in the gymnasium or on the target range, he may be at the Public Library "browsing up" on the history and resources of St. Louis. At night he has homework to do.

His motto is "Know Your Stuff." On Saturday afternoons he walks a beat—alone. The old men, his superiors fear, might teach him bad habits of loafing and spoil his fresh briskness. In the classroom he learns that brain and brawn are inseparable essentials of a good policeman. And his manual emphatically states that his first duty is to serve the public.

250 Graduates in Two Years.
After six weeks in the Police Training School he is turned loose on a beat.

The new type of policeman, graduate of the reorganized training school, has become fairly common on the streets of St. Louis. In a little more than two years the school has graduated 250 men.

Compared with the old catechism method of teaching new policemen, the school has advanced with seven-league boots in the last three years. But the Board of Police Commissioners is determined to improve it further.

New instructors and courses in handling traffic—a growing police problem—and lectures on patrolling and composition of the police organization will be added to the present curriculum, according to Dr. Frank L. Magoon, vice president of the Police Board, an old schoolmaster who has taken particular delight in raising the standards of instruction in the Police Department.

Awaiting Expert's Suggestions.
The board is waiting for a report from George R. Ragdale of Louisville, Ky., police school expert, who recently made a study of the St. Louis school with the intention of suggesting improvements.

The director of the police school is Lieut. James H. McNamara, a gray-haired veteran, graduate of the school of experience. When he became a policeman 41 years ago, he says, he was given a club, a badge and assigned to a beat. That was all.

Enter the classroom on the fourth floor of the Police Headquarters annex on Twelfth boulevard now and you probably will hear Lieut. McNamara lecturing to his proteges along this line: "When you make out your reports, remember there are many ways of describing a man. There are 32 separate and distinct races. Is the eye large, small, feline, well developed? Is the head round, oblong, rectangular, pear-shaped or like a pear turned upside down?"

"Look at his nose. Is it aquiline or Roman? Take a closer look at his nose. You will see it is not in the center of his face. It leans either a little this way or that. The same with his ears. The average man's ears are out of line. One is lower than the other. The difference varies with individuals."

And so on. Thus Lieut. McNamara pounds home that most important of police lessons: close observation. "Take in the accident, the murder scene, the fire, at a glance," he says. "You can do it with practice. The powers of observation are latent in every man. They just need practice to bring them out."

The instruction of Lieut. McNamara and his regular assistants are supplemented by lectures from lawyers, judges, the Circuit Attorney, various city and State officials and others with special knowledge pertaining to police work. The rookie goes out of the school equipped with a working knowledge of the statutes and ordinances affecting his duties. He knows about the city institutions, departments and governing bodies.

"When they enter the school, we make them buy a dictionary," explained Lieut. McNamara. "We tell them to look up every word they don't know. I make them practice handwriting. Every man gets a good training in making out reports."

Make Out Good Reports.
"I'll venture the assertion," said Lieut. McNamara, proudly, "that the new men from this school today can make out better reports than the old men could 10 years ago. Look at this."

Lieut. McNamara drew from his desk an essay on "St. Louis: The Future Great City of the West," written by one of his recent pupils.

It would have done credit to a college student. "Most of the new men," he continued, "have had at least an eighth grade schooling. Some have gone through high school. We've had college graduates, too. But they don't always make the best students in the police school. They're usually out for a clerical position and don't take interest in active police work."

YALE DROPS HONOR SYSTEM

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 2.—The Yale faculty will take over the supervision of examinations, Dean Clarence W. Mendell said today after it became known that only 263 of the 1603 students in the college had voted for retaining the honor system under which students take the examinations without being watched by their teachers.

A count showed 142 favored a return to faculty supervision, 263 wanted the honor system retained and 361 wanted no supervision of any kind.

BUREAU DECLARES
IT SAVES ST. LOUIS
$1,000,000 A YEAR

Municipal Research Body Computes Its Value in Cutting the Cost of Government.

CO-OPERATES WITH CITY OFFICERS

Suggests Revision of Assessment System and Outlines a Program of Future Work.

"Taxpayers obtain direct benefits from the work of the Bureau of Municipal Research. Actual reductions in tax bills cannot be expected from savings in operating costs because constant requests are made on the municipal government to perform additional functions and to give greater service. The resulting extensions of municipal service
more or less offset savings in operations. It is apparent that efficiency and economy are essential to prevent a more rapid increase in costs
and a more rapid increase in taxation."

This statement is the conclusion of the current issue of "Mind Your Business," the bureau's occasional publication, which reports the accomplishments of this voluntary organization of citizens as a "scientific, fact-finding, non-partisan organization" in its six years of life
and its aims for the future.

Bureau functions are: "To study
the problems of St. Louis' municipal government, to obtain and furnish to city officials and the public accurate and adequate information concerning all matters relating to the city's finances, administration and departmental operations; to co-operate with city officials and citizens in securing improvements in governmental procedure, and to promote municipal economy and efficiency."

Computing Its Own Value.
All the benefits of the bureau's work cannot be expressed in monetary terms, the report says, but it tells some concrete savings resulting from its studies and recommendations, and relates at length
the inquiries it made into numerous branches of municipal affairs,
the schools and public questions of deep interest to taxpayers.

Direct savings in the cost of city government, as the result of bureau activities, amount to more than $1,000,000 a year, it is asserted.

Detailed savings claimed are:
$581,000 in garbage disposal by contract for a five-year period;
$389,000 annually through payroll reduction and introduction of labor-saving machinery and trucks
in several departments; $266,000 annually by substitution of oiling
soft-surface streets for sprinkling; $200,000 annually when motoriza-tion is completed by substitution of city flushers for contract sprinklers on hard-paved streets, and about $18,000 deducted from the fine arts fund on an electric street light contract.

No publicity has been given a large part of the bureau's work.
It is declared, in following the policy of co-operation with city officials whenever possible. It is related that studies of bond issue finances and improvements are being continued, and several recommendations in this connection have been made. Likewise, recommendations have been submitted for adding to or subtracting
from the municipal budget, after detailed discussion with the Comptroller, and departments were pre-valued on to submit requests for allowances in January rather than March, to give more time for study.

Revising Assessments.
"Survey was made of the organization of the Assessor's office," says the report, "and of the uniformity of methods of determining value of land and building for taxation. The survey showed lack of uniform standards of assessment procedure and of central control over assessment methods.
It was found that assessed valuation of several large downtown buildings had been decreased while assessed valuation of nearby buildings of similar age, type and use had been increased. Detailed reports outlining scientific, uniform assessment procedure have been submitted to the Mayor and the Assessor with the suggestion that steps be taken to install such a system in St. Louis."

Municipal research must be continuous to be effective, the report declares. The future program here, it is announced, includes:
Continuation of studies of departmental operations and expenditures; studies of municipal activities not previously examined; continued watch of bond issue affairs;
study of the progress, cost and economics of the street-lighting system; particular attention to bond expenditures for viaducts, street
widening and paving of major thoroughfares; inquiry into "the probable revenue required to operate the institutions and facilities being provided by the bond issue and to determine whether the normal increase in assessed valuation will provide sufficient revenue at the present tax rate to most increased costs; additional studies of assessment procedure; suggestions for budget procedure of several departments; comparison of initial and maintenance costs and life of patented and nonpatented payments here; examination of the use of city gasoline tax revenue for streets; comparison of motor street

flushing with other cleaning methods; study of use of tractors and trailers in garbage collection; systematization of the new photostat
copying equipment for deeds.

SWINDLER OF 'HEIRS' GUILTY

FOUR MEXICAN STUDENTS HELD
AFTER ANTI-VENEZUELAN RIOT
Clash With Police in Capital Fol-

Gomez.
By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, March 2.—A student demonstration here against the Venezuelan Government ended
in a clash with police shortly after midnight. Windows in the vicinity were broken. Four students were arrested.
A group of about 200 students participated in the manifestation against "the Venezuelan tyrant"

and refused to disperse when asked to do so. The clash followed.
Earlier in the day the Confederation of Mexican students received a cablegram purporting to be from the Confederation of Venezuelan students saying 200 students at the University at Caracas, Venezuela, had been imprisoned
"iniquitously." The Mexican Federation issued a statement indignantly protesting against "this ac-

42 KILLED IN TRI-STATE MINE DISTRICT IN 1927

Total Is Largest in Three Years
—Fall of Rock Leading Cause.

JOPLIN, Mo., March 2.—There were 42 fatal accidents in the mines of the Tri-State zinc and lead district in 1927, as compared with 33 in 1926 and 41 in 1925, according to statistics compiled by the safety department of the Tri-State Zinc and Lead Ore Producers' Association.

"Fall of rock" continues to be the most frequent cause of fatal accidents, 13 of last year's fatalities being ascribed to this cause, as compared with 14 in the preceding year. For the past three years 40 per cent of all fatalities in mines of the field have been caused by fall of rock.

"Chat pile slides," a new danger factor, was the cause of five fatalities. This is the first time death has been attributed to this cause. It has only been within the last two years that the treatment of tailings has become profitable.

There were only two fatalities credited to the "handling of powder and detonators," as compared with seven in 1926 and six in 1925. The lower fatality rate in this class is thought to be due to the increased use of shot protector tubes.

Two fatalities are listed under "hoisting," three less than in 1926. Continued efforts to reduce accidents seemed to be bearing fruit, according to Fred Nesbitt, safety engineer of the association.

Four of the 1927 fatalities were due to "foul air," another new classification.

Almost one-half of the fatal accidents were suffered by shovellers and machine men, each class being credited with 10.

In 1927 mines that handled 45 per cent of the ore mined and that employed 48 per cent of the workers, employed full time safety engineers, and had only 11 per cent of the fatal accidents.

COOLIDGE SHOULD BE INDUCED TO RUN AGAIN, HILLES SAYS

New York National Committeeman, After Call at White House, Heterizes Opinion.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Although he disclaimed ever having used the phrase "Draft Coolidge," Charles D. Hilles of New York, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee, declared today, after a call at the White House, that he thought President Coolidge should be prevailed upon to run again.

Hilles said he had not discussed politics at his call on the President and that to his knowledge Mr. Coolidge had not elaborated further on his determination not to be a candidate.

The New York Committeeman, who predicted votes would be cast in the Kansas City convention for Coolidge, said he believed the President should be urged to run again as a duty; also that Charles E. Hughes had not necessarily eliminated himself from the field by his announcement that he felt he was too old to be a candidate.

13 OFFICERS OF OHIO BANK INDICTED AS EMBEZZLERS

Thirty-five True Bills Returned at Findlay; Amount Involved Is $273,619.

FINLAY, O., March 2.—Thirty-five indictments charging 13 officers and directors of the Arcadia Bank and Savings Co. at Arcadia, O., with embezzlement of $273,619, were returned today by the Hancock County grand jury.

FUNERAL OF GIRL STUDENT

The funeral of Miss Grace Hagerty, Fontbonne College student, who was fatally injured by an automobile at Union boulevard and Easton avenue, Wednesday night, will be tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. from St. Mark's Catholic Church, Academy avenue and Page boulevard.

Miss Hagerty, who was 19 years old, was a daughter of Mrs. Margaret Hagerty, a policewoman. The funeral procession will go to the church from the home of an uncle, Dr. John F. Gallagher, 5103 Vernon avenue. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Father Peter J. O'Rourke, pastor, and his assistants, the Rev. Fathers D. Daly and R. E. McKee and J. B. Bradlee of Bourbonnais, Ill. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

EMBEZZLERS' AIDS CONVICTED

CHICAGO, March 2.—Henry Hust, a race track bookmaker and his assistant, William Morgan, were found guilty by a Federal jury today on charges of aiding and abetting embezzlement. Defense attorneys moved for a new trial.

Peter Hein and John O'Connell, the tellers, are serving sentences of from one to 10 years in prison for embezzlement. Defense attorneys moved for a new trial. Seven of the seven men charged with conspiring to violate a Federal Court injunction in connection with disorders at the Dorothy mine near Steubenville, Monday night, were sentenced to 30 days in the Licking County jail by Federal Judge Benson W. Hough today. The seventh man, John Kroll, 18 years old, was given only five days in jail because of his youth, Judge Hough said.

LOWDEN LEADERS TO RUN MISSOURI G.O.P. CONVENTION

All Districts but One Expected to Back Illinoisan for Presidential Nomination.

STATE MANAGER TO DELIVER KEYNOTE

Kansas City Forces for Curtis First, Then Lowden—National Committeeman Favors Dawes.

By CURTIS A. BETTS.

With virtually every influential leader in Republican State politics either favoring the nomination of former Gov. Lowden or not adding any other candidate, the Republican State convention in St. Joseph, March 26, will be under the control of the Lowden forces. If the delegates-at-large will elect Lowden, they will elect a State manager who will deliver the keynote speech.

James A. Finch of New Madrid, manager for Missouri, will be named temporary chairman of the convention by former Mayor Kiel, chairman of the Republican State Committee, and a Lowden supporter. It is expected that every district in the State, with the exception of the fifth (Kansas City), will elect Lowden delegates to the national convention. For Lowden, and send to the convention delegates friendly to the Illinois candidate.

Finch, as temporary chairman, will deliver the keynote speech and it is certain to be a Lowden speech.

Whether instructions will be sought for the seven delegates-at-large has not been decided. The tactics of the Lowden organization are to obtain instructions for the district delegates, and, power to put the same plan in effect in the State, convention there is no reason why Finch should not tie up the delegates-at-large.

Clements Favors Dawes.

Dr. E. B. Clements, national committeeman, the leaders of Kansas City organization and former Congressman Newton of Louisiana, virtually are the only publishers of prominence who have not joined the Lowden movement. Clements is a candidate for reelection, and, though certain of success, has not taken sides in the presidential campaign. He is for Lowden, but there is no antagonism between him and Lowden forces, as it is understood that at heart he favors the nomination of Vice President Dawes, who is expected to be the recipient of the Lowden strength. While the Lowden managers expect to put up the best fight possible for Lowden in the convention in the hope that he will come sufficient strength to win, a large number of them consider him as little more than a stop-gap for Dawes, and will be turned to Dawes' aid when it appears that Lowden cannot get nomination.

Newton is for Secretary Hoover and has taken the lead in Hoover movement in Missouri. However, he has made little progress, and it now appears doubtful that there will be even one Hoover delegate from Missouri, male delegate-at-large.

Kansas City for Curtis.

In Kansas City the district delegates probably will be for Curtis of Kansas, but the G. O. P. candidacy is not taken seriously, and when Curtis withdraws, Kansas City delegates undoubtedly will vote along with the Lowden delegates from the remainder of the State. So certain are the Lowden managers of this that they will offer no objection to the nomination of R. R. Brewster, a friend of Curtis, for permanent chairman of the convention. So far little attention has been given to the preparation of a platform for delegates-at-large. Governor and former Governor Hyde virtually certain to be two, but others are in doubt, and there are not developed any large number of candidates.

Talked of are Mrs. Lieutellus Hincham of Bolivar, vice chairman of the State Committee; M. L. Zwick of St. Joseph; Mayor Kiel, Mayor Miller, Mayor Beach of Kansas City, H. Langworthy of Kansas City, L. L. Moore, a Negro member of the Legislature from St. Louis; Dr. J. A. Crossland, a Negro member of St. Joseph, who has been active in politics for many years.

Newton is for Secretary Hoover

ST. LOUIS AS SAFE AS ANY CITY FOR THE LAW-ABIDING CITIZEN, SAYS CHIEF GERK

Conditions Here Analyzed in Statement in Reply to National Crime Commission's Criticism of Police Work

Replying to a criticism of police efficiency in American cities as contained in a report made Monday in New York by a special committee of the National Crime Commission, Chief of Police Gerk speaking for St. Louis, which was given a low average efficiency in the report, said in a statement to the Post-Dispatch that the conclusions of the commission, based on statistics, did not reveal a true condition, and that St. Louis was as safe as any city in the world as a place in which to abide and do business.

Chief Gerk's first impulse upon reading the report was to reply
with figures, but, when he observed that the commission did not cite in its published report the source of its information or period of time covered by the survey, he concluded that such a reply would mean nothing.

This failure by the commission,
said Chief Gerk, makes it almost impossible to present figures with which to controvert the statistical conclusions of the commission.
"It is misleading to assume that
the actual facts might make erroneous deductions. Chief Gerk added that a representative of the commission or its committee did not come to him or to anyone in the local department for its figures,
but he inferred that the commission took its data from a report of the Missouri Crime Commission, which made a survey of State police conditions in 1922-23 and 24.

"We commend the motives of the national commission," said Chief Gerk. "We do not question its good faith, but we do not believe the commission presented in its report accurately reflect the condition in St. Louis. We are dealing strictly with a condition; not with statistical problems.

"It is misleading to assume that because there have been 25 robberies 25 men must be arrested to make a proper showing of police efficiency. The best proof of this assertion was the arrest within the last 48 hours of a man who confessed 25 robberies as a lone bandit.

"If a commission taking statistics
as the basis of a survey were examining conditions in this case it would find 25 robberies and but one arrest. Using only the figures in our record, the commission
could charge that we made only 4 per cent arrest in our robbery cases. But such a conclusion would be misleading.

"A robber is not always captured on his first job. We have innumerable instances of the arrest of one or two men who have confessed numerous crimes. Statistics therefore, do not reflect a true condition in determining the efficiency of a police department
from deductions based on a comparison of the number of crimes with the number of arrests. Perhaps the commission took this fact
into consideration, but its published report does not show it.

Problem of Killers Presented.
"A timid citizen might take fright
at conclusions of the commission
that comparatively few murderers are apprehended in St. Louis. The commission does not point out that more than half the killings in St.
Louis this year were committed by Negroes in brawls, with Negroes as victims. Apparently no notice was taken of the fact that many of the killings were committed by one group of Italian moonshiners against another group in disputes over whiskey deals. We have arrested practically all these killers
at one time or another, but convicted were not for the reasons
mentioned in the report.

Our records show that the law-abiding citizen is comparatively safe. Police cannot always protect the man who goes in for crime. Nor is it always a simple matter to discover and apprehend his slayer.
"Of our great population, probably 10 per cent is colored. Another 10 per cent is of foreign extraction, unused to American ways;
uneducated in American ideals. This mixture and the insidious liquor problem present a formidable obstacle to police work of the highest order.

"The commission makes much of comparing the proportion of arrests to the number of crimes with statistical information on the subject obtained from England. Conditions in that country differ widely from ours. England has no liquor problem such as confronts us.

"Without passing judgment on prohibition, it can be fairly stated that in the United States each year many killings grow out of the illegal traffic in liquor. England has no such problem. Neither has England a dense Negro population in its cities. We do not charge that Negroes are less law abiding than white men, but, when we consider the high ratio of killings
among Negroes in their small proportion of population, this becomes an important question for consideration.

"It is my information that England takes its Police Department deadly serious. Scotland Yard, I am told, is more than a match for any police force such as we have in our American cities. It is an international agency covering the British Empire and, when necessary, the whole of continental Europe. It is a department carefully selected, educated and well-paid men with the unlimited resources of the empire behind their activities.

"In England the criminal is more wary because he is faced with the certainty of punishment
if apprehended. There is no petty trifling with English courts. The fines are not an institution in English courts. He is an outlaw.
Over there is the certainty of
punishment rather than the degree to which causes the man who
would commit a crime to pause
for reflection upon consequences.

In Path of Transient Criminal.
"Every American city is faced
with the certainty of punishment
if apprehended. There is no petty
trifling with English courts. The
fines are not an institution in English courts. He is an outlaw.
Over there is the certainty of
punishment rather than the degree to which causes the man who
would commit a crime to pause
for reflection upon consequences.

"The formal accusations against Laperre allege that information
which he gave the Germans
brought about the death of several Belgians whose 'crimes' were
those for which Edith Cavell was executed. The Belgians killed belonged to secret patriotic societies
which operated 'underground railways' by which Frenchmen and Belgians who wished to serve in
the allied armies were taken
across the Dutch frontier. The societies also gave information to
the allies on what was happening
within occupied Belgium.

Laperre, who is 28 years old, was
condemned for treason in Belgium,
but by default. He later entered France and was sentenced for abuse of confidence but ran away
to Alsace, where he was recently recaptured.

The war being over, the worst penalty that can be inflicted on him would be deportation to some arid post.

MEXICANS RAID CATHOLIC SCHOOL, ARREST TWO PRIESTS
Women Teachers Escape Molestation But Are Warned They Are Violating Laws.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, March 2.—
Two Catholic priests, Salvador Es-calante Plancarte and Ignacio Flores, arrested yesterday when police raided a school in Tacuba, a suburb of Mexico City.

The police said the school mis-
tresses were leading a convent life.
They were not molested but were notified that they were violating the laws governing religion.
Dispatches from Guadalajara
today said the Federal drive against the government terms Catholic rebels was being pushed energetically.

Gen. Avila Camacho announced the defeat of a group of 150 rebels
under the leadership of Chieftain Gustavo Cuevas after three consecutive clashes at various points
in the Autlan district of Jalisco.
He said several rebels and two soldiers were killed and that the insurgents fled toward the mountains. Two armed planes discovered and bombed rebel band
at Penuelas, State of Aguascalientes.

FRENCHMAN MUST READ 120 COLUMNS ABOUT INCOME TAX

If He Studies Only First 96 He Takes 427 Chances of Error.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, March 2.—Americans who are grumbling just now over the difficulties of making out an income tax return may take comfort in considering the task confronting a conscientious Frenchman.

First, he is expected to digest a 36-page supplement of the Journal
Officiel, consisting of 96 columns,
which was issued by order of Parliament last year, codifying the income tax laws and the amendments thereto.

Next, he must study another supplement of 24 columns published to correct errors in the foregoing, and after that a third supplement of six columns, only recently put out, which corrects the corrections.

If he trusts only to the 96 columns of the first text he will go wrong in 427 places.

BELGIAN PLACED ON TRIAL IN PARIS FOR AIDING GERMANS

Fugitive Said to Have Given Information Which Led to Death of His Countryman.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, March 2.—Julius Cesar Joseph Laperre, a Belgian citizen accused of informing the Germans of the war activities of his countrymen in enemy occupied territory, was placed on trial today in this city.

The formal accusations against Laperre allege that information
which he gave the Germans
brought about the death of several Belgians whose 'crimes' were
those for which Edith Cavell was
executed. The Belgians killed belonged to secret patriotic societies
which operated 'underground rail-
ways' by which Frenchmen and Belgians who wished to serve in
the allied armies were taken
across the Dutch frontier. The societies also gave information to
the allies on what was happening
within occupied Belgium.

Laperre, who is 28 years old, was

REED FORMALLY ENTERS PRIMARY RACE IN CALIFORNIA

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, March 2.—
Making a bitter attack on the Republican National administration
after formally entering the California presidential primary, Senator Reed of Missouri yesterday charged President Coolidge with misfeasance in office for failure to assist the Senate in its investigation of the naval oil reserve leases.

Reed signed his declaration of candidacy in the presidential primary to be held in California on May 1 and announced "We will fight it out."

Friends of Gov. Smith in the State are circulating petitions on his behalf. While William G. McAdoo has withdrawn as a candidate, managers of Senator Reed's campaign said they would stand with the McAdoo followers would seek a delegation from California either pledged as "straightout dry" or uncommitted.

FIGHTING FOR DEMOCRACY

"I repeat what I have said on the ground through the West," Reed said, and he signed the papers handed to him by Milton K. Young, chairman of the Reed-for-President Club here, "that I am more interested in the Democratic party's welfare than in my own candidacy."
Reed is a large and enthusiastic crowd at Long Beach. Reed stopped in the midst of his speech,
last night raised his hand and declared:

"I charge President Coolidge with misfeasance in office." Frequently Applauded.

The audience, which frequently had interrupted him with applause, sat silent and tense as the Senator went on to declare that the President in keeping "the arch criminal, Harry Daugherty," as Attorney-General during the oil inquiry, and in failing to turn over the facilities of the secret service and grand jury to aid the investigation, had neglected to do his duty.

The crowd cheered him as he went on to assail the President and Secretaries Hoover and Mellon and when Reed had concluded his listeners yelled at him to grasp his hand.

Reed charged that the President had packed Federal boards and commissions with those "who would do his bidding."

Chile Orders Paper Marked.

SCHEDULED TO SPEAK TWICE

He Addresses Audience in Oakland This Afternoon
—Principal Speech in San Francisco Tonight.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—
Carrying his message of party harmony as a necessary preliminary to the ousting of corruption from the American Government, Senator Reed of Missouri arrived today from Los Angeles. He received an ovation as he and his party stepped from the train at Southern Pacific station. Crowds thronged approaches to the station.
Mayor James Rolph Jr. was on hand to extend the welcome of San Francisco to the Missourian, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination. The Democratic party organization was represented by H. H. McPike, State chairman, William F. Hubbard, attorney, head of the Bay Cities
Reed-for-President organization,
also was on hand to greet the Senator. Practically every member of the Reed organization was on hand, including a large delegation from Oakland, where the Senator made his first speech at noon today.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon
the Senator will return to San Francisco and will hold a conference with the amount of Jones
plans for the Reed campaign in this State.

The Senator will deliver his principal address tonight in Native Sons Hall.

HOUSTON KEEPS PLEDGE MADE TO DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

Body Financing National Convention Votes To Turn Over $200,000 To Reed.

By the Associated Press.
HOUSTON, Tex., March 2.—
Jesse H. Jones' pledge to the Democratic National Committee, that Houston would raise $200,000 for it if the national convention were brought here, has been kept.

The Houston Executive Finance Committee, which is raising $350,000
for the convention, voted to transfer the amount of Jones' pledge to him as chairman of the Democratic National Finance Commit-

ENVOY TO CANADA DENIES U. S. TERRITORIAL AMBITIONS

Minister Phillips, at Quebec, Calls Taft Strong Link in Friendship of Two Countries.

By the Associated Press.
QUEBEC, March 2.—The United States has no ambitions to widen its borders, William Phillips, first minister from that country to Canada, said at a joint luncheon of the Men's and Women's Canadian Club yesterday.

"She has worked out her own territorial destiny," he said, "and desires only to live in peace with all the world. There are critics and plenty of them, who accuse us
of imperialistic ambitions and of a desire to control the lives of other peoples, but all great nations have to face such charges."

Phillips said he had found a true spirit of friendship in Canada and declared that William Howard Taft, Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, who has a country home in this province, "is the finest and strongest link between the Canadian people and the United States people that we could ever hope to have."

'AGGRESSIVE WAR' DEFINED FOR COOLIDGE IN LETTER

by conference, conciliation, arbitration, appeal to judicial proceed-

$2,500,000 HAIG MEMORIAL Fund for Soldiers' Homes to Be Collected in England.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, March 2.—The British people's memorial to Earl Haig will be homes for war veterans,
their widows and orphans.

Premier Baldwin, Ramsay Macdonald, Lloyd George and other notables have signed an announcement calling for a popular subscription of $2,500,000 to finance the project. The announce-

UNION ELECTRIC WANTS RATES CUT FOR BIG USERS

Opposes Suggestion of Public Service Chairman That Reduction Be for Residences.

EAGER TO ATTRACT
NEW INDUSTRIES

Local Rates to Householders Lowest in United States With Exception of Buffalo, It Asserts.

If any reduction in rates of the Union Electric Light & Power Co.
is ordered by the State Public Service Commission, as a result of a 21 per cent increase in net income for 1927, the company wants it applied to users of commercial and industrial power, and not to residence consumers.

In a statement today Frank J.
Boehm, vice president of Union
Electric, made known that Chairman Brown of the Public Service Commission is interested in a reduction of residence service rates and has requested the company to present figures to show why the residence rates should not be reduced. The company now is making an investigation along these lines.

However, Union Electric, contending that its residence rates are with exception of Buffalo, N. Y., the lowest in the United States,
wants to reduce rates for commercial and industrial power service
"to encourage customers to continue the large use of electric power,
as well as to obtain new industries
for St. Louis territory."

ONLY LARGE FIRMS ENJOY PROSPERITY, SURVEY DISCLOSES

Average Net Income of 99
Pct. of Corporations in 1925 Was 11 Pct. Less Than in 1923.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CINCINNATI, March 2.—Business conditions in the United States decision handed down in St. Louis of one per cent of the country's corporations that have a net income of $5,000,000 a year or more,
according to President Magnus W.
Alexander of the National Industrial conference board.

Speaking before the Cincinnati branch of the National Trades Association last night, he quoted figures gathered by his board to show that keen competition has resulted in larger sales at a smaller profit. He continued:

"The board's analysis, furthermore, shows that manufacturing corporations in 1925 not only operated on a distinctly narrower profit margin per dollar of sales than in 1923, the last previous 'good year,' but that the average net income of 99.9 per cent of them—that is, of all those with less than $5,000,000 net income in 1925—was nearly 11 per cent
smaller than in 1923.

"In contrast, manufacturing companies with net incomes of $5,000,000
or more a year—95 in number,
or 0.11 per cent of the total of 89,645 companies making returns
for 1925—earned enough to show an actual gain of 25.4 per cent in average net income as compared with the income of the corporation group in 1923. These larger companies, although constituting only one-ninth of one per cent in number, enjoyed in 1925 not only a profit margin of 44.5 per cent of the aggregate net income. These figures both allocate and indicate the limitations of the industrial prosperity enjoyed in 1925.

"The figures clearly indicate that despite the great business activity that we have encountered, the situation has not been a bed of roses
for all those engaged in business.
It is noteworthy also that business men and investors—that is,
capital rather than labor—has borne the brunt of the effects of the competitive struggle.

"We see then a double paradox
in the present business situation in the United States: Great national prosperity with great business activity, but a competitive struggle which has resulted in precipitous profit margins; we see furthermore that the very method which has contributed so much to our national income,
namely, efficient mass production,
which has produced high productivity per worker and hence has made possible high wage levels, is the very factor which today is accentuating the competitive struggle.

"The average rates paid for the period under investigation are contrasted with present rates below:

"Commercial Lighting, 5.37¢ per
K. W. H., now, 3.6¢ per K. W. H.
Residence service, 7.6¢ per K. W. H., now 4.7¢ per K. W. H. Commercial power, 2.9¢ per K. W. H., now 2.3¢ per K. W. H. Industrial power, 1.6¢ per K. W. H., now, 1.2¢ per K. W. H.

"The same rate forms as those investigated by the commission are in effect with the difference that the charges for lighting service have been greatly reduced, the comparison showing that commercial lighting rates have been lowered 42 per cent and residence service 37 1/2 per cent, while commercial power service has been increased 2.1 per cent and high tension service 19.3 per cent. Power rates, although considerably lower than they were at present during 1919 and 1920, are still higher than they were in the pre-war period
and the company management of its own initiative has been making extensive investigations looking forward to a voluntary reduction of rates on this class of service.

"On Friday of last week an informal conference was held with the commission in which the rate reduction was discussed.

Commercial Lighting, 5.37¢ per
K. W. H., now, 3.6¢ per K. W. H.
Residence service, 7.6¢ per K. W. H.,
now 4.7¢ per K. W. H. Commercial power, 2.9¢ per K. W. H.,

Mr. Feighner's Rejoinder.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IT has just come to my attention that in a recent issue of the Post-Dispatch, G. B. Parker, editor-in-chief of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, took your publication to task for an editorial based largely on a political story I had written for the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.

I would like, with your kind permission, to make some observations relative to the general denial Mr. Parker has entered. In my original story I told how Boyd Gurley, editor of the Indianapolis Times, a Scripps-Howard paper, had been sent to Europe for a three months' vacation, at the start of the Indiana primary campaign, and after the Scripps-Howard editors had endorsed the presidential candidacy of Herbert Hoover. I told how, at the same time, Frank Prince, who had been Gurley's assistant in uncovering much of the political scandal in Indiana, had been relieved of his position.

Mr. Parker explains in his letter, published by the Post-Dispatch, that "Gurley, after many months of intensive and constant work in exposing political corruption in Indiana, is taking a vacation," and says that "neither Will Hays nor James P. Goodrich has spoken or communicated with Roy Howard, Boyd Gurley, or anyone else connected with the Indianapolis Times, about Scripps-Howard presidential policies, as such policies relate to the Indianapolis Times and Indiana's political corruption." His explanation, of course, is at complete variance to the deduction I drew from the change in management on the Times.

As to the departure of Mr. Gurley (who, by the way, was a personal friend of mine) from the Indianapolis Times, I will say that I have it on the best of authority that he was simply "exiled" from the State for the duration of the primary campaign. This can be readily deduced, when it is known that our primary comes on May 8, and Gurley was sent on a three months' tour of Europe about Feb. 1. I know it to be a fact that Gurley opposed the endorsement of Hoover by the Scripps-Howard editors, at the West Baden conference in January.

I know that he was loath to leave the task of exposing political corruption he had undertaken in Indiana, and was particularly anxious to remain in Indianapolis during the trial of Gov. Ed Jackson. Appeals even were made to Will H. Remy, Marion County prosecutor, to issue a subpoena for Gurley as a witness, so that he would have to remain here. Did that look like the Scripps-Howard people were giving a well-earned vacation to an overworked editor?

Knowing all these things and having an insight into Indiana political manipulation, born of many years' experience, I exercised a political writer's license in drawing my own conclusions. My article was signed, as it was in all of my papers, and I have nothing to retract. I was told, on what I believed to be good authority, that the assumptions were correct and I am constrained to stand by them.

Thinks Smoke Is Being Abated.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

SPEAKING about smoke, have any of you St. Louisans noticed the increasing clearness of the air about St. Louis in the last six months? I am on the roof of a nine-story building every morning and can say that fully 50 per cent of St. Louis' smoke has vanished. Better boost the Citizens' Smoke Abatement League instead of the idea of buying Pittsburgh coal at 25 per annum suggested.

"The Subways'll Gecha Et"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE Public Service Co. is endeavoring to improve its service. It has done some constructive work since buying the street car system. But why, oh why, does the management permit its motormen to run cars at a snail's pace miles after mile? During the slack hours cars on many lines creep along as though they were looking for business, or because the motormen are tired. If the schedules are so arranged that such slow movement is necessary, they should be tightened up. It is disgusting to board a car, especially when one is in a hurry, and watch the scenery go by at the same speed it does when one walks. "The subways'll gecha et you don't walk out."

What Constitutes Personal Liberty?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN reply to the article on cleaning the Statue of Liberty, I wish to ask you just what is a man's liberty. Is it his liberty to drink as much as he wants, only to drive out and kill or injure people? Is it his liberty selfishly to use his wages for his appetites and let his family suffer? Ask Evangelists. Ask if conditions are not better in New York today than they were in 1917-18? Ask her if it isn't safer for pedestrians on certain streets in any large city? The ones that "must" have their own drinks make it in their own homes anyway. They are let get all they want, so why should there be a kick for more? And we don't see so much drunkenness, and that is my liberty.

A DAILY READER.

PLUTOCRACY AND RASCALITY.

Senator James A. Reed was theoretically right when he said that prohibition was not an issue in the presidential campaign because there were greater issues, such as honest government, purity of politics, the usurpation of state powers and functions by the Federal Government. But practically, the issue of prohibition will not down at the mere fiat of a candidate or a party. Senator Reed will discover this to be a fact.

To quote Cleveland's famous phrase, it is not a theory but a condition that we confront. The conditions brought about by Federal prohibition, the restrictions upon the rights and powers of the states and upon the rights and liberties of the people, the violations of the Bill of Rights, the opposition of a great percentage of the people to the law and the consequent lawlessness and contempt for law it breeds, the corruptions incident to all this, make it a vital issue in politics—an issue that will not down until it is settled right.

Senator Reed, however, regardless of the prohibition issue, is right in saying that there ought to be a complete change of government at Washington. The time is overripe for a political revolution that will overthrow the control of the Republican party and turn all its rascals out.

We do not impugn the honesty of Mr. Coolidge nor that of many others associated with him in the administration. The orgy of corruption and scandal which disgraced the Harding administration has not been continued in the Coolidge administration. But there has been an intolerable indifference to the corruptions of the gang in power under Harding, and to the punishment of the scoundrels who plundered the Government.

The apathy of Mr. Coolidge with regard to the misdeeds of officials in the Harding administration and his retention of some of Harding's disgraced appointees until forced to drive them out, was amazing. The apathy and inactivity of the Department of Justice in dealing with Republican rascals has been astonishing. It was not the administration but the Senate which investigated the scandals, revealed the facts, and whose action forced the appointment of special counsel to prosecute Fall and his fellow conspirators for betraying the Government and plundering its oil reserves. It was the investigations of the Senate that brought Harry Daugherty and his fellow grafters before the bar of justice.

Mr. Coolidge and his department heads initiated nothing, and of their own motion did nothing to expose these scandals and punish the guilty. It was under Mr. Coolidge's administration that the orgy of corruption in the nomination and election of United States Senators occurred in Illinois and Pennsylvania. It was the Senate which investigated and disclosed the expenditure of huge slush funds in both these states, against the opposition and discouragement of the leaders of the Republican party. Mr. Coolidge's Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Mellon, approved and attempted to justify the scandalous attempt to buy a Senate seat in Pennsylvania. There has been no word of reproof from Mr. Coolidge to any of these leaders.

The Republican party organization is involved in the scandal of the theft of oil reserves and the fake Continental Trading Co. Will H. Hays, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, has just testified in Washington that he received $150,000 in bonds from Sinclair, to help meet the deficit of the Harding campaign. Mr. Hays, of course, denies that he knew anything about the Fall-Sinclair oil deal or the Continental Trading Co., but there is evidence of a bargain with oil men in the nomination of Harding, which resulted in the appointment of Fall and the deal between him, Sinclair and Doherty for the naval oil reserves.

The whole transaction has the ugly appearance of an alliance between the Republican party and the corruptionists, who have been treated with singular consideration by Republican officials and leaders.

"William J. Burns, under indictment for shadowing the jury in the Fall-Sinclair case, has received a new commission as a Colonel in the Intelligence Service of the Reserve Corps of the United States Army. The commission was issued a month after Burns was charged with complicity in the jury-tampering plot. Wholly apart from Mr. Coolidge's apathy toward the scandals of the Harding administration, he himself is chargeable with subservience to interests enjoying special governmental privileges. He has been charged openly with packing the Tax Commission and the Federal Trade Commission in the interest of Big Business, a grievous offense.

The whole policy of the Government under Mr. Coolidge has been to protect the interests and fatten the profits of favored business. Mr. Mellon's own interests have been the beneficiaries of special governmental favors.

The Post-Dispatch is not against business, big or little, so long as it is legitimate. We believe that the interest of business as the lifeblood of the nation should be protected and promoted when it can be lawfully and justly done. But we are against governmental privilege or favoritism to any sort of business which fattens its profits at the expense of the people.

The foreign policy of Mr. Coolidge has some dismal swamps of offense and mistake. The surreptitious effort of the State Department to poison the mind of the American people against Mexico, which was exposed by the Post-Dispatch, was a grievous offense. Nobody was rebuked for that misconduct.

The policy of intervention in Nicaragua which has led to practical war conditions, the revelation of which shocked the members of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, is sufficient to condemn the administration.

There are honest men in the Republican party—men who have acted with the opposition in the exposure of scandals and the attempt to bring the guilty to punishment, but their efforts to redeem the party are woefully handicapped by the apathy of the administration and by the overshadowing influence of unscrupulous politicians who are powerful in the councils of the party.

The plea of prosperity which has been the malady of the Republican party is failing. There has been unequalled prosperity for the privileged few, but it is fading out for the unprivileged masses. Unemployment is widespread and is increasing. Industry and commerce are slackening. Agriculture, which has not been favored, is calling for relief.

It is not in the interest of the Democratic party that the Post-Dispatch declares that there ought to be a clean-up and straightening out in Washington. It is in the interest of the people. We do not pretend to predict what the Democratic party will do. But we do say it has a great opportunity to serve the people. We do say that it is imperative that Democratic principles and militant honesty should be revived in the Washington Government.

The time has come for a smashing campaign to unhorse plutocracy and rascality.

LINDBERGH, PEACE PRIZE WINNER.

Even in the avalanche of honors, decorations and awards that have been conferred on Col. Lindbergh, the Woodrow Wilson peace prize is a glittering gift. The only other holders of it are Viscount Cecil and Elihu Root, both distinguished statesmen. Cecil is the outstanding champion in England of the League of Nations, while Root, Nobel peace prize winner of 1912, has devoted many years to international peace and was one of the founders of the present World Court. Brilliant company for a 26-year-old aviator, and yet we think no one will deny the fitness of the association. Cecil and Root attained their eminence as peace advocates in tedious years around council tables and on the rostrum. Lindbergh works in another medium—a heroic one. Cecil and Root appealed to men's reason. Lindbergh captures their imagination.

We congratulate the Woodrow Wilson peace committee on their selection.

THE HONOR CONFERRED UPON BURNS.

William J. Burns was given a commission as Colonel in the Reserve Corps Dec. 1 last, one month after the disclosure that Burns was involved in the jury-shadowing plot that wrecked the Fall-Sinclair criminal trial, and two days after Burns went on trial for contempt of court. This was in line with the War Department's policy "to get outstanding men into the Reserve Corps." The notorious fixer and gunshoe man, in other words, received the identical honor conferred by the War Department upon Charles A. Lindbergh!

As a result of the trial which was in progress when he got his colonelcy, Burns now stands convicted and sentenced to serve 15 days in common jail. Even if Burns had not been involved in the Fall-Sinclair mess, however, the War Department might have saved itself the embarrassment in which it now finds itself by pondering Burns' record. It might even have failed to consider that Burns was a prominent member of the Ohio Gang during the Harding administration, a tag which is certainly no certificate of virtue. He was chief of the Bureau of Investigation under Harry Daugherty.

Burns' record in the Washington land fraud cases is enough in itself to disqualify him for any position of honor or dignity in the Government. In a letter from Attorney-General Wickersham, dated May 10, 1912, to President Taft, Burns was charged with jury-fixing and subornation to convict an innocent man. On the basis of this charge, President Taft pardoned the man that Burns had hounded to jail. Referring to Burns' character as revealed by this incident, the late Samuel Gompers said:

I felt justified in the belief that no citizen's life or liberty was safe with a man such as Burns.

Following the news that Charles R. Forbes, while serving a penitentiary sentence for fraud against the Government, was honored by that same Government with the Distinguished Service Medal, the Burns incident has cumulative effect.

Secretary Wilbur wants to increase the naval oil reserves, which certainly will not amuse people very much at a season when almost everybody has a cracked lip.

MR. COLBY AND FRENCH LEAVE.

After so many Americans had gone to Paris and got divorces it was something of a shock to Bainbridge Colby to be told by a Paris Judge that he cannot have a divorce because there is no proof that he intends becoming a permanent resident of France.

So much for French leave. They were doing it, and without so much as giving notice upon this side of the Atlantic, which had found French divorce a wonderful convenience, they suddenly quit. Mr. Colby, of course, has no intention of becoming a permanent resident of France. Nor have any of our numerous divorced people freed by French courts had any such notion.

The mean things!

THE ILLUSION OF AVERAGE.

Apart from immediate ends sought by the National Society of Long Fellows (longer Pullman berths and hotel beds and coffins, taller doors and higher ceilings), it is to be hoped that something will be done to put an end to the reign of the law of averages, for the benefit of the many otherwise worthy men and women who are either under-average or over-average.

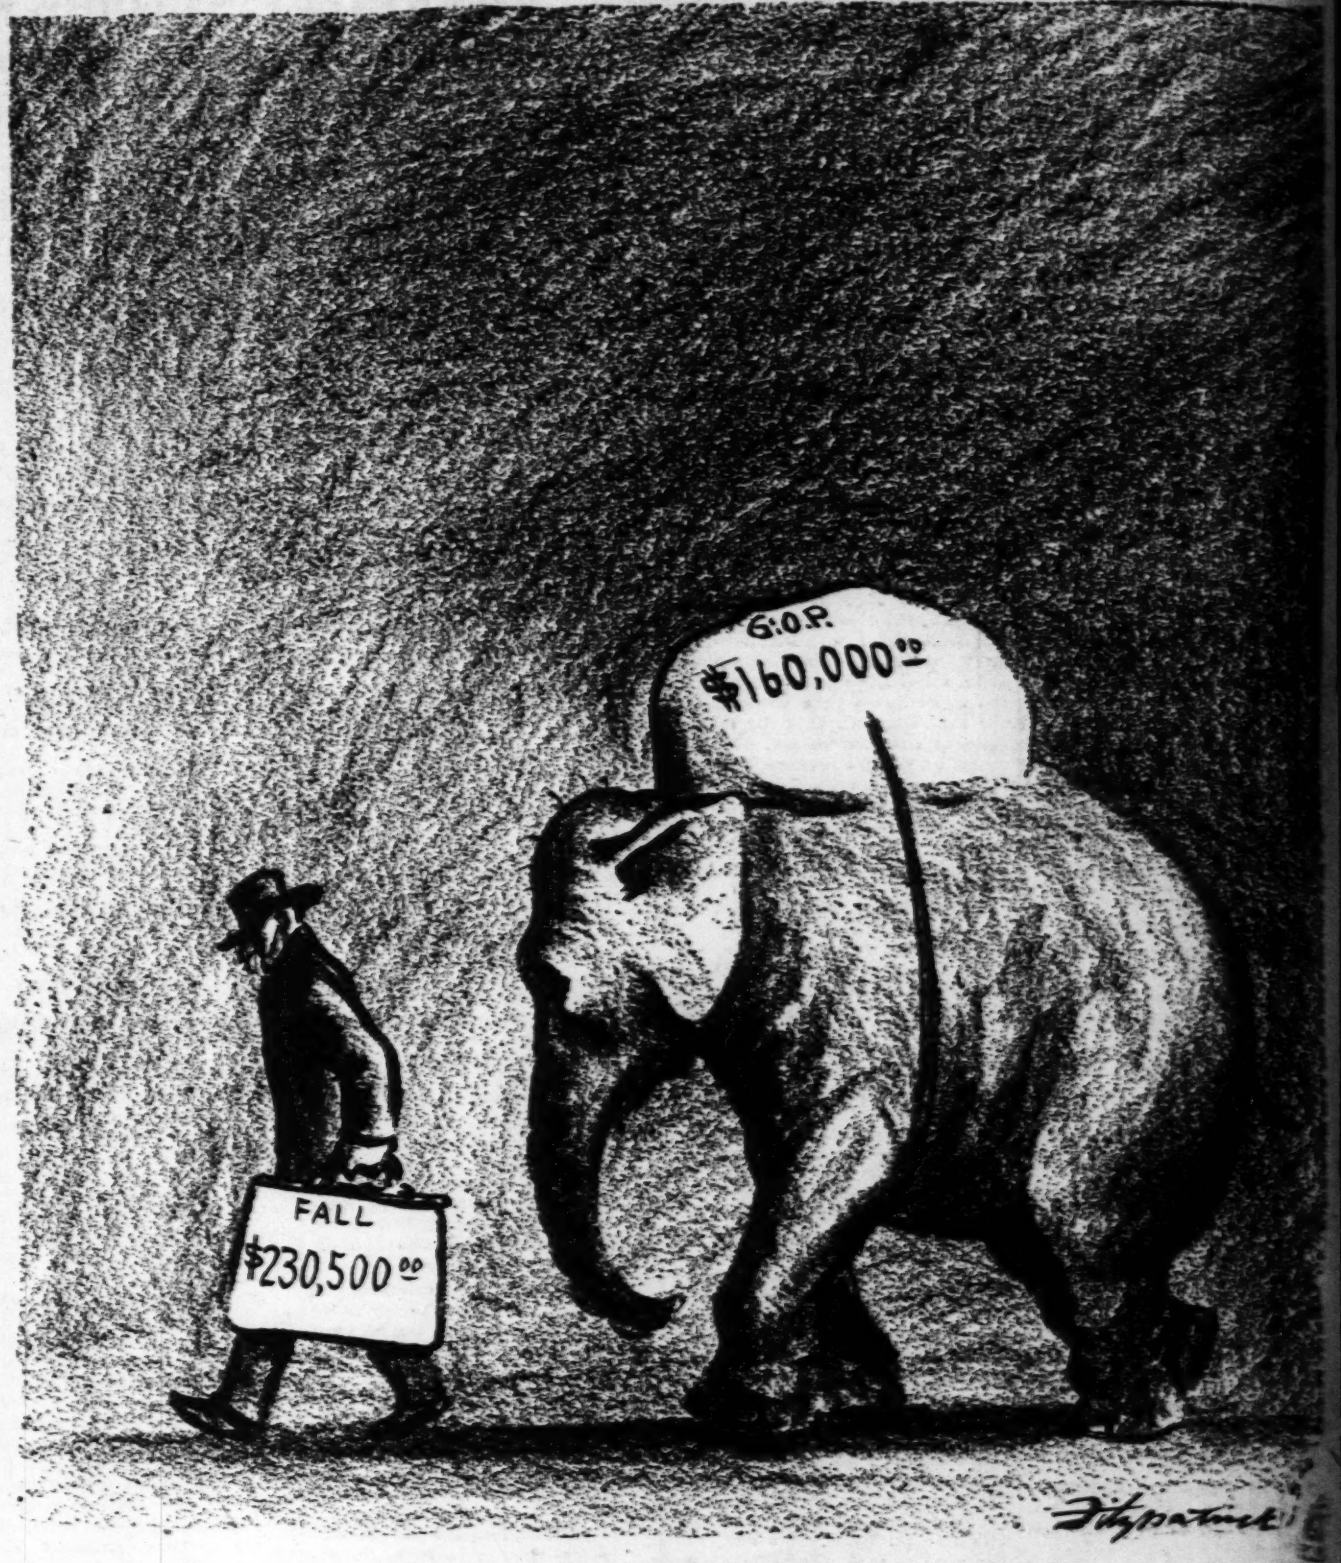

The law of averages takes no account of these. It serves only those who, under any given state of facts, come within the mean specifications. Just how mean these are it takes an outsider to tell. The meanness consists in ignoring the physical comfort and peace of mind of those who are extreme one way or the other. Pullman berths and hotel beds are examples. These are built on the theory that nobody has any business to be longer than average, although it is a matter of common knowledge that there are long persons and that they cannot always sleep at home, where their eccentricities of longitude can receive some recognition.

It is not only in sleeping accommodations but in other affairs that the law of averages works badly. A classical instance, well remembered, was the occasion when a flotilla of steamboats left St. Louis for New Orleans escorting President Roosevelt. Some of the boats were fast, as steamboats go, and some were not so fast. An inspired landsman struck an average speed to be maintained. The slower boats, of course, could not travel at an average speed greater than their natural speed, and the result was that the flotilla was soon strung out to such an extent that as an escort it was a total failure.

That is how averages usually work out. So good luck to the National Society of Long Fellows. Long may it live and prosper.

The country desperately needs to have some of its coal diggers set to work digging dirt on the Mississippi River.

"A Blotch on American Civilization"

What Can Be Done to Nurse the Sick Coal Industry Back to Health and to Make Impossible the Recurrence of Such Fearful Conditions as the Senatorial Committee Found in Pennsylvania?

IN THE COAL FIELDS.

From the New York Times.

SOMETHING of the embitterment that renders possible the prolonged strike in the bituminous districts of Western Pennsylvania has injected itself into the inquiry conducted on the spot by a subcommittee of the Senate. The investigating Senators are appalled by conditions that constitute a "blotch upon American civilization." They find the strikers living in hovels "more unsanitary than a modern swine-pen." They are indignant over the issue of a court injunction against the singing of hymns by strikers, an injunction six months in force without a hearing. They find other instances of "extraordinary procedure" on the part of the local courts and of disconcerting behavior on the part of the Coal and Iron Police. Mine owners in retort declare they will not allow their industry to be run by the United Mine Workers and will not pay wages which the industry cannot bear. The subcommittee's request for figures on production costs is rejected with the statement that the mine owners will not try their case in the newspapers. It is a state of ill temper, exhibited in the operators' refusal to participate last month in the conference at Washington called by Secretary of Labor Davis at the virtual suggestion of President Coolidge.

"Part of the Senators' indignation, no doubt sincere and in large measure justified, should slant elsewhere than at the coal operators. There should be a bit of heart-searching among the members of the United States Senate. It is more than four and a half years since the Hammond Coal Commission submitted its report. That document contains an exhaustive analysis of basic conditions in the coal industry, which appears plainly as a sick industry. It is by authority of common information that the industry is heavily overmanned and that it is in a perpetual state of dislocation as the result of constantly changing factors both within and outside the coal field. No less than 24 recommendations were made by the commission. One of these mildly proposes an agency designated by Congress to study unemployment and the wage structure and to mobilize publicity whenever there is a threat of failure to renew a wage agreement. Another recommendation deals with the consolidation, grouping or pooling of bituminous mining operations.

The merits of these recommendations are not for the moment in question. The important fact is that there has been in existence for nearly five years a great body of competent information on coal which Congress might have bestowed itself before this to put to some practical use. The wretched conditions now prevailing around Pittsburgh, the possible misuse of judicial authority, the conduct of the Coal and Iron Police, the errors of union leadership, are in great measure the symptoms of a disease of which both employers and workers are the victims and which cannot be conjured by mere indignation. The full hearing before the Senate Commerce Committee may add to existing information. The question is if the new knowledge is to go into the dead archives along with the coal report of 1923, or whether there shall be a serious effort to attack a problem which is not peculiar to the American coal industry.

COAL BARONS WON'T AGAIN.

From the Milwaukee Journal.

WHAT the operators had better see, and the Government had better see, is that the long chapter of indifference to what was going on in ended, Pennsylvania, only a half dozen years after ending the rottenness of the 12-hour day and seven-day week in steel, stands revealed as it at again in the coal business. This time it is not with long hours and brutalizing conditions, but with a situation created for their own profit in which they have power over the lives of men. People far away, who care little about mining folk they never heard of before, nevertheless care about this kind of thing. For they begin to ask when their turn will be coming. Coal barons need to learn that when a business threatens the foundations of liberty, it is in for some bad goings.

COAL AS A NATIONAL PROBLEM.

From the Chicago Daily News.

THE task in the coal industry is indeed one that will tax the genius and vision of the industrial leaders of America. The whole industry requires drastic reorganization. Some officers of coal corporations hold that the "needed remedies cannot be applied under present State and Federal anti-trust laws. If this is true, it is an important contribution to the discussion of the coal situation. It is merely an excuse, that fact should be pointed out and the measures actually required should be set forth and urged upon the interests affected.

BLOTCH.

From the Dayton News.

THE senatorial committee in Pennsylvania inspecting the coal strike pronounces the thing a "blotch." Literally, the statement of the committee calls it a "blotch upon American civilization." The committee speaks of the situation again as an "industrial war."

As a beginning for the senatorial investigation, this does well. Blotch is a good word. "A clumsy dab; a blemish," such that a dictionary defines it. A stronger word, if there were one, would be "stain." The coal strike at its best, as in Ohio, is a war of endurance with starving women and children for victims. In Pennsylvania it is worse than that. There it is anarchy, a test of physical strength between coal operators controlling the State Government and strikers holding out sullenly against both operators and government. The accustomed guarantees of government have broken down. There is violence on both sides. "Blotch" is mild.

But it is easier to agree that "war" is bad than it is to agree on a way to end war. Something is fundamentally wrong with the coal industry as a whole. Something must be wrong with an industry that can function only in a state of war. The problem seems to be a special one in the coal industry. Great Britain is in as bad a tangle with its coal industry as we are with ours.

How is the "blotch" to be erased? Now that's a question to put the Senate committee to a test. The most ordinary person could have told us that the situation in the coal industry is a blotch. But how erase the spot? We solemnly trust that the Senators prove equal to the answer.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "TAWNY"

THE BOY. The Story of a Great Dog. (Morrow.)

THOMAS C. HINKLE'S "Tawny" published last year, no doubt deserves to be ranked with the very few really distinguished dog stories. Its power to impress the memory depends upon no very marked gift for writing in the author's writing is generally understood. The book is powerful because it is the simple product of a man's inner life. It grew slowly in the author's consciousness, and he put into it not only his knowledge of dog nature gained through a lifetime of love for dogs, but he put into it also very much of his own passionate longing for he has been a lonely man out there in the little Kansas town where, through many years without success, he must have seemed more than a little queer to the villagers. It was perhaps not, altogether accidental that his canine hero, Tawny, was a dog who was misunderstood even by those for whose companionship the great-hearted dog yearned.

In "Tawny" we have another stirring version of essentially the same tale—that of a great-hearted dog who was lost and lonely for a long season and who, though forced to struggle for survival against a harsh fate, still kept his faith in men and never vent bad.

Trueboy is a waddling puppy when the tale opens; and because it is evident that he will be a huge animal when grown, Dan, a young ranchman, decides to raise the pup. But on the road to the ranch house, Trueboy is jolted out of a wagon and falls into a deep ravine. Search for him is unavailing and the much perplexed and frightened little dog begins life on his own in a world that rages with cruel hunger. Later, Dan finds the half-grown dog, only to lose him again after some months of happy companionship. Trueboy has been captured by an old trapper and when, after months, he manages to escape and return to the ranch house, there is no trace of Dan anywhere and the deserted place is heaped high with snow.

Of course Trueboy triumphs in the end and finds Dan again, but not until after many terrible experiences in a long starving winter, the last and greatest of which is the victorious battle with the giant cattle-killing timber wolf, known over half a state as "the Roarer."

ROMANCE OF THE SUN. By Mary Proctor. (Harper & Brothers.)

A SIMPLE exposition of about all there is to know about solar astronomy—all that a layman can understand, at any rate. One of the curious bits of information contained in this work is as follows:

"Even if it were possible to touch the surface of the sun with the tip of the finger (that is, if your arm were long enough), the rash mortal who made the venture would never know that his finger had been burned in the process, for, according to the estimates made by Helmholtz and others, a nervous shock is communicated to the brain at the rate of about 100 feet per second, or 1,537 miles a day. Since the sun is nearly 93,000,000 miles away, more than 150 years must elapse before the sensation of burning would pass from the tip of the finger to the brain."

The author of this interesting work appends to her name D. Sc. and F. R. A. S. Besides she is the daughter of the late Richard A. Proctor, a celebrated astronomer.

Since the children have taken to studying the Wagner masterpiece more than 800 pictures have been sent to the symphony's educational director. The pictures come from 28 schools, and 100 different scenes in the story have been pictured.

Yesterday's program included the romantic triumph march from "Aida," Von Weber's "Invitation to Dance," a medley of folk songs of the Swedish peasants, and Rubinstein's "Melody in F." ## MILITARY FUNERAL FOR MRS. LILY BUSCH

American Legion and Barracks Soldiers Paid Tribute at Services Today.

Military honors were paid Mrs. Lily Busch, widow of Adolphus Busch, the brewer, who died at Pasadena, Cal., Saturday, at her funeral here this afternoon, in view of her benefactions to the American Legion.

Since yesterday, the national and legion colors stood beside the casket at the family residence, 1 Busch place, by arrangement of Quentin Roosevelt Post. At the services there, starting at 2 o'clock, a color guard and band of 20 soldiers from Jefferson Barracks were on duty, dipping the flags as the casket was placed in the hearse. "At Bellefontaine Cemetery, where interment was made in the family mausoleum, the guard formed a lane for the cortege. At the close of the service there, one bugler sounded "taps," which was echoed by his companion at a distance of half a mile.

Gardens Aided Legion Fund. Mrs. Busch in 1921 turned over use of the famous winter home at her Pasadena winter home to the American Legion, to raise money for the numerous incapacitated veterans who went to California. The place then was opened to the public for a small admission charge, which so far has provided $200,000 for legion work. Mrs. Busch made the gardens at her own expense and quietly aided the organization in other ways.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. William L. Sullivan of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah. Fulfillers were: Adolphus Busch III, August A. Busch Jr., Edward Magnus, Leicester B. Faust, Curt Reisinger and Walter Reisinger, grandsons of Mrs. Busch, and C. J. J. Jones, Malion B. Wallace, Horace Flanagan and Sidney Berg, grandsons-in-law.

Double String Quartet Plays. Music was furnished by a double quartet of strings from the Symphony Orchestra, directed by Frederick Fisher. Carl Schuricht, guest conductor of the orchestra, who resides near Mrs. Busch's place in Germany, Villa Lily, was instrumental in arranging this, but could not lead the players himself because of this afternoon's concert.

The order of music and services follows: "Andante Cantabile" (Tchaikowsky), prayer by Dr. Sullivan, "Death of Ase" (Grieg), eulogy by Dr. Sullivan, Wagner's "Traume," sung by Helen Trautman, dramatic soprano; organ music in conclusion.

Many family friends and persons interested in the numerous enterprises of the family have come from other cities for the funeral. Among these was Senator Hiram Bland, an old friend, who escorted Mrs. Busch home from Europe during the World War, and who came here yesterday from Washington. The residence this morning was overflowing with flowers from hundreds of persons and organizations.

Children Send Flowers. One spray bore a card, "From Children of the Neighborhood." This was an offering from nearby school pupils in gratitude for the use of Busch place each Easter for a number of years for an egg hunt under auspices of Concordia Turnverein.

Yesterday afternoon and this morning the body of Mrs. Busch lay in state at the home and numerous friends, relatives and employees of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., called to pay their last respects.

The funeral of Mrs. Busch was held from the same residence in 1913. In 1922 his remains were transferred to the ornate and chapel-like mausoleum at Bellefontaine. In the adjacent family lot are the graves of eight sons of Mr. and Mrs. Busch. The interment was private, with a prayer by Dr. Sullivan.

Closing Time for Foreign Mails. The closing time for trans-Atlantic foreign mails at the Main Post-office, Eighteenth and Walnut streets, is for full European mails, when sent to New York by air mail may be posted at the Main Postoffice up to 3 p. m. Sunday.

"Marriage and Home" Discussion. "Marriage and the Modern Home" will be discussed by the young people of the Epworth League of St. John's Methodist Church, Sunday night, at 7 o'clock, at the church, Kingshighway and Washington boulevard.

Pevely (Mo.) Pair Wed 50 Years. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schmidt of Pevely, Mo., celebrated the golden wedding anniversary last Tuesday with a dinner, which was attended by a number of friends and relatives of St. Louis and Pevely.

Day by Day in Europe

By O. O. McIntyre

HAVRE. The coast of Normandy is another perpetual drizzle, and the sun rarely shines on Havre. Passengers debouch under a huge shed where the boat train with its comic peanut stand whistle awaits for the four-hour trip to Paris.

The boat train trip is a preliminary "joy ride," with plenty of popping corks and suddenly organized quartets. It expresses the contagious buoyancy peculiar to France. The conductors as well as the gray-uniformed train women, add their good humor to what is a fine frolic—hooray!

On the outskirts of the town, little boys and girls in black smocks race along the side of the coaches with outstretched hands, shouting, "Pinnies, pin-nies," and passengers shower centime pieces from windows for the scramble. Mothers stand in the background with mingled expressions of pleasure and slight embarrassment.

Rural France is always the same picture. Saboted peasant women toiling in the fields with their men. Roly-poly belted Normandy horses pulling along the train two-wheeled carts. And here and there an ancient chateau with brick-walled garden, dovecote and sheepfold—a Corot come to life.

France utters every inch of farming space. There are little orchards that would be lost in Central Park and truck gardens the size of a bed—all as immaculate and well kept as a Fifth avenue window display. There are toy farms with patches of violets, tiny vineyards and belts of plowed land as though taken from a play box. You have an impression everyone is working for the glory of France these days.

The first stop is at Rouen, where Jeanne d'Arc etched her illustrious name on the immortal scroll. On the station platform a tandem team of black goats drew a wine wagon along the train side to disengage what by this time had become an extremely doubtful thirst. After all one can only hold so much.

Along the country roadside workers were peddling to their daily tasks with wine bottles strapped to the handle bars. The bicycle is the French laborer's silver.

ON the banks of the Seine stood those immobile fishermen with their side-slung baskets and hand poles. The Seine fisherman is a supreme lesson in optimism. He stands day after day with rarely a catch. He was there before the revolution and he will remain as long as hope springs eternal. He has been caricatured, editorialized and poetized into national joke—but there he stands and somehow you warm pleasantly to his inexhaustible patience.

YES—the young girl who came across without the passport evidently out-talked the passport snatches, for there she sat in a compartment of the boat train sufficing her cigarette and smart-cracking with a circle of boy friends. And there I was worrying all the way across because the expiration of my visa was slightly blurred.

FRANCE's amiable attitude toward dogs is a constant glow for dog lovers. The train conductor suggested mine might occupy a vacant compartment adjoining with the compliments of the Chemins de Fer d'Etat. And a garcon from the diner brought him a huge bowl of chopped meat.

A FRENCHMAN is the world's best wielder of the toothpick. He does his work openly and unashamed, in contrast to his Broadway brother who imagines he fools the multitude behind a napkin. One in the diner today seemed especially adroit. He had an upward and downward stroke coupled with a ball-bearing motion that—as you vulgar Americans have it—is voodoo-do.

THE outskirts of Paris indicate nothing of the lure beyond. The tumble-down antiquity is extremely depressing. It is like going through the shabby streets of Chinatown to reach Fifth avenue. Porters swarm through the windows—and here we are in the Gare St. Lazare. It was a nice buggy ride.

OSCAR HERF, FORMER HEAD OF CHEMICAL COMPANY, DIES

Came From England to St. Louis 35 Years Ago; Ill One Week.

Oscar Herf, until two years ago president of the Herf and Frerichs Chemical Co., died of pneumonia last night at his home, 6640 Forsythe road, after a week's illness. He was 81 years old.

Mr. Herf came to St. Louis from England about 35 years ago. He was an English citizen when he came, though he was originally from Creuznach, Germany. He engaged in the chemical business on his arrival here, and continued it until his retirement two years ago, when he sold his interests in the company.

His nearest surviving relative is Mrs. C. L. Whittemore, 6420 Forsythe, sister of his wife, who died four years ago. Funeral services will be at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Herf residence. Burial will be at Bellefontaine Cemetery.

MISS FANNY W. KENNETT DIES

Episcopal Deaconess, Native St. Louisan, Succumbs in New York.

Miss Fanny Wilson Kennett, native St. Louisan and deaconess of the Episcopal Church, died of pneumonia yesterday at her home in Penn Yan, N. Y. Miss Kennett, who was 77 years old, was actively connected with the Episcopal Church for more than 40 years, but retired several years ago on account of poor health.

She was the daughter of the late William Covington Kennett and Julia Clapp Kennett and was the niece of the late Luther M. Kennett, former Mayor of St. Louis. Surviving her are three sisters living in St. Louis, Mrs. Hugh McKittick, Mrs. David O. Ives and Miss Lucy M. Kennett. Burial will be at Penn Yan.

AIMS TO LIVE 100 YEARS

Pittsburgh Man Uses Rare Herb Remedy To Keep the Youthful Fires Burning.

Many years ago, H. H. Von Schlick, President of the Marvel Products Co. of Pittsburgh, could be seen any day visiting prominent Pittsburgh business men in their downtown offices. He carried a satchel, and his arrival was always greeted by a smile of welcome. These men were his customers. They accredited him with a new lease of life and the healthy condition of their families.

From his satchel Von Schlick pulled out a box. He caressed it tenderly. This was his secret. Where did he get it?

This Is the Story:

"During the spring of 1899," said Mr. Von Schlick, "I became acquainted with Mr. Boris Marokoff, an old native of Bulgaria. I was a very sick man at the time, and Mr. Marokoff stated that he would give me the formula of an herb medicine used extensively in his native land, which he said would at once help me to get well.

"I'll make it for you," he told me. "It is composed of roots, leaves, bark, herbs and flowers of different plants, intended by an all-wise Creator for His sick children. Now I want you to promise me you will take this remedy at least twice a week for a while—you will not only start to feel better, you will actually begin to get back your health and power."

I followed his advice and today at 60 years of age, I feel as young as I did at 30.

The rich vitalizing herb juices contained in this precious herb remedy not only keep me healthy, but give me the power and vigor of youth. You may be one of the millions needlessly suffering from constipation, sour, gassy stomach, intestinal poisons, torpid liver, weak, inactive kidneys and impure starved blood.

And what does this mean to you? Early old age, ill health, despondency and unhappiness. Why continue to suffer—do you want health? If so, begin right now to purify your system. Put back power and health into your blood. Take a treatment of the rich vitalizing juices of these precious herbs at least twice each week. No cheating. Remember, twice a week regular, that's the system. In a very short time you will begin to feel like a new person.

Go to your druggist and ask him for a box of Bulgarian Herb Tea, 75c and $1.25. Insist on getting it. If your druggist cannot supply you, a trial treatment will be sent to you at the special introductory price of $1.00 or by C. O. D., and you can pay the postman. Remember, Bulgarian Herb Tea is guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money refunded at once—you are to be the sole judge. Address Marvel Products Company, 100 Marvel Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

situation for St. Louis was discussed. It was stated for the company that an investigation was being made of the rates for power service which had not been recently reduced. Chairman Brown remarked that he was interested in a reduction of residence service rates. It was pointed out to him that Union company rates for that service are with one exception the lowest in the United States; that after using electricity to the extent of $1.60 per month the average residence customer could buy additional service for 3 1/2¢ per K. W. H. per month whereas the lowest rate available to a large number of power users was 3 1/4¢ per K. W. H. per month. He then convinced residence service at present rates was barely carrying itself and that they were by far the lowest in the State of Missouri. He requested the company to present figures to show why the residence rate should not be the one reduced and the company is now making an investigation along these lines.

Home Service 6.1 Cents a Day.

"It is the opinion of the company executives that low residence and other service rates of St. Louis are interdependent and that residence rates having been the last reduced power rates ought to be reduced now to encourage customers to continue the large use of electric power as well as to secure new industries for the St. Louis territory. It is true that the large industrial customers have automatically been receiving reduced rates as coal prices receded from their peaks. On the other hand, these customers have not reaped the benefit of improved economies in power production due to more efficient apparatus now available and in their case production costs are a much larger factor than in the case of residence lighting customers and to a less degree commercial lighting customers. This is because of the fact that concentrated delivery of power in large blocks requires much less distribution system investment and delivery expenses. The expense of billing and accounting for power customers is almost negligible, while residence customers' cost for that item alone is almost one-half cent per kilowatt hour. Large power customers must install their own transforming apparatus at a very large expense. Contrasted with this, residence customers not only receive usable voltage but also receive free renewal of incandescent lamps with which to use this service. These lamps, if bought, would cost almost a cent per kilowatt hour. If these differentials in service are taken into account, the apparent disparity in prices paid is reversed. As a matter of fact, electric service is the smallest item in the housekeeper's budget. For St. Louis it costs 6.1¢ per day on the average.

"Union Co. has no desire to put forth reproduction new valuation as a basis for avoiding rate reductions. It does insist, however, that it should not be discriminated against in being the only utility in the State whose rates are fixed on original cost valuation, whereas,

if the commission's yard-stick, recently applied in other cases, were applied to its property a rate increase would be indicated."

GROWTH-STIMULATING VITAMIN DISCOVERED

Sixth Known to Science Found
by California U. Professor After Experiment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—A new vitamin, the sixth known to science and said to be capable of stimulating normal growth in underdeveloped animals, has been discovered after a long research with rats in the laboratories of the University of California.

Dr. Herbert M. Evans, chairman of the department of anatomy at the university, made the announcement yesterday. The vitamin, he said, would be known as "Vitamin F,"
to follow after "Vitamin X," which also was discovered at the University of California.

The vitamin, said Dr. Evans, is essential to normal growth in animals "which attain scarcely more than half their size and remain sexually immature without it."

Experiments resulting in the discovery were entirely with rats, but would bring similar results in other animals, he said.
"When a food mixture constituting of highly purified casein and recrystallized cane sugar was employed," Dr. Evans said, "with the addition of necessary salts and the five known vitamins, the rats were scarcely more than half the normal size. Growth stopped altogether and the animals remained sexually immature. Natural food was necessary to awaken their growth and convert them into healthy animals.

"Among the natural foods, lettuce and liver were the most potent and they therefore almost certainly contain the new sixth member of the vitamins."
A warning was issued, however,
against assuming that this vitamin
can be manufactured and sold readily as certain glandular extracts and their substitutes have been.

DEMANDS INQUIRY INTO WHOLE TOLL BRIDGE SITUATION

Congressman Cochran Calls for Legislation Against Inflation of Securities Issued.

WARNING OF NEW "TRUST" IS GIVEN

Points Out That Securities Totaling $4,900,000 Were Issued Against Project Costing $2,100,000.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Staff Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Representative John E. J. Cochran of Missouri renewed his demand in the House yesterday for adequate legislative protection of investors against the inflation of securities issued in connection with private bridge projects and called for an investigation of the whole toll bridge situation. The House last month voted down his proposal that the Secretary of War be required to limit the securities to the actual construction cost plus 10 per cent. Since that time, Cochran told the House, he had received evidence warranting the statement that if Congress did not take protective action, the country would have to deal with "a toll bridge trust." Cochran read into the record an article published by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, stating that E. M. Elliott, a high-powered Chicago promoter, has under way 23 bridge projects in various parts of the country, all of them backed by G. White and Company of New York.

Statement Is Misleading. "Elliott made the statement," Cochran, "that, in keeping with congressional grants, all provision and financing costs, including his compensation, are limited to 10 per cent. This statement is misleading and Elliott knows it is misleading, because there is absolutely nothing in the congressional grants which limits promoters and financing costs prior to construction of a bridge. The limitation that is now made upon the value that the Secretary of War may place upon a bridge after its construction, even if a city, county or State may desire to buy it, no protection whatever is given by Congress to the purchaser of securities and in some instances the securities are beyond the reach of the State blue sky authority."

It has been shown that, where the actual cost of the so-called toll bridge in Florida was $2,100,000, bonds and other securities were issued against it to the amount of $4,900,000. The author of this statement is the Railroad Commission of Florida. It has been shown that Mr. Elliott was the security sales manager, profited by reason of the sale.

"Investigation Warranted." Congress will order an investigation of all toll bridge projects, the Chief of the Army Engineers and the Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Agriculture, we can get the facts. The suggestion does not appeal to have the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce make an investigation. The Bureau of Public Roads has tried to the bottom of some of the bridge projects but has been misled by information by the promoters. That fact in itself is sufficient to warrant an investigation. I am informed by Government officials that, in some cases, approaches to the private bridge project with Federal-aid roads. I understand that this is in violation of the law. Under any such scheme, the citizen was being asked a toll by an individual promoter in order to reach the toll highway.

Representative Denison of Illinois has introduced a bill dealing with the subject of bridges, but he finds in it any protection for investors in securities prior to building of the bridge. He practically all the State legislatures will convene. I sincerely hope that the States will see the wisdom of having their State highway departments erect bridges and place the balance in the sinking funds to the end that the States may finally be opened public free of tolls. Cochran has served notice on the Interstate and foreign commerce committee that he will block any bill unless it contains a unanimous consent passage of further bills proposing grant money.

DEMANDS INQUIRY ONTO WHOLE TOLL BRIDGE SITUATION

Congressman Cochran Calls for Legislation Against Inflation of Securities Issued.

WARNING OF NEW
"TRUST" IS GIVEN

Points Out That Securities Totaling $4,900,000 Were Issued Against Project Costing $2,100,000.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Representative John E. J. Cochran of Louisiana renewed his demand in House yesterday for adequate protection of investors
against the inflation of securities issued in connection with private bridge projects and called for an investigation of the whole toll bridge situation.

The House last month voted on his proposal that the Secretary of War be required to limit
the securities to the actual construction cost plus 10 per cent.
Since that time, Cochran told the House, he had received evidence warranting the statement that if Congress did not take protective action, the country would have to deal with "a toll bridge trust."

Cochran read into the record an article published by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, relating that E. M.
Elliott, a high-powered Chicago
promoter, has under way 33 bridge projects in various parts of the country, all of them backed by G. White and Company of New York.

Statement Is Misleading.
"Elliott made the statement,"
said Cochran, "that, in keeping with congressional grants, all protection and financing costs, including his compensation, are limited to 10 per cent. This statement is misleading, because there is absolutely nothing in the congressional grants which limits protection and financing costs prior to construction of a bridge. The limitation that is now made upon the value that the Secretary of War may place upon a bridge after its construction, in event that a city, county or state may desire to buy it.

Protection whatever is giving Congress to the purchasers
securities and in some instances, securities are beyond the control of the State blue sky authorities.

It has been shown that, where-ever the actual cost of the so-called toll bridge in Florida was $2,- 000,000, bonds and other securities issued against it to the amount of $4,900,000. The authority for this statement is the Railroad Commission of Florida. It has been shown that Mr. Elliott, who was the security sales manager, profited by reason of this act.

"Investigation Warranted."
Congress will order an investigation of all toll bridge projects
the Chief of the Army Engineers and the Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Agriculture, we can get the facts. If the suggestion does not appeal,
we will have the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce make an investigation. The Bureau of Public Roads has tried to get to the bottom of some of the bridge projects but has been informed by the program. That fact in itself is surprising to warrant an investigation.
I am informed by Government officials that, in some cases, applies to the private bridges which meet with Federal-aid roads. I understand that this is in violation of the law. Under any such circumstances, the citizen was being charged a toll by an individual or company in order to reach the toll highway.

Representative Denison of Illinois has introduced a bill dealing with the subject of bridges, but I do not find in it any protection to investor in securities prior to building of the bridge. Next practically all the State legislatures will convene. I sincerely trust that the States will see the importance of having their State highway departments erect bridges, sell bonds, create sinking funds and pay the operating expenses are placed the balance in the sinking fund to the end that the bonds may finally be opened to the public free of tolls."

Cochran has served notice on the Interstate and foreign commerce committee that he will block
any bill proposing grants
for toll bridges.

CONTINUED MILD WEATHER DECREASES OUTPUT OF COAL

Uncertainty of Wage Scale in Illinois Reacts Unfavorably on Production There.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 2.—Continued mild weather has reacted unfavorably on coal production in Illinois mines, the weekly report of the Bureau of Mines, United States Department of Commerce, indicates. For the week ending Feb. 24, production totaled 1,244,000 tons, a sharp decrease from the 1,393,000-ton production of the previous week.

While the week's figure is still considerably above that of the first three weeks in the new year, it still is far below normal. For the corresponding week in 1927, the production was 1,939,000 tons. Another factor, the uncertainty of the wage scale in Illinois, is said by mining experts here to be reacting unfavorably upon Illinois production.

Borne out by reports of the Federal Reserve districts of this section, consumption of coal has been at a low level all winter. This is due in part to the exceptionally mild winter, and in part to the apathy of industry in general. Seasonal industries have all reacted to the mild weather, with a consequent detrimental effect on coal consumption; and the sluggishness of the automobile trade has resulted in subnormal conditions in all allied industries, normally large coal users. The coal supply continues to run far in advance of the demand, despite the small production.

LORADO TAFT BUILDS STATUE FOR VILLAGE

Sculptor Designs Heroic Group to Be Erected in Illinois Town of 1200.

By the Associated Press.

ELMWOOD, Ill., March 2.—Elmwood is a rural community of 1200 persons, a crossroads in the prairie, but its public square soon will contain a heroic group in stone, fashioned by one of the noted sculptors of the times.

Lorado Taft of Chicago, the sculptor, was born in Elmwood, and when the little community determined to rear a lasting memorial to the hardy forebears of its present inhabitants it turned to him as the village's most illustrious son.

In his Chicago studio, Taft has completed a working model of the group—the figure of a sturdy young pioneer with his wife, a babe in her arms, at one side and his dog on the other.

Dedication services are set for May 27. The sculptor himself will return to his boyhood home for the unveiling, and Hamlin Garland, author, who is a brother-in-law of Taft and the son of pioneer parents, will deliver the dedicatory address. Large delegations from nearby towns plans to visit Elmwood on its big day.

The sculptor was born here in 1860, seven years before the incorporation of the town. He spent a part of his youth in the village, while his father, Prof. Don Carlos Taft, was a teacher in the public schools. The elder Taft later became professor of theology at the University of Illinois.

AUTO SUPPLY EXPORTS GAIN

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Automobile products exported from the United States in January set a new seasonal high record. The total was reported by the Commerce Department today as $32,376,127, nearly 7 per cent above such exports in January, 1927, and 20 per cent above the figure for January, 1925.

The motorization of the world now is resulting in installations abroad of gasoline filling stations on an ever-increasing scale. Among January exports were $156 gasoline and oil filling station pumps, worth $151,136.

NEW PROGRESSIVE LEGION INDORSES NORRIS AND NAGEL

Organization Formed at Meeting of 50 St. Louisans Enters Political Campaign.

The Progressive Legion, which will support for office candidates with progressive views, was organized last night at a meeting of 50 men and women at 3535 Pine boulevard. Senator Norris of Nebraska was endorsed for the nomination for the presidency and Charles Nagel of St. Louis for the vice presidency.

The group, of which Sheridan Carlisle, a lawyer, is chairman, adopted resolutions favoring public ownership of public utilities and the national banking system, single tax, flood control at the cost of the Federal Government, the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, the Norris amendment for abolition of the "lame duck" session of Congress, abolition of the electoral college, reduction of the tariff and freight rates, and the use of the unemployed on public works.

WOMAN PLEADS GUILTY OF AIDING IN MURDER OF GIRL, 3

Is Given Life Sentence; Agrees to Help Prosecute the Child's Father.

VANCEBURG, Ky., March 2.—Mrs. Marie Frazier, 32 years old, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of murder in connection with the death of 3-year-old Mary Magdalen Pitts and accepted a life sentence after agreeing to help prosecute Robert H. Pitts, the child's father.

Mrs. Frazier, who was accused jointly with Pitts in the death of the child, made the plea against advice of her counsel. Her mother begged her to plead guilty in order to make sure she would not go to the electric chair.

The plea was made in the presence of the judge only, all witnesses, court attaches and reporters having been sent from the room.

Is College Life Flaming?

UNFORBIDDEN FRUIT

"Nothing is forbidden that you can get away with." That is the code of the group of romance-hungry girls and their boy friends whom you meet in UNFORBIDDEN FRUIT—the vivid new novel of life in a girls' college by the man who created such a furor with his novel FLAMING YOUTH. Owing to public demand, the entire first installment is reprinted with the second installment in April SMART SET.

WHEN NATURE SAYS MARRY

"When Nature Says 'Marry,' and wisdom says 'Wait,' what," asks RUPERT HUGHES in April SMART SET. "can a boy and girl do?" Nature prepares boys and girls for marriage from eight to ten years earlier than legal and economic conditions permit them to marry. What is the remedy for this tragedy of young love?

GIRLS GENTLEMEN DON'T PREFER

Anita Loos, author of 'Gentlemen Prefer Blondes,' ought to be, and is, an authority on the preferences of gentlemen. If you want to know the kind of girls nine out of ten gentlemen don't prefer, read what she told Dorothy Holm in April SMART SET. Blonde or brunette, it will probably give you quite a jolt.

GYPSY MATES

He had to decide between a girl of wealth, beauty and refinement and a girl he found crying on a park bench. Which did this gentleman prefer? Read this delightful story—in April SMART SET.

REBEL ROMANCE

The self-told revelations of a Spanish beauty caught in a whirlpool of revolution and a stranger whirlpool of love, adventure and intrigue. The amazing story of Señora Laurita Valdez, General Felix Mora and Captain Dan Ryder, American soldier of fortune, told in a rushing, dashing, smashing romance of tropic love and adventure, beginning in April SMART SET.

DOES IT PAY TO BE GOOD?

Is there anything to the pseudo-scientific talk you hear that every girl has a right to her fling? That she should throw restraint to the winds and make no effort to repress her emotions? What does science actually say? Learn the truth from Dr. Louis E. Bisch, in April SMART SET.

MUSHROOMS USED FOR FOOD FOR HUNDREDS OF YEARS

Canned or Fresh, They Are Becoming a Popular Article in Our Diet.

Mushrooms are becoming an increasingly popular article in our American diet, according to one estimate, last year's crop in the United States was more than 10,000 tons. That means, of course, the cultivated mushrooms raised for market. It is perfectly safe to eat mushrooms that are commercially grown or to use the domestic or imported canned mushrooms, for they are all grown under careful supervision.

In many cases, the canned mushrooms have the advantage over the fresh in that they are canned very quickly after picking and retain their full flavor.

Canned mushrooms are ready to use as they come from the can with simply reheating. Fresh mushrooms should not be cooked too long, as an excess of heat toughens them. For omelets or to serve on toast or broiled, from eight to ten minutes' cooking will be found sufficient.

A Charming Hostess.

Almost any woman can be a charming hostess, given a day in advance to study her role. But the real hostess is the one who can prepare an attractive luncheon or dinner in a jiffy and make the unexpected guest, whom the husband has a habit of bringing along, feel as if he were expected.

THESE MOCHA CREAM PUFFS MAKE A DELICIOUS DESSERT

Though Rather a Rich Sweetmeat, They Are Intriguing for a Company Luncheon.

Prepare a filling as follows: One-half cup strong coffee, one-half cup confectioners' sugar, three eggs, one-quarter cup milk. Melt the chocolate in a double boiler and add the milk and sugar. Beat the egg and stir slowly into the chocolate. Cook until the mixture is like thick cream. Prepare the shells for the puffs as follows: One-half cup butter, three eggs, one cup flour, one cup water, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon vanilla extract. Place the butter and water in an agate saucepan and let come to a boil. Add the salt and the flour being careful to stir for one or two minutes. Take from the fire and add the lightly beaten eggs and the vanilla. Drop by tablespoons on greased paper which has been spread on a baking sheet. Shape as nearly circular as possible, taking care to have the middle higher than the sides. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. When cool split and fill in the middle, filling, replacing the top of the puffs.

Add Beautifying Touches. It is very little trouble to add touches that beautify. If cheese is to be used, grate the cheese, sprinkle a little paprika on top, and almost any cheese dish is made appetizing.

THE POSSIBILITIES OF A CAN OF CORN

An Endless Number of Savory Dishes Are Held Within Its Confining.

Time was when even housewives delighted in canned corn as it came from the can and heated.

But that dark age has passed away for the modern cook can find varied ways that the fresh corn is served, scalloped, creamed, puddings, in soups and in casseroles and in patties with delicious fried young chicken.

The following recipes will found to make excellent dishes from canned corn.

For corn soufflé take three cups of canned corn, two spoons butter, four tablespoons flour, two cups milk, one-half spoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one cup grated cheese and one and one-half tablespoons green pepper or pimiento, fine.

Melt butter, add flour, salt, paprika; mix well. Add milk and cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, stir in cheese. When smooth add egg yolks well beaten and chopped pepper. Beat whites of eggs, fold into mixture and bake in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven for 45 to 50 minutes until firm.

Have you tried a corn soufflé for your evening meal? Rub thin a medium-sized onion

and cook slowly for three minutes

in a little water. Potatoes are then added to the water, potatoes are boiled for 10 minutes or until the potatoes are soft.

Two pounds lamb shoulder chops

one-half cup diced carrots, one small onion, cut fine, one-half cup minced mushrooms, one pimiento, two tablespoons fat, salt to season.

Melt the fat. Sprinkle the chops with flour and a little salt. Brown

the chops in the hot fat. Add the vegetables and enough boiling water to half cover the meat.

Simmer for 35 to 40 minutes, or until the meat is tender. Thicken

the gravy with a little flour or cornstarch. The mushrooms and potatoes may be omitted or an combination of vegetables used in place of the carrots and celery.

Macaroni With Olive Sauce.

One-half pound macaroni, three tablespoons butter or shortening

one cup canned tomatoes, one-quarter cup diced onion, one-quarter cup diced celery, one-third

cup stuffed olives.

Boil the macaroni until tender

and rinse with cold water.

Chicken fricasse is used in the Monday dinner, and boiled rice in stead of potatoes served as a starchy vegetable. In cooking the boiling water is necessary if the grains are to be kept whole and dry. Use at least two quart

more water during the cooking

whenever it seems necessary. Rice

must be rinsed with boiling water

when it is cooked.

Pecan Nut Cakes.

One-quarter cup butter or shortening, one cup light brown sugar,

two eggs, two-thirds cup milk, one cup chopped pecan nuts, one an-inch-third cups pastry flour, two tablespoons baking powder, one quarter teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cinnamon.

Cream the butter and sugar together until well blended. Add the eggs and beat until smooth. Stir in the milk. Sift the flour, salt, baking powder and cinnamon an-

d. Stir in the nuts last. Pour the mixture into a greased, small cake tin—fill them two-thirds full.

Bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—for about 15 minutes or until brown. Cool and cover with orange or caramelized icing.

Potato Soup.

Two cups diced raw potato, one quarter cup chopped onion, three tablespoons butter or two tablespoons bacon fat, one tablespoon minced parsley, one quart water,

three tablespoons flour, two tablespoons salt, one quart milk.

Melt the butter, add the onion

An Endless Number of Savory Dishes Are Held Within Its Confines.

Time was when even clever housewives delighted in serving canned corn as it came from the can and heated.

But that dark age has passed away for the modern cook serves canned corn in all the many and varied ways that the fresh article is served, escalloped, creamed, in puddings, in souffles and in omelets and in patties with delicious fried young chicken.

The following recipes will be found to make excellent and tasty dishes from canned corn.

For corn soufflé take three eggs, one cup canned corn, two tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, two cups milk, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one cup grated cheese and one and one-half tablespoons green pepper or pimentoes cut fine.

Melt butter, add flour, salt, paprika; mix well. Add milk slowly, cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, stir in cheese. When melted, add egg yolks well beaten, corn and chopped pepper. Beat whites of eggs, fold into mixture. Put into well-greased baking dish. Bake in a pan of hot water in moderate oven for 45 to 50 minutes until firm.

Have you tried a corn chowder for your evening meal? Slice very thin a medium-sized onion and brown it in some butter. Add two cupfuls of boiling water and continue to cook slowly for 10 minutes. Parboil one quart of diced potatoes for 10 minutes, drain them and add to the onion. Add a quart of canned corn and cook until the potatoes are soft. Add two cupfuls of milk, one-fourth cupful of shortening, minus the quantity first used for browning the onion, and half a tablespoonful of salt, an eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika. Serve very hot, garnished with minced parsley or popcorn.

Baked Corn and Potatoes. Ten medium-sized potatoes, one small onion, one-half cup butter, one cup milk, salt and pepper. Potatoes and cut onion fine. Put potatoes, onion, butter and seasoning in kettle. Add very little water so potatoes will not be too watery. Cook until potatoes are done, but do not break them apart. Do not drain potatoes, but mix well with corn. Put in buttered baking dish and bake one-half hour.

To make corn custard put a can of canned corn through the masher, add four egg yolks (beaten), one and one-half cupfuls of hot milk, a teaspoonful of grated onion, salt, pepper, and a bit of sugar to taste; a tablespoonful more of minced pimento; and the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Pour into a well buttered baking dish, place the dish in pan of hot water, and bake slowly until set.

For escalloped corn put a layer of canned corn in bottom of baking dish. Then a generous sprinkling of grated cheese, dot with butter, season with pepper and salt. Lay a layer of cracker crumbs, repeat again and last pour over milk. Bake about 40 minutes.

RECIPES FOR DISHES

IN WEEK'S MENUS

They Will Help Supply an Ample and Well-Balanced Diet.

Chicken fricassee is used in the Monday dinner, and boiled rice instead of potatoes served as a starchy vegetable. In cooking the chicken remember that a large amount of boiling water is necessary if the rice grains are to be kept whole and dry. Use at least two quarts of water for a cup of rice and add very water during the cooking whenever it seems necessary. Rice should be rinsed with boiling water when it is cooked.

Pecan Nut Cakes.

One-quarter cup butter or shortening, one cup light brown sugar, two eggs, two-thirds cup milk, one cup chopped pecan nuts, one and one-third cups pastry flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cinnamon.

Cream the butter and sugar together until well blended. Add the eggs and beat until smooth. Stir in the milk. Sift the flour, salt, baking powder and cinnamon and mix in the nuts last. Pour into greased, small cake tins—fill them two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven—400 degrees—for about 10 minutes or until brown. Cool and cover with orange or caramel glaze.

Potato Soup. Two cups diced raw potato, one-half cup chopped onion, three tablespoons butter or two tablespoons bacon fat, one tablespoon minced parsley, one quart water, three tablespoons flour, two teaspoons salt, one quart milk.

Melt the butter, add the onion and cook slowly for three minutes. Then add the water, potatoes and salt. Cover and boil slowly for one-half hour. Rub the whole mixture through a strainer, add the parsley, milk, and the flour mixed to a paste with a little cold milk or water. Reheat to the boiling point and boil for a minute or two. Serve with croutons or toast.

Lamb Chops En Casserole. Two pounds lamb shoulder chops, one-half cup diced carrots, one-half cup diced celery, one small onion, cut fine, one-half cup sliced mushrooms, one pimento, two tablespoons fat, salt to season.

Melt the fat. Sprinkle the chops with flour and a little salt. Brown the chops in the hot fat and transfer to a casserole dish. Add the vegetables and enough boiling water to half cover the meat. Cover the casserole and bake in moderate oven—350 degrees—for about one hour and 15 minutes, or until the meat is tender. Thicken the gravy with a little flour or starch. The mushrooms and onion may be omitted or substituted with other vegetables used in the preparation of the carrots and celery.

Macaroni With Olive Sauce. One-half pound macaroni, three tablespoons butter or shortening, one cup canned tomatoes, one-half cup diced onion, one-quarter cup diced celery, one-third cup bread stuffed olives.

Boil the macaroni until tender. Drain and rinse with cold water. Melt the butter, add the onion and celery and cook slowly for five minutes. Add the tomatoes and season to taste with salt and pepper. Reheat to the boiling point and simmer for 10 minutes. Thicken with a tablespoonful of flour and add the olives. Pour the sauce over the macaroni and let stand on the back of the stove or over a very low flame for five minutes to thoroughly heat the macaroni, and allow the sauce to simmer.

SIRLOIN STEAK SUGGESTIONS

How to Use Every Particle of This Popular Cut of Beef.

When buying steak—sirloin especially, the long end should be chopped. It may be made into a cake that can be rolled and skewered to the lower part of the steak or the end of the steak may be ground through the meat chopper and can then be used in the making of American chop suey, casserole of rice with chopped meat, some of the stuffed pepper or tomato mixtures, etc. This end is usually rather tough and when chopped and served in this way it can be utilized to the best advantage.

Garnish With Parsley. Parsley makes the meals more attractive. That is why it is a good plan to keep a bunch of parsley in a glass of water in the ice box. Keeping the stems in water just like cut flowers is the newest "best method" of keeping the parsley fresh.

Dear bewildered Madam:

There are so many biscuits and queer biscuit names! How in the world is a person going to remember the names of the biscuits she wants?

Fortunately, you don't have to.

Long ago we gave our many different kinds of biscuits one family name. We call them Sunshine because they're full of it... born in it... baked in it.

You only have to remember the name Sunshine. It is the password, at your grocer's, to fine, plump Soda Crackers, luscious Fig Bars, oven-crisp Graham Crackers and many other fine biscuits.

Celery and Oyster en Casseroles

1 1/2 cups celery
1 1/2 cups oysters
Salt, pepper, mace
butter
1/2 cup cream

Cut celery in half-inch pieces and cook in a small amount of boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Cover a greased casserole with crumbs, add layers of celery and oysters, sprinkle the latter with salt, pepper and dash of mace and dot liberally with butter. Repeat until the dish is full, having the crumbs at the bottom. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) until a golden brown. (about thirty minutes.)

Lenten Salmon
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup thin white sauce
egg yolk
2 cups, chopped parsley
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1 egg
1/2 cup bread crumbs

Line a casserole with well-cooked and seasoned rice. Add egg yolk, parsley and cheese to white sauce. Pour part of sauce over the rice, pile salmon in the center. Add remaining sauce, sprinkle over with bread crumbs. Bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven (375° F.). Garnish with slices of lemon. Serves six.

Eggs in Mushroom Sauce
1/2 lb. mushrooms
4 cups butter or margarine
2 eggs, flour
1/2 lb. salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
2 cups, chopped parsley
1/2 cup milk
6 hard-cooked eggs
bread crumbs

Peel and slice mushrooms. Sauté in butter or shortening until slightly browned. Add flour, salt, paprika, parsley and milk and cook until thick, stirring constantly to insure a smooth consistency. Sprinkle top with crumbs and dot with bits of butter. Bake in pan of warm water in a moderate oven (350° F.) until brown on top. Serves six.

Advice on Plate Diners. In designing vegetable dinners, one way in which to achieve the very necessary variety and palatableness is to serve potato, which should appear in practically every vegetable dinner, in the form of a cream of potato soup. When this is done it is not necessary to have it appear in the vegetable plate itself. The practice of serving potato in the form of soup insures for the meal the several agents to be found in the potato—alkaline ash of these.

Peas for canning are not cleaned by a sort of winnowing machine after their removal from the pods, but they are also thoroughly washed by strong sprays at two or three stages in the cleaning process. To insure thorough cleaning, the peas are also passed along traveling belts where they are carefully inspected and all foreign material and defective peas are removed by women inspectors.

Tomatoes, delivered at the cannery in crates or baskets, are inspected as they go into the bins and any bad fruit is removed. The use of water sprays at three cleaning is effected. This cleaning process is supplemented by scalding with live steam to kill the tomatoes are subjected to immediately after washing. The tomatoes are trimmed and defective spots removed by the women inspectors.

In fish canning, sardines, for example, are conveyed from boats to the brining tanks in the cannery by troughs or slides provided with running water, thoroughly washes the fish of the least possible injury to the larger fish like tuna and salmon are cleaned and trimmed by women inspectors before being packed.

In fruit canning, the fruit is sorted to eliminate unseasoned material and it is then washed, peeled and trimmed. The exact type of equipment used varies with the kind of fruit.

These illustrations do not indicate the importance attached to cleanliness in the canning industry. Canners are realizing more and more that it pays them to keep their plants clean and packed foods, not merely because it is good for the customer, but because bacteria, molds, etc., are the cause of enemies and to keep them out, canners must maintain a clean factory and use only clean, sound materials.

WELL KNOWN FACTS ABOUT CANNED FOODS

Both Flavor and Tenderness Are Presented in Standard Canned Goods.

An interesting book written on the subject of machinery devised for cleaning only the raw products before they are canned. This is the age of package food and the public has been impressed with the idea, by advertising otherwise, that with foods of class are associated cleanliness, wholesomeness, and purity. Under the stimulus of these and State food and many other there has been marked progress in this respect in recent years. All food establishments.

Practically every product goes through the three processes of sorting, cleaning and trimming. While ample steam and adequate water supply are available for other processes in canning, one of their most important places is for washing products and cleaning the machinery and equipment. The varieties of materials for food canning today call for new machinery, not the long machines required to clean raw products before canning. Tin containers used for canning are carried by mechanical conveyors to point in the factory where they are filled. The cleaning of the cans is usually done at some point where the conveyor is passing the cans over jets of steam and water.

In corn canning, for instance, after the corn is husked by machinery, it is inspected and defective ears are sorted out and discarded. The corn then is thoroughly washed by passing through a revolving wire cylinder, called "squirrel cage" washer, which is provided with strong rotating brushes. Sometimes the corn passes through a series of rotating brushes and water sprays which are particularly effective in removing silk.

Peas for canning are not cleaned by a sort of winnowing machine after their removal from the pods, but they are also thoroughly washed by strong sprays at two or three stages in the cleaning process. To insure thorough cleaning, the peas are also passed along traveling belts where they are carefully inspected and all foreign material and defective peas are removed by women inspectors.

Vegetables should be an important part of every meal, at least a part of your family's diet. You are not neglecting your duty by your family's diet unless they are supplied with vegetables. The commercial canners make life much easier for housewives. They are supplying many delicious dishes which are available only at the expense of much effort.

For instance, the finest varieties of beets are put up. A superb brand of peas is preserved in the same manner. This is true, too, of spinach, tomatoes and corn.

In the may be found all the vegetables I have mentioned, as well as beans, asparagus, carrots, cabbage and kraut. Every conceivable fruit is to be had, canned and fresh.

Good health demands proper eating. When I say "proper eating" I do not refer alone to nourishing qualities of the vegetables. I have in mind the physical effects.

For one reason vegetables should be in everybody's diet. The numerous vitamins are found in them. Just how they perform their necessary function we do not know. But we do know that certain "deficiency diseases" develop if the vitamins are excluded from the diet.

Good teeth, bones, firm muscles and strong bodies demand them. It is a great mistake to imagine that the insinuations of the apple will warn you what to eat. I hope primitive man could trust his instincts, but my judgment is that his meals were so few and apart that he ate what he could get. His one worry was to eat enough.

But when it comes to civilization he should be ruled by his intelligence. An informed person has no excuse for eating the wrong food.

TRY STUFFED TOMATOES

They Will Serve Nicely for Main Dish at Luncheon or Supper.

An unusual variation of the popular stuffed tomato is offered in this recipe for stuffed tomatoes.

The stuffing is made by mixing one cup soft bread crumbs, the fourth cup chopped left-over meat, one-fourth cup melted butter, one-half teaspoon finely chopped parsley, one-fourth cup chopped mushrooms, half teaspoon salt, one-half spoon paprika and one teaspoon juice. Mix ingredients together.

Remove centers from tomatoes that have been canned with salt and pepper. Fill with stuffing. Sprinkle with bread crumb crumbs and bake in oven until crumbs are browned.

SPINACH SOUP EXCELLENT

This Vegetable Should Be Served at Every Meal.

Children need spinach as much as possible and they should have two valuable foods in a spinach soup, which contributes to their health. Directions for making are given by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Take one quart milk, two spoons butter, two tablespoons flour and one cup ground spinach.

Place the milk in a double boiler with the salt. Wash the spinach, chop or grind it and ground place a bowl to catch liquid which runs from the spinach. Add to the spinach. Mix the and butter until well blended. Add to the milk with the spinach until thickened and each is cooked.

WELL KNOWN FACTS ABOUT CANNED FOODS

Both Flavor and Tenderness Are Presented in Standard Canned Goods.

An interesting book might be written on the subject of special machinery devised for cleaning not only the raw products but the equipment used in canning foods. This is the age of package foods and the public has been impressed with the idea, by advertising and otherwise, that with foods of this class are associated cleanliness, purity, wholesomeness, and quality. Under the stimulus of Federal and State food and sanitary laws, there has been marked progress in this respect in recent years in all food establishments.

Practically every product canned goes through the three processes of sorting, cleaning and trimming. While ample steam and an adequate water supply are indispensable for other processes in canning foods, one of their most important places is for washing raw products and cleaning the plant and equipment. The increasing varieties of materials for foods being canned today calls for much new machinery, not the least important of which are the machines required to clean cans and raw products before canning.

Tin containers used in canning are carried by mechanical or gravity conveyors to point in the canner where they are filled, and the cleaning of the cans is generally done at some point along the conveyor by passing the cans over jets of steam and water.

In corn canning, for instance, after the corn is husked by machinery, it is inspected and defective ears are sorted out or trimmed. The corn then is thoroughly washed by passing through a revolving wire cylinder called a "squirrel cage" washer, which is provided with strong sprays of water. Sometimes the corn also passes through a series of revolving brushes and water sprays, which are particularly effective in removing silk.

Peas for canning are not only cleaned by a sort of winnowing machine after their removal from the pods, but they are also thoroughly washed by strong sprays at two or three stages in the canning process. To insure thorough cleaning, the peas are also passed along traveling belts where they are carefully inspected and all foreign material and defective peas are removed by women inspectors.

Tomatoes, delivered at the cannery in crates or baskets, are inspected as they go into the washer and any bad fruit is removed. By the use of water sprays a thorough cleaning is effected. This cleaning process is supplemented by the scalding with live steam to which the tomatoes are subjected immediately after washing. The tomatoes are trimmed and defective spots removed by the women who do the peeling.

In fish canning, sardines, for example, are conveyed from the boats to the brining tanks in the cannery by troughs or sluices provided with running water, which thoroughly washes the fish with the least possible injury to them. Larger fish like tuna and salmon are cleaned and trimmed by hand and are then thoroughly scoured under running water before they are prepared for the cans.

In fruit canning, the fruit is sorted to eliminate unsound material and it is then graded, washed, peeled and trimmed. The exact type of equipment used varies with the kind of fruit.

These illustrations do not cover all canned food products, but indicate the importance attached to cleanliness in the canning industry. Canners are realizing more and more that it pays them to keep their plants clean and pack clean foods, not merely because they have to, or because it is good advertising, but because bacteria, molds, etc., are the canner's chief enemies and to keep them down canners must maintain a clean factory and use only clean, sound raw materials.

Vegetables Are Essential For Repairing the Body

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Former Health Commissioner of New York City.
United States Senator From New York.

Vegetables should be an important part of every meal, at least of lunch and dinner. You are not doing your duty by your family and yourself unless they are supplied.

The commercial canners are making life much easier for the housewife. They are supplying many delicious dishes which used to be available only at the expense of much effort.

For instance, the finest varieties of beans are put up. A superior brand of peas is preserved in the same manner. This is true, too, of spinach, tomatoes and corn.

In this may be found all the vegetables I have mentioned, as well as beans, asparagus, carrots, cabbage and kraut. Every conceivable variety of vegetables is available.

Good health demands proper eating. When I say "proper eating" I do not refer alone to the nourishing qualities of the vegetables. I have in mind the physical effects.

For one reason vegetables should be in everybody's diet. The mysterious vitamins are found in the nourishing qualities of the vegetables. Just how they perform their necessary function we do not know.

But we do know that certain "deficiency diseases" develop if the vitamins are excluded from the diet. "Good teeth, bones, firm tissues and strong bodies demand an unending supply of minerals. Lime, iron, phosphorus, sulphur and all the other chemicals are essential to the repair and growth of the body. The vegetables supply these.

It is a great mistake to imagine that the instincts of the appetite will warn you what to eat. Perhaps primitive man could trust to his instincts, but my judgment is that his meals were so few and far apart that he ate what he could get. His life was worry to get enough.

But when it comes to civilized man, he should be ruled by his intelligence, assuming that he has intelligence. An informed person has no excuse for eating the wrong things. But since it takes a lot of character to go against appetite, many a body is robbed of its rightful elements.

Old Dutch protects homes with

Healthful Cleanliness

Old Dutch is a natural cleanser. Everywhere you use it, things are made bright, clean and hygienic. It is the safest, surest way to safeguard your home with Healthful Cleanliness.

Old Dutch is remarkably efficient. Its particles are flaky, and flat-shaped. Nature gave to these particles distinctive detergent qualities. In cleaning they remove all the dirt, invisible as well as visible. None is left behind.

Old Dutch is safe for all cleaning because it does not scratch. Scratches mar smooth surfaces and form catch-alls for dirt.

Millions of housewives have found Old Dutch the ideal cleanser for modern household cleaning. Quick, Safe, Effective, Economical.

Use Old Dutch. A little does a lot of work, and does it well.

Old Dutch homes are Healthful Homes

This test proves the safety of Old Dutch. Put a little between two pieces of glass, rub them together like this. You won't feel or hear the scratching of hard, gritty particles. Old Dutch removes the dirt, not the surface.

Old Dutch is safe. This drawing of a highly magnified Old Dutch particle shows how they work. A clean sweep without marring the surface. Old Dutch removes the dirt, not the surface.

Avoid gritty material. This drawing of a highly magnified gritty particle shows how grit scratches the surface. Scratches are catch-alls for dirt and impurities.

"I'll Provide for them"

To provide for a wife and family is the sacred trust every man should endeavor to discharge. Not to own a home is to carry a needless rent burden all through life.

The Post-Dispatch Real Estate Columns afford valuable assistance to those who seek to own a home and to those who can help in any way toward making this desire to accomplish.

To Freshen Crackers. When crackers are purchased, if they are not perfectly crisp, put them in a warm oven for about 20 minutes. Do not have the oven hot enough to give them more than a cover.

very slight browning. The sojourn in the oven will restore their crispness and freshness in a miraculous sort of way. Let them cool and then put them immediately into a tin can with a tight-fitting cover.

For Camping Parties. Canned tamales and canned chili con carne are especially good to take on hikes and camping parties as they are ready to serve when reheated.

This flour is guaranteed

to always give perfect baking results

Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Flour is guaranteed by the largest millers in the world to give uniformly perfect results with every kind of baking.

The reason this guarantee can be given is simply this: Every batch of Gold Medal Flour is actually "kitchen-tested" before it leaves the mill. It is tested for pies, cakes, pastries, biscuits, bread—everything! That is why it cuts baking failures in half.

And that is why over two million women use it in preference to all other brands.

Buy a sack of this light, snow-white flour today. Try it for all baking.

If you are not delighted with the results—return the unused portion of the sack to your grocer and he will refund your money.

New Shopping Guide Welcomed By Critical Women Of This City

Special Values And Highest Quality In Canned Foods Now Announced By Grocers In This Striking New Way

CRITICAL women everywhere are talking about it—this new mark of distinction. The big "Q" is a novel shopping guide that has already awakened widespread interest.

For this month, the country over, the American woman's demand for finest quality in all she buys is being met by special offerings in Quality Canned Foods. That is what grocers are announcing when they put the big "Q" in their windows.

To the American woman's desire for unusual Quality, Libby's Foods owe their widespread success. Over 50 model kitchens have been built by Libby in the garden spots of the world so that each food may be packed the very day it reaches full perfection.

Peaches, flawless and juicy, the finest of the California crop—luscious Bartlett Pears in honey-sweet syrup—Asparagus, so tender and succulent it fairly melts in your mouth—Hawaiian Pineapple, taken from the field at the moment of perfect ripeness and full, matchless flavor—these are only a few of the choice foods that Libby packs.

For the Libby line includes more than 100 Foods! Among them, Alaska Salmon, Evaporated Milk, Pickles, Olives, and Condiments, many varieties of fruits, Corned Beef and other meats. And always the name "Libby" offers you the certainty of Quality and fine flavor.

Don't miss this chance to stock your pantry—ask for Libby's Foods where you see the big "Q".

CANNED ASPARAGUS A DELICATE FOOD

Menu Suggestions Which Show the Versatility of the Article.

Asparagus out of a can as tender, tasty and delicate as green asparagus fresh from the garden. Hardly seems possible, does it? Yet it is true as every housewife realizes when she opens a can of this popular vegetable.

Long famous as a delicacy, this aristocrat of vegetables offers an opportunity to lift everyday meals above the commonplace, and to add a new zest to any meals with a surprising degree of economy.

The recipes contained herein have been carefully selected and tested by a nationally known authority on home cooking. They may be relied upon for accuracy, and are sure to please the most critical appetites.

Asparagus Cream Soup. Drain one large can asparagus. Remove tips. Put the remainder of asparagus in liquid drained from can and cook until tender. Rub through a strainer, but do not discard liquid. Melt two tablespoons butter or substitute, add one tablespoon flour, mix well, cook until frothy, then add two cups of milk; cook until creamy. Add asparagus pulp and liquid, one spoon salt, and asparagus. Heat thoroughly. A teaspoon of whipped cream may be added each service.

Creamed Asparagus. Drain canned asparagus, remove tips, then turn into a saucepan and heat, using the liquid. Melt two tablespoons butter, add two tablespoons flour; mix and smooth, then cook until frothy. Add one cup milk or thin cream and cook until creamy. Add one-half teaspoon salt and pour over the hot drained asparagus. Creamed asparagus may be served plain or on toast.

Cut Stale Bread into two halves and then cut with round cutter. Remove centers and fry crust in deep fat until brown. Fry on brown paper or dry in oven as for croutons.

For the cream sauce: two tablespoons butter or other oil, one cup top milk, one one-half tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and a few sprigs of parsley.

Cream butter and flour; milk gradually and stir until dissolved. Cook until thickened; add seasonings. Place browned croutons in center of plate, pour sauce over, garnish with sprigs of parsley.

Asparagus With Cheese. One can asparagus tips, one shredded cheese, two cups of sauce, one cup buttered croutons.

Make the sauce, add the croutons, and then add the asparagus. Cook until thickened; add seasonings. Place browned croutons in center of plate, pour sauce over, garnish with sprigs of parsley.

Popular Canned Foods. Almost any number of canned food varieties lend themselves to their preparation. For example, there are such products as asparagus, lima beans, string beans, corn, peas, green chili peppers, hominy, pumpkin, kraut, spinach, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, apples, apricots, cherries, grapes, pears, pineapples, prunes and plums, may be found in good stores under the well-known reliable brand.

paragus pulp and liquid, one teaspoon salt, and asparagus tips. Heat thoroughly. A teaspoon of whipped cream may be added to each service.

Creamed Asparagus.
Drain canned asparagus, reserve liquid. Cut asparagus into one-inch pieces, then turn into a saucepan and heat, using the liquid. Melt two tablespoons butter, add two tablespoons flour; mix until smooth, then cook until frothy. Add one cup milk or thin cream and cook until creamy. Add one-half teaspoon salt and pour over the hot drained asparagus. Creamed asparagus may be served plain or on toast.

Eggs in Asparagus.
Cut stale bread into two-inch slices and then cut with round cutter. Remove centers and fry the crust in deep fat until brown. Drain on brown paper or dry in even as for croutons.

For the cream sauce use two tablespoons butter or other shortening, one cup top milk, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and a few sprigs of parsley.

Cream butter and flour: add milk gradually and stir until blended. Cook until thickened; add seasonings. Place browned crust on plate, fill center with asparagus tips which have been heated and seasoned, having tips toward top. In center put one hard-cooked egg, cut in quarters. Cover with sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese and garnish with sprigs of parsley.

Asparagus With Cheese.
One can asparagus tips, one cup shredded cheese, two cups white sauce, one cup buttered crumbs, paprika.

Make the sauce, add the cheese, shredded finely or pressed through a coarse strainer and stir until it is dissolved. The cooked asparagus in a buttered baking dish, pour the sauce over it, cover with buttered crumbs, sprinkle with paprika and bake in a hot oven until the crumbs are brown.

Popular Canned Foods.
Almost any number of canned food varieties lend themselves further preparation. For example, there are such products as asparagus, lima beans, string beans, carrots, corn, peas, green chili peppers, hominy, pumpkin, sauerkraut, spinach, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, apples, apricots, berries, cherries, grapes, pears, peaches, pineapples, prunes and plums. All may be found in good stores under the well-known label brands.

WINE VEGETABLES AND SALAD GREENS

Salads Which Are Suitable for Dinner, Supper or Luncheon.

When the first warm days of spring come, our appetites naturally turn to green salads, juicy fruits and leafy vegetables.

That is nature's way of telling us that we need to adjust our diet to the change in the season.

Happily for every housewife, the present problem of supplying vegetables for the table is easily solved. It is not at all necessary to depend upon the early shipped-in articles, which are usually too costly to be used in plentiful amounts. Equally healthful and delicious varieties may be obtained from the canned article under well-known, reliable brands.

While every housewife has salad recipes the following ones for salads made out of canned vegetables will probably suggest new ideas.

Spinach Salad.
Mould cold cooked spinach in demi tasse cups. Turn out on lettuce.

Asparagus With Cheese.
One can asparagus tips, one cup shredded cheese, two cups white sauce, one cup buttered crumbs, paprika.

Make the sauce, add the cheese, shredded finely or pressed through a coarse strainer and stir until it is dissolved. The cooked asparagus in a buttered baking dish, pour the sauce over it, cover with buttered crumbs, sprinkle with paprika and bake in a hot oven until the crumbs are brown.

Popular Canned Foods.

USE GOLDEN ORANGES IN COOKED DISHES

Modern Cooks Have Extended the Use of This Popular Winter Fruit.

Dishes flavored or combined with oranges are appearing in new menus with the result that cookery experts are thinking up new dishes containing oranges or flavored with the delicious fruit. The housewife who tries these recipes for dishes of this type will be amply repaid for her trouble.

Orange Puddings.
Take one cup sugar, six eggs, juice and rind of one orange and one-fourth pound of almonds.

Cream the sugar and yolks of eggs together; add the almonds, chopped fine; orange-juice and grated rind, and the whites of eggs, beaten stiff. Bake in a moderate oven (300 degrees F.) about 30 minutes, until firm. Cool in the baking-dish and cover with icing or a meringue and garnish with sliced oranges.

Orange Sponge.
Take three oranges, juice and pulp, one-fourth cup white sugar, one-half lemon, juice and pulp and two and one-half pints of cold water.

Strain. Mix three tablespoons corn-starch in a little cold water; stir into the liquid and let boil 10 or 15 minutes. Set aside to cool. Beat whites of three eggs and whip into the sponge with a Dover eggbeater, when it is ready to serve.

Orange Shortcake.
Make baking powder biscuit dough. Roll into a sheet about three-quarters of an inch thick and bake in a quick oven. Split carefully. Spread with butter and then with sliced and sweetened oranges. Put together and spread another layer of oranges on top of cake. Sprinkle top with sifted powdered sugar. Serve with whipped cream.

Orangeade.
To two quarts of water add the rind of one lemon and one orange and boil gently for five minutes. Remove the rind and add one cup loaf sugar and stir until dissolved. Cool the syrup and add the juice of six oranges and two lemons and a pinch of salt. Serve in tall glasses with cracked ice.

Orange Biscuits.
Dip lumps of sugar one by one in pure orange juice and press a lump down into each biscuit before it is baked. Grate orange rind over the top of biscuit and bake in a hot oven.

Orange Sponge Sandwiches.
Take four eggs, one-half cup powdered sugar, three-fourths cups pastry flour, one-fourth teaspoon baking powder and one-half teaspoon vanilla.

Beat eggs until light, thick and lemon-colored. Add powdered sugar gradually, beating constantly. Sift flour with baking powder and cut and fold into first mixture. Add vanilla. Drop from teaspoon onto cookie sheet; bake in a moderately hot oven 20 minutes. Place two flat sides together.

Spread this orange filling between. Take one-fourth cup flour, two-thirds cup sugar, one-half cup orange juice, one cup water and grated rind of one orange. Sift flour with sugar; add water.

WHO DOESN'T LIKE PEAS?
NEW WAYS OF SERVING THEM

Clever Housewives Make Many Tasty Combination Dishes With Canned Peas.

Today let us chat a bit about peas. There are very few people who do not like them. But peas to be at their best must be picked at the proper time; when they are full of sugar, tender and succulent. However, that isn't enough. Peas, to retain their flavor and goodness, must be cooked immediately. If they are not, a chemical change takes place and the peas are flavorless.

That is one of the reasons that canned peas, a little difference what their size or variety, are delicious to the last spoonful, for as we know they are canned within a few hours from the vine.

When you are serving your family canned peas use ingeniously in serving them. Try these recipes in which canned peas are the basic food.

This is a delicious dish nice for luncheon. In fact, it is called lunch-corn peas. Take three small carrots, one-eighth of a head of cabbage, one-fourth head of lettuce cut into small dice-shaped pieces. Put a tablespoon of butter into a not saucepan and let the diced-peas. Garnish with hard-boiled egg and bits of cooked ham or tongue. Serve with mayonnaise.

Jellied Tomato Salad.
To a good sized can of tomato add one tablespoon minced onion, one-half teaspoon celery salt, one-half teaspoon sugar, one teaspoon salt, one tablespoon lemon juice and two cloves. Simmer 15 minutes, add a cup of hot water and stir in one and one-half tablespoons powdered gelatin softened in cold water to cover. Strain and pour into individual molds or a large mold rubbed lightly with salad oil. When firm, unmold and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise. French dressing or a little cold slaw. A little horseradish may be added to the dressing if desired.

New Zealander Steps Nearer to a Match With Champion Tunney

Crowd of 20,000 Pays $175,000 to See Defeat of French Canadian in Title Elimination Bout — Jack Tires When His Blows Fail to Stop Heavier Rival.

By Ed Van Every.

OF the New York World Sport Staff.
NEW YORK, March 2.—"Oh, I wouldn't like to say I'll beat Gene Tunney, but I wouldn't mind taking a crack at the job." The man from "down under" had come out on top once more, and thus spoke Tom Heenev, the New Zealand blacksmith, after he had hammered out a 15-round victory over Jack Delaney last night in Madison Square Garden before a crowd of 20,000 persons who paid in close to $175,000 and for once got a pretty good run for all that money.

In eliminating Delaney it cannot be said that Tom did anything especially brilliant. But then Tom never does. He is what might be described as an "honest fighter." He just hammers out a good, square, reliable job of fist-fighting without any frills and with such sincere effort that it usually brings home a victory. The kind of fight that takes a lot of beating from any man, and this goes for the champion, Gene Tunney.

Tom Heenev is one of those heavyweights who can take the hardest kind of smash on the point of the jaw and still keep right on about his business of bashing away at his opponent. And he sticks to his task in a fashion that discounts a lot of fancy and scientific opposition. Just a good "honest fighter," and you know what they say about that honesty policy in the long run.

Better Than Expected.
It was a much better fight than most of us expected and a lot different in some ways. Delaney had no trouble getting over his killing right to the chin before the fight was very far under way, but when it failed to stiffen the Australian, though Jack was guilty of a lot of holding, he stood up under a very rough mauling from the fifth to the ninth, and then rallied in the tenth in a way that made him look like a sure winner and that made the finish a pretty close business. There was quite a lot of excitement one way and another.

During the wait for the principals to come into the ring there were three scraps around the ring-side, one of them pretty good. They came as a result of the special police ejecting a couple of occupants of the $22.50 seats, who were guilty of the heinous offense of smoking. It is pretty tough to be fired from a $22.50 seat while the $3 guys up in the gallery yell at you derisively between cigar puffs.

As the contestants stood in the

Delaney Rallies Brilliantly in Tenth Round, But Heenev Is on Top at Finish

Heenev tore loose and drove Jack back with left and right to the body and a stiff right to the jaw. Still it was a clear winning round for Delaney.

So was the third. Delaney sent in some terrific left hooks to the chin and also brought up a right uppercut that jolted Tunney's head back and he shot in a right to the heart with such power that he grunted with his own effort. This did not stop Tom from boring in and mauling away but he was decidedly outfoxed in this one. Delaney's mouthpiece was giving him a lot of bother and it popped to the floor. Jack coolly searched about for it after the bell and was in no hurry about getting back to his corner. For a good fighter the Bridgeport is a very good actor.

The Fourth a Lively Round.
There was some lively action in the fourth, which was an even one. Heenev got off with an nice start but Jack came back with a left hook to the jaw. Tom got over a stiff belt to the head after he tore loose from an embrace. A little later Tom shot another stiff right to the jaw, but Jack fired back a very fast counter right to the same spot that jarred the Australian back on his heels.

Now Heenev's ruggedness and superior weight started to tell. Delaney started the fifth by scoring with a hard right to the head and did some nice work with his left hook. Heenev, however, was coming in harder than ever. After taking a left to the button that made his knees bend, Tom put in some heavy belts to the body and smashed the right to the nose that brought a trickle of blood from the fencing master's nose. Then Heenev started digging in so furiously that Jack was compelled to hold on several times.

In the sixth the Australian came faster than ever. Jack's left hooks and right uppercuts seemed to have no effect and when he had Tom fore loose with such strength that Delaney was tossed around. Tom went frequently with lefts to the face and kept digging away at

Rickard After Dempsey to Reenter Elimination Fold

NEW YORK, March 2.—DISAPPOINTED at the show ing made by Tom Heenev and Jack Delaney in their match last night, Tex Rickard announced today he would make strong efforts to bring Jack Dempsey back into the heavyweight "elimination" fold and disclosed at the same time that Dempsey would begin light training at Orangeburg, N. Y., in two or three weeks.

center of the ring listening to the instructions of the referee, Jack Denning, there did not seem to be the big difference in weights that gave the 198-pound Australian an advantage of 17½ pounds. Heenev is ruggedly built, but Delaney did not suffer in height, was equally broad of chest and thick in the arms. Jack's legs were far trimmer, but this promised to him advantage in speed, and he had considerably the best of it in the matter of reach over his solidly set rival.

Heenev Not Jarred.
Delaney started off by left hooking Tom to the face and was backed around as the Australian flung in his usual determined fashion. Half way through this opening canto Jack drove through his famous right in an upper cut clean to the chin with terrific impact, and it was discouraging indeed to Delaney's rosters when Thomas never budged the New Zealander. It only momentarily halted the foreigner's bering in in his customary rollicking way. It was a fairly even round.

Jack started the second by hooking his left to the head and then followed with another that was so powerful and so well timed that it shook the Australian. But it did not stop him from plunging in. Now Jack was the fistic fencing master in earnest and he stabbed his man prettily, but still Tom swarmed in and the Bridgeporter was forced to hold.

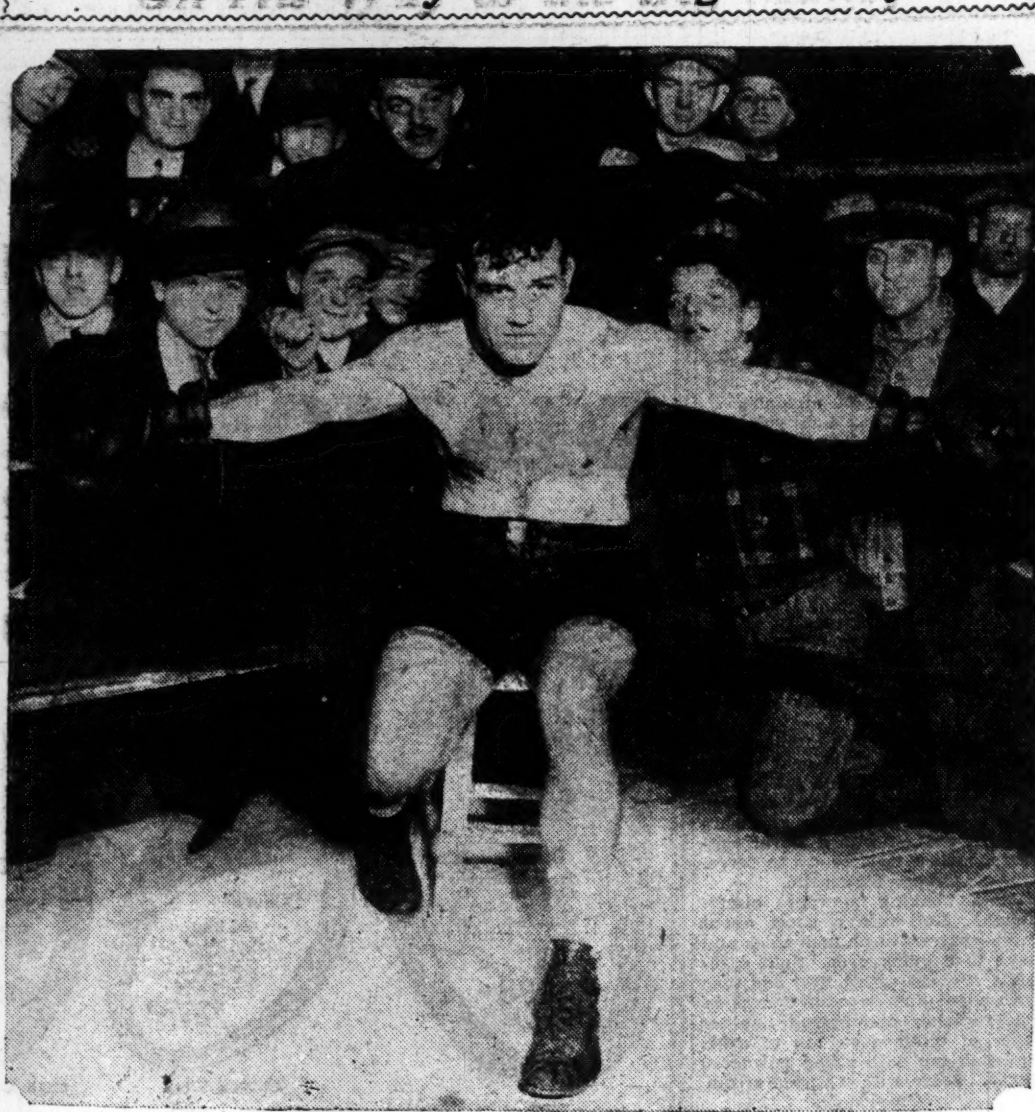

Delaney Tires.
It began to look in the seventh as though Delaney was going to have trouble lasting the distance. The severe bombardment of the mid-section that he was forced to sustain through this three minutes seemed to rob him of much of his strength and his work with the left appeared to be a weak slapping effort with the open glove. Jack acted tired as he walked to his stool and he vomited when he got back to his corner.

Delaney was forced to resort to a lot of holding in the eighth. He took a severe belting about the ribs and he almost went down under some heavy jolts to the wind. Jack seemed in a rather bad way and was caught with a left hook to the face and then a straight smash with another left to the same spot. And another lusty right followed to the stomach.

Heenev's aggressiveness gave him somewhat the best of the ninth, but in the tenth Delaney proved something of a surprise. Half way through this one Heenev accidentally landed pretty well on the belt and here was a fine opportunity for the Bridgeport contender to get away with a claim. He appeared to be hurt as he limped about but when the referee turned to warn the Australian, Jack gallantly indicated that he desired to continue. For a moment or two Delaney took quite a pummeling about the body, and then he suddenly rallied and his flashy left was put into play in fine fashion. He also copied Tom with a couple of stiff right uppercuts and his last work momentarily broke up the New Zealander's aggressiveness. Delaney started off the eleventh by shooting a series of lefts to the face of his opponent and also crossed a jolting right to the chin.

Delaney Resorts to Holding.
Heenev still planned to bludgeoned over a stiff right to the

St. Louis U. Freshman Team Defeats Los Angeles Quint

Blues Spring Big Surprise When They Score 22 to 14 Victory and Stop Bradburn Scoring Machine in First Game of Municipal Title Series.

By Gerald Holland.

A crowd of about 1500 persons saw the Bradburn brothers held to a total of three field goals last night at the St. Louis University gymnasium as the St. Louis U. Blues, Billiken Freshman quintet, gained a well-deserved victory over the Los Angeles team in the first contest of the three-game series to determine the Municipal League basketball championship.

The Los Angeles defeat was surprise enough but few of the Municipal League followers were prepared for the decisive manner in which the game was won. Even as the first half ended with the Blues ahead 13 to 6, the usual expectation of a close contest never materialized.

The victors played hard and well from start to finish and unlike the St. Louis U. Freshman team in the finals last season were prepared for the decisive manner in which the game was won. Even as the first half ended with the Blues ahead 13 to 6, the usual expectation of a close contest never materialized.

The Los Angeles defeat was surprise enough but few of the Municipal League followers were prepared for the decisive manner in which the game was won. Even as the first half ended with the Blues ahead 13 to 6, the usual expectation of a close contest never materialized.

Now Jack was tying up his man and after the break catching Tom with many a left to the face. Heenev crowded so hard in the twelfth that Jack was forced to do a lot of holding and the fencing-master came close to being floored with a heavy right to the head. But after this rather tough session Jack came back in good style.

Tom was nailed with a right to the heart in the thirteenth that made his left leg come up off the floor. Jack landed some showy rights to the head in the fourteenth and there was not a little likelihood that he might even plow through by a slashing finish in the final round.

Locke Receives Offer for Tryout With Brooklyn

NEW YORK, March 2.—OLAND LOCKE, famous Nebraska sprinter, has an offer to give up the cinder path for the diamond.

Acting upon the recommendation of Dave Bancroft, Manager Robinson of the Brooklyn Nationals has invited Locke to report at Clearwater, Fla. for a tryout with the Dodgers.

Bancroft is a friend of Locke and although neither he nor Robinson have seen the Nebraska performer on a baseball field, they have reports that he displays ability as an outfielder.

It is understood that Locke will abide by Robinson's judgment as to whether he should abandon the track in his pursuit for a major league career.

NORTHWESTERN TRIMS ILLINOIS QUINT, 39-31

By the Associated Press.
NORTHWESTERN, Ill., March 2.—Northwestern took revenge last night on Illinois, the team which knocked Northwestern out of the big ten basketball race, defeating the Downstears 39 to 31. The purple grabbed a 10-point lead at the start and held it, despite the loss of Gleichman, one of the regular forwards, who was injured in the Chicago game early in the week.

Doug Mills, the Illinois dribbler who was mainly responsible for Northwestern's defeat in their previous meeting, was stopped by Capt. Waldo Fisher of Northwestern.

Rut Walter, Northwestern's sophomore center, sank almost every one of his shots at the hoop and created most of his chances for himself by dribbling close in. At half time the score was Northwestern 23, Illinois 14, and the Illinois never got closer than that.

FRISCH IN CAMP FOR HIS FIRST DRILL OF YEAR

Cardinals Go Through Long Session in Batting Cages, Which McKechnie Hopes Will Restore Punch.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

AVON PARK, Fla., March 2.—New life should be added to the Cardinals' infield and hitting drill today, with Frankie Frisch making his 1928 debut in a baseball uniform. On his arrival he spoke rumors that he had been ill. He said he was in wonderful health and eager to start work.

Manager McKechnie, as usual, personally supervised his players as they went to left field to try out the batting cages for the first time yesterday. After O'Farrell, Thewissen, Peet, Holm, Schuble, Bell, Hurst and Williamson had sent sizzling liners back at John Ryba and Fred Ostermueller, a couple of rookies who began pitching to the hitters, Coach Sutherland appeared on the scene with two pairs of shin guards and affixed them to the shins of the youngsters, who were warned to stay away from the batting cages unless this protection from liners.

McKechnie was well pleased with the enthusiastic manner in which his players flocked to the batting cages and expressed his belief that constant use of this paraphernalia would round his club in to a slugging aggregation instead of the weak hitting organization it was last year. The only difficulty experienced so far was the eagerness of the young pitchers to serve the batters, which caused them to work entirely too fast, thus endangering their arms.

Al Sutherland went to the hill, as is his usual custom in the spring, and supplied a half hour of pitching for the batters during the afternoon's round of work. For the first time this spring, the hitters found themselves face to face with a fine, sharp breaking curve and, after looking it over a few times, greeted it as best they could. Clark being the only batsman who could really boast of confidence in the new curve.

Jim Bivens, regarded as a good prospect for the Cardinals' infield, gave another dazzling display of fielding at shortstop.

Tommy Thewissen's arm is in wonderful shape. His throws to first base are perfect and, while on the subject, Tommy's hitting is on a par with the slugging he showed in the exhibition games last spring.

"Rabbit" Maravich sent Bob O'Farrell, Gus Mancuso and Virgil Davis through a half hour of strenuous fly chasing practice at the close of morning drill.

McKechnie gave Jess Haines his first muscle loosening session yesterday when he twisted his right shoulder vigorously after the big pitcher worked on the hill prior to the hitting practice. Last year, Haines attributed his success in the spring to the wonderful aid McKechnie gave him in working on his arm during spring training.

Bill Sherdel ran around the park five times yesterday. Art Reinhart was a close second, going the route three times.

MELLO SUSPENDED FOR FOULING HUDKINS

BOSTON, March 2.—The Massachusetts Boxing Commission yesterday suspended Al Mello, Lowell welterweight, for three months for fouling Ace Hudkins, "the Nebraska Wildcat," in their bout here this week.

Mello at first was given a six months' suspension, but the commission announced that in view of the boxer's previous good record, this would be reduced to three months with an additional three months of probation.

The commission said it was still investigating reports that Hudkins had received his $10,000 purse before leaving New York to come to Boston for the bout, and would penalize the Suffolk A. A., which staged the contest, if the reports were found to be true.

HORNSBY SIGNS FOR 3 YEARS AT $40,000

Rogers Will Also Receive Annual $600 Bonus Act as Captain of Braves.

By the Associated Press. BOSTON, March 2.—From the Braves' training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., about 100 miles from home, Hornsby's new three-year contract was announced today.

The contract was submitted to the Braves by Emil E. Fuchs, president of the club, and came as a surprise. Hornsby whose contract with New York Giants, which he took over when he was traded from Boston, had another year to run.

Hornsby's New York contract was for slightly more than $30,000 a season. He charged Judge Fuchs' action as "barmy" and said, "You may be sure I appreciate the consideration shown me, and if I can make it to the Boston club, giving the best that is in me, I certainly will do so."

Assuming that the three regulars are in the game every day, they do not pack a punch which is likely to strike great fear into the hearts of opposing pitchers, at least judging from last year's records, when they averaged about .297. Schulte leading with .317, Manush second with .293, and McNeely .285.

Of all them, however, have the ability to do better and it would not be surprising if each of their marks were considerably improved next year if they play regularly.

Defensively, the Browns will have a great outfield, or at least that is the opinion of pitchers of the club who know the men and are judges of whether an outfielder is able to get to him or not.

The hurlers think Fred Schulte is a wonderful fly chaser. They point out that Fred can go back after a ball as well as he can come in. He is a slugger as he has hard chances look easy and therefore is not given the credit that is due.

McNeely is a Speedster.
McNeely also is regarded as a great fielder and one who can cover a world of territory. He has played center field generally but moving to left field, which is the position for which he is being pointed at the present time, should not hurt his game any.

MANUSH'S CLUB HOPES TO TURN A TRADE BEFORE APRIL 11

Injury to Any of Three Regulars Would Force Howley to Use Inexperienced Fly Chasers.

By W. J. McGoogan.
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 2.—Word brought from home by Business Manager Bill Friel of the Browns that Helene Manush, the outfielder obtained from Detroit by trade, had injured his arm recently and was undergoing treatment, had not been very encouraging.

The Browns seem to have a very fair outfield in Manush. Fred Schulte and Earl McNeely, if they are all in good condition and able to do their best. But should anything happen to anyone of the three the team would have to fall back on Guy Sturdy, a first baseman who is trying to convert himself into an outfielder, or upon one of the inexperienced men with the club.

COBB TO PLAY WITH MACKS AGAIN IN 1928

Georgia Peach Accepts Terms but No Figures Are Announced — Cubs to Play Game Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, March 2. — Connie Mack, boss of the Philadelphia Athletics, was happy at Fort Myers, Fla., today because he had added to his basket of peaches
for 1928 one of the Georgia variety.

Ty Cobb has wired that he will be with the club again this year.
No figures are announced.

"It took a long campaign to get Ty for another season," Mack said.
"He had virtually retired from baseball and didn't want to play,
but when I showed him how useful he would be to next season
and moreover give us a chance for the pennant, he finally consented to join us."

"Cobb is still one of the greatest players in the game. Right today there is none more colorful.
Perhaps he is not the Ty of 10 years ago but he is still here and shoulders above the majority of fielders. He plays brilliantly last year and will deliver again this season."

"Cobb, Speaker and Simmons! What

Cubs to Play Regular Game.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 2.—A regular ball game, the first of 1928 for the Cubs, has been arranged for tomorrow by Manager McCarthy, to prepare the squad for a full nine-inning contest Sunday at the Cataline Island camp with the team from the battleship Tennessee. Tomorrow's fray will last only five innings, with about three pitchers
doing the flinging for each side.

McCarthy took charge of the sliding pit yesterday, teaching Woody English, last year's shortstop "find," how to go into the base first and the manager
twisted his leg painfully in the demonstration.

Glants Hold First Drill.
By the Associated Press.
AUGUSTA, Ga., March 2.—The Glants had their first drill at Warren Park in Augusta, Ga., yesterday with a squad of 32 reporting. Vic Aldridge, the pitcher traded to New York by Pittsburgh in return for Burleigh Grimes, has yet to put in appearance.

Hookers had a big day at the Yankee camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. Byrd of Alabama and Cooke,
a Carolinian, performed in the outfield to the satisfaction of Manager Miller Huggins. Lou Gehrig connected for another long avat
to the lake adjacent to the diamond.
Babe Ruth is becoming bronzed by the sun with his religious patrol of the golf links.

CHICAGO BOXERS WIN
ALL CHAMPIONSHIPS IN CENTRAL A. A. U. MEET

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 2.—Chicago fighters won the championships in all divisions of the Central A. A.
U. boxing tournament which closed
last night and in which 274 amateurs from several states participated.

Two of the winners were defending titles earned last year—
Bully Schuman, flyweight, and Paul Pantalone, light heavyweight.
Johnny Lee, the only other fighter defending his title, was beaten in the semi-finals by Eddie Burke,
who went on to win the welterweight honors.

FORMER MISSOURI U.
STUDENT AIDS OXFORD
TO WIN AT LACROSSE

By the Associated Press.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 2.—
Half of the Oxford University lacrosse team which defeated Cambridge here yesterday by the score of 10 to 3 were American students.
They were Robert Cunningham of Princeton University, R. B. Cudham of Racine, Wis.; E. D. Bond of the University of Missouri, R.
T. Van de Groot of the University of Alabama, George P. Sand of Cornell, and Nate Parker of Dartmouth.

WESTERN M. A. CADETS
SEE CUE EXHIBITION

The entire student body of Western Military Academy was entertained with an exhibition of fancy shots by Charles C. Peterson, the billiard expert, Wednesday afternoon. About 350 cadets, the officers of the military school and their wives packed the school auditorium at Alton as "Pete" reeled off the best shots in his repertoire.
Mrs. Arthur Schneitborst and Mrs. Andrew J. Havestick, of St.
Louis, were sponsors of the party.
In a novelty tournament which followed Peterson's exhibition, the following cadets were winners:
Richard Rogerson, Charles McLa-
ry, Jack DeLargy, Harry Menta, James Wood and Thomas Oakley.

WRAY'S COLUMN

How Come?

ST. LOUIS is to see a Western soccer final, with the Bricklayers and the Ben Millers as the rivals for a place in the all-United States championship match.

To expect the Ben Millers to reach such an altitude by downing the Bricklayers would be about as reasonable as to expect the Braves to figure in the 1928
world series.

Even the presence of the Millers in the Western final makes readers rub their eyes and look at the facts again. These show:

That the Ben Millers last year were held to a tie by a municipal soccer team.

That this season, in the league
race, they are in last place.

That the Tablers, an eleven composed largely of Municipal graduates, in two games ran up a total of 18 goals against the Millers!

In spite of this record, the Millers have won three preliminary cup games, while the Tablers and all the other teams in front of the Millers were quickly eliminated from the cup championship.

That a fall-end club should survive, where the league leaders failed is one of the unexplainable mysteries of soccer.

This Would Be Queer.
IF THE Millers should beat the Bricklayers and then trim the Eastern finalists and thus gain
the national title, St. Louis would enjoy a unique position. It could reasonably say that it had four clubs which figured better than any other team in the country.

Literally, that would be an absurdity. For the Bricklayers of Chicago proved how seemingly ineffective our eleven are when they played two holiday games against local all-star teams from the professional league and won both on successive days!

If "form" means anything, the Millers will be fortunate to beat the Bricklayers.

But the Millers have a great habit of wrecking the form in "money games" and may go over the top.

If they do, they will stand out
as the most remarkable eleven that ever wore a St. Louis uniform.

Guess This One.

THE shifting of players back and forth between the Glants
and the Braves continues, leaving the fans voicing the unanswered question: "Why?"
Several instances of players moving back and forth between these clubs might be cited. The latest is Catcher Taylor, last year sent by the Braves to the Glants, and this week returned by the Glants to the Braves.

This swap is almost as mys-

Billikens Play Last Road Game

St. Louis U. Squad Leaves for Omaha to Meet Creighton
Five Tomorrow.

A squad of eight St. Louis University basketball players will leave with Coach Harry Regot tonight
for Omaha, Neb., to meet Creighton University in a return game which tomorrow night.

Creighton won 35-25 in the first meeting of the teams but the Billikens are in good shape to avenge
the defeat. The players that are making the trip include: Oldfield, Hunt, Strong, Drury, Anderson,
Jack Strong, Joyce and Mulroy.
The usual lineup of Strong and Oldfield at the forward; Drury, center, and Jack Strong and Anderson at the guards will start.

RECORD ENTRY LIST OF 2251 TEAMS IN A. B. C. PIN TOURNAMENT

KANSAS CITY, March 2.—With the entry list of five-man teams
swollen to a new record of 2251
by last night's local additions,
workmen today were completing the 28 alleys for the American Bowling Congress championship tournament here March 5 to 12.

The tournament alleys in the American Royal Building were getting last coats of shellac in preparation for a covering of sawdust, under which they will secure until the first Kansas City
bowling lineup Monday night.
More than 1400 local booster
teams have entered and this array of enthusiastic pin-smashers will utilize nearly the entire first week. First visiting teams arrive Saturday, March 10, when Chicago, Cincinnati and Omaha teams put in their appearance.
Chicago, St. Louis and Milwaukee lead in the number of out-town bowlers. Chicago has entered about 1000, St. Louis 800 and Milwaukee 600.

Hall Defeats Hoppe, 50 to 38

Willie Still Leads Former St.
Louisian in 3-Cushion League
by 2 Games.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, March 2. — Allen Hall defeated Willie Hoppe, 50 to 38 in the American billiard league
three cushion tournament at Jack Doyle's Broadway academy last night. The game lasted 48 innings, with Hall getting a high run of eight against six for Hoppe.
The latter still leads the field with 32 games won and 13 lost. Hall is second with 30-15. Johnny Layton is third with 28-16.

In two other matches John Layton beat Otto Reisel, 50 to 44, at Hoppe's academy and Alfred De Oro triumphed over Harry Wakefield, 50 to 42. Layton and Reisel each made a high run of seven,
with the contest going 42 innings. De Oro tallied six for his high run mark against five for Wakefield, with the game ending in the 62nd inning.

MISSOURI FAVORED TO BEAT KANSAS TONIGHT IN ANNUAL DUAL MEET

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, March 2.—Tonight's annual Missouri-Kansas dual indoor track meet in Convention Hall will draw close scrutiny
from track followers in the Missouri Valley Conference as indicative of the strength of the teams in the conference indoor meet in Des Moines next week-end.

Missouri is reputed to have one of its strongest teams in recent years, and on the basis of past performance, is conceded the edge tonight. The Tiger team is looked to sweep the hurdles, quarter mile and shot put, and to take the mile relay. Frazier of Kansas in the 50-yard dash are counted certain first-place winners.

Twenty-one athletes from each school gathered here today for the meet. Two men from each school compete in each event, with points awarded for first and second places
only.

Eleven events, including one relay, are carded, with 43 points necessary for victory.

Seeing the Light.

BASEBALL has wrought wonders on a certain lad who, at the age of 13 or 14, was just an "incurable" in a reform school.

In the Babe Ruth of today, redeemed by love of outdoor sport, few will recognize the bad boy of other days. Ruth is taking himself seriously. He trained earnestly all winter and is on the job now a very much different Babe than the reckless young man of not so many seasons ago.

Babe also has salted away
plenty of money against the time when he will be unable to set home-run records. Apparently he has outgrown completely the haphazard stage of his life.

He owes it all to baseball. In no other walk of life could he have hoped for the tolerance
with which his early wildness was viewed by fans and employers. He would have been banned and canned and left to wake up after plenty of hard knocks and without sympathy.

Babe today is showing his appreciation, by giving everything
he has.

CORN FEATURES TRADE ON THE CHICAGO

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 3.—Corn averaged higher today, helped up by the fact that foreign demand advanced their prices about 2 c bushel. Besides, Argentine corn for the week ending 14,000,000 compared with 5,708,000 bushels a year ago. Wheat rallied with corn.

Corn closed unsettled, a shade higher, with bid 34 1/2 to 3 1/2 c unchanged to 3/4 c off and provisioned from 22 cents decline to a rise.

At noon corn was 34 1/2 to 3 1/2 c.

and wheat unchanged to 46¢. The Argentine government reports today from Argentina, reports that Argentine corn has been steadily growing and has reached 7,200,000 bushels a week in the last six months. In the leading trade authority was quoted as saying that Argentina will not be able to get such large crops of Argentine corn this season as last year's crop of 10,000,000 to 17,000,000 bushels of export corn at 46¢. (Columbus today as to the country's corn crop, and the outlines of a renewal of foreign demand associated with gradual recovery of the Argentine economy. On the other hand, today's sellers are not so sure of the country's farm reserves of corn had been counted and that the hog feed was at present an unprofitable one.

$100,000,000 St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company

Consolidated Mortgage 4 1/2% Gold Bonds Series A due March 1, 1978.

Interest payable March 1 and September 1. Principal and interest payable in New York. Bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, with privilege of redemption, as provided in the indenture. The company reserves the right to call these bonds for redemption, as a whole or in part, at any time after the date of issue, at 105% of principal and accrued interest, at par thereafter.

Previous notice, on any interest date, at 105% of principal and accrued interest, at par thereafter.

E. N. Brown, Esq., Chairman of the Board of Directors of St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company, in a letter, dated March 1, 1928, writes in part as follows:

A material improvement in the capital structure of the Railway Company will be accomplished through the sale of these $100,000,000 4 1/2% Bonds under the new Consolidated Mortgage and through the issue of $49,157,000 of Preferred Stock to be offered to the Company's stockholders, which amount of Consolidated Mortgage Bonds outstanding, together with all bonds prior in lien, except the Railway Company's outstanding capital stock of the Railway Company, will be reduced by about 2 1/2 times the capital stock interest charges will be reduced by over $2,000,000 per annum.

The proceeds of this financing of $100,000,000 less $126,297,000 Bonds and $17,173,000 at the rate of interest of 6% and $17,173,000 at the rate of interest of 6% to retire $7,500,000 of 6% Preferred Stock, and to provide about $9,000,000 for corporate purposes.

The Consolidated Mortgage Bonds will be secured (a) by deposit of over $66,630,000 underlying Bonds ($49,157,000 of St. Louis-San Francisco Bonds and over $17,473,000 of Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis Railway Company Refunding Mortgage Bonds); (b) directly, on 429 1/2 miles of road of the St. Louis-San Francisco system proper, together with equipment, terminals, shops, etc.; (c) by substantially all the stock or properties of the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis Railway Company, owning or controlling 1,331 additional miles of road; (d) by all properties hereafter acquired with the proceeds of Consolidated Mortgage Bonds.

The Bonds will be subject to $102,420,520 underlying Bonds in the hands of the public (the amount of which will not be increased), to $17,473,000 of equipment Trust obligations and to any lien not on extended and Consolidated Mortgage Bonds will be reserved to refund them.

The Consolidated Mortgage Bonds will be issued under the Indenture to Interstate Trust Company, New York, and John A. Aid, Esq., St. Louis, Missouri, as Trustee, and will not exceed $110,000,000 Series A Bonds, of which all in excess of $100,000,000 will be placed in the treasury. Additional Bonds may be issued in series with such provisions as to interest, maturity, redemption, etc., as may be determined by the Board of Directors, under restrictions to be set forth in the Indenture, but at no time shall the principal amount of Consolidated Mortgage Bonds outstanding, together with all bonds prior in lien, exceed the face value of the outstanding capital stock of the Railway Company.

Earnings of the system for the five years ended December 31, 1927, were as follows:

Year	Gross Operating Revenue	Total Income after all deductions except interest and Federal Income taxes
1927	$89,633,152	$18,875,098
1926	90,509,139	21,770,689
1925	94,715,374	23,404,452
1924	94,406,054	24,148,360
1923	99,259,584	23,824,490

The above total income for the year 1927 was equal to 1.6 times the annual interest charges (about $12,640,000) on the funded debt after completion of this financing, and the average for the past five years was equal to 1.8 times such interest charges.

The Railway Company will have outstanding $49,157,000 of Consolidated Mortgage Bonds and $66,630,000 of underlying Bonds, all of which will be paid at the rate of 6% per annum.

The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway System operates a total of 5,707 miles of road. Lines extend from St. Louis and Kansas City through Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, and an important line crosses the Mississippi River at Memphis, and on completion of an extension, Alabama to Birmingham, will reach the Gulf of Mexico.

Florida, on the Gulf of Mexico. Both road and equipment are in excellent condition. During the past ten years expenditures for new equipment and new equipment were about $87,000,000, after deducting the cost of property retired.

Application will be made to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

The issuance and sale of these Bonds are subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission and of the stockholders of the Company. All proceedings in connection with the issuance of these Bonds are subject to the approval of Messrs. Cushman, Wakefield & Taft for the Company.

Messrs. Cushman, Wakefield & Taft for the Company.

We offer the above Bonds for subscription, if, as and when issued and received by us at 97% and accrued interest, to yield about 4.65%.

We reserve the right to close the subscription at any time without notice, to reject any application and to allot a smaller amount than applied for. Amounts due on all Bonds will be payable at the office of Speyer & Co., 24 & 26 Pine Street, New York, New York, on or about March 20, 1928, as called for, against delivery of Interest Receipts exchangeable for Temporary or Definitive Bonds when ready.

Keep the Children Busy
And They Will Be Happy

By Emilie Hoffman

TO BE contented, children must be engaged in something every minute they are awake. The mother who understands children knows this need and provides them with interesting employment, for she knows that by this means they will keep out of mischief and she can perform her numerous duties undisturbed.

The mother provides the means for keeping the children busy and contented, but she also realizes children are restless and need frequent change of occupation, so she is prepared to furnish this variety. Children should play outdoors several hours a day when the weather is favorable, but during wintry days there are many hours for indoor play. Children soon tire of their toys, and as soon as the mother notices they are losing interest in any occupation she should be ready to supply the change.

Instead of buying cheap toys or such as become useless after a little handling, she should buy profitable, educational toys. These give the children just as much pleasure and are of real educational value to the child. A five-cent box of crayons and a five-cent blank book will keep a child busy for hours, especially if the mother provides small objects which the children can outline in the book, then color. She can cut small animals, fruit, flowers, etc., from magazine advertisements and paste them on cardboard, then cut them out. The little artists will carefully guard their stock of "patterns" and derive much amusement from transferring them to paper. Cards with perforated animals and other objects for tracing can be made in the same way.

Mother can lengthen the stitch on her machine, and with the needle unthreaded stitch designs on light cardboard or heavy paper. The children will delight in drawing bright-colored words through these perforations.

Give them can covers to draw circles and let them color these in designs. With a few suggestions from mother, it will be surprising what these little folks will produce. At places where school supplies are sold you can get cards with designs for coloring, and the magic color papers to do this work will please the children.

Mothers will be surprised how much valuable educational material they can get in these places, and it is a much better investment than spending the same amount of money for toys that can only amuse. The busy mother can secure catalogues from these firms to enable her to make selections. Even a 10-cent box of colored clay will afford untold amusement to a child, and all these materials are busy work for the hands. It is a well-known fact that the child who has become accustomed to the use of pencil and brushes will advance more rapidly in writing, drawing, etc., in school than the child without this practice.

These forms of amusement also furnish the right stimulation and outlet for the child's imagination. Children like to make things, and when this desire is gratified the constructive imagination is developed, the child becomes a producer and creator, and is intensely interested in this productive activity, especially if his achievements receive proper recognition from the parent. A little motherly encouragement may mean a great deal to the child. (Copyright, 1928.)

ELINOR GLYN TELLS HOW TO WIN A MAN

(Sixteenth Article)
By Elinor Glyn.

IF it is possible for you who read this, go to the Cleveland Museum of Art and see that bust of Alexander the Great that I wrote about two days ago—because the more I look at it, the more I know that nothing I could say or write about could express "it" more than that bust does—and it was not invidious for me to rave about it. Then, I recommended to intelligent girls who read this to go to the public library and look up facts about Alexander the Great—and learn how his marvelous "go" accomplished miracles, and how his overpowering limit and breaking the laws of nature and of divine principle wrought his death. He is a great lesson and a great inspiration.

Girls, if you are young and beautiful, do try to improve your minds and cultivate history and literature in your spare time. Polish is one of the greatest assets. There is not much beauty or seeming value in an uncut and unpolished emerald or diamond, but when properly treated by the art of man, both can become of inestimable treasure to their possessors. God gives us the talents or the beauty or the magnetism, but we must do the cutting and polishing—that is the test of character.

Now everyone who consistently reads my articles knows that I am always trying to help girls onward, so that they may obtain happiness and success through their own mastery of their own impulses—and that is the great lesson to learn. Any girl can obtain all good if she is only intelligent enough to set about studying cause and effect, and then determine ruthlessly to study her own reactions of vanity and eliminate them, for vanity is the stumbling block to all advancements, because it distorts the sense of values and makes us allot false importance to everything which panders to our self-love. Or all the faults to blast out of ourselves, vanity is the chief—as of all the virtues to endeavor to gain, common sense is the greatest, because it contains all the rest. The next article will be printed Monday. (Copyright, 1928.)

Terrible in Her War Paint
By Anne Jordan.

IF Pocahontas were to take time and return to the America she left so long ago, she'd get a flock of shocks coming to her. She'd walk down Main street and see the towering apartment hotels and say, "Heap much big tepee. Big tribe live there." She would be scared stiff of most of our modern things, but after all, she'd find a few old landmarks that were familiar. She'd find that bootleggers still peddled the "fire-water," and that war paint was still in vogue, though she might knit her brow about the women wearing the war paint instead of the men. The most outlandish "war paint" is that used by the little miss of about 16. When she's just gotten too old to spank, and in full enjoyment of her new situation, she paints twice as hard because mama said she couldn't. A kid of that age reminds me of a little bantam rooster, sitting on the top rail of the fence, crowing lustily for day to day and break. She thinks she is the most important thing in the world, and she struts into the drug store and orders the most complete make-up box she can buy. Lavender powder, white cream, liquid lash darkener, liquid powder, dry powder, kiss-tight lip rouge, yellow paint, red paint, hair toners—oh, everything she ever saw or heard of she buys and tries—all at one time. The result—well, ask her big brother. He has the vocabulary.

There's no use in telling her to go wash her face. That to her is a subtle compliment. She thinks you're jealous. There are only two ways to handle such a situation, and both of them are to let her alone. She will pretty soon get tired of it herself. A remark from someone outside will be sure to come, and it will do more good than if you preached her a sermon. She will creep back home to wash her face, and that's where a wise parent should step in and teach the young lady how to make her face. Because it's beyond a reason to hope that any youngster isn't going to paint her face nowadays. Make her up yourself—a faint little flush of rouge on her cheek bones, and give in and let her use the lip-stick that she adores so much. And urge rouge that will not hurt her skin. I advise powder rouge for very young faces, because it can be removed so easily. And that's one thing that is absolutely necessary—getting all trace and strain of make-up removed before retiring. Youngsters are so sleepy at night that they are apt to topple into bed without washing their faces. They'll leave a poor skin striving to breathe through 12 to 14 coats of paint and powder just because they live so gloriously in TODAY. They can wash their faces the next morning and find a fresh firm skin—but what they do not realize is that a few years afterwards the "aged" pores will tell the story. About the only treatment necessary for a perfectly normal skin under 20 is soap and water, and plenty of each. The soap should be lathered in, and rubbed over with a small, soft handkerchief. This should be done twice a day, and a girl who reaches 20 with a well scrubbed face will have a long time to enjoy a perfect skin. (Copyright, 1928.)

LITTLE BURR WAS A BIG HEARTBREAKER

By Albert Payson Terhune.

Nicknamed "Little Burr."

Climax of Quarrel With Hamilton.

A Whirlwind Courtship at 78.

HE married his first wife at 26 and his second at 78. And he had love affairs with dozens of other women between those ages.

He was Aaron Burr, greatest of America's "might have been" and foremost, too, of America's heartbreakers. He was so small that he was nicknamed "Little Burr." He had a classic face, hypnotic black eyes and a manner better fitted to the French court than to the young and rather rude nation in which he lived. From boyhood he was always the object of women's love. Although he was graduated from Princeton when he was only 16 (in 1772), there was by that time more than one girl who openly adored him.

It was Burr's boast that he never deliberately set out to win any woman's heart. This may have been true, for there were plenty of women wherever he went to save him the trouble of laying siege to their affections. Burr, as a lad of 19, joined the Revolution. He was a fearless, brilliant soldier and rose quickly to the rank of Major.

Then his daring and skill attracted Washington's notice and he was promoted to a position on the Commander-in-Chief's own staff. But within six weeks some escapee of Burr's (generally believed to have been a love affair) so disgusted Washington that the commander was ever afterward Burr's enemy. Leaving the staff and securing the rank of Colonel, Burr was stationed with his regiment in Orange County. There he met Mrs. Theodosia Prevost, widow of a British officer. He is said to have rescued Mrs. Prevost from a party of marauding English soldiers, to have fallen in love with her at sight and to have thrown over for her sake another woman to whom he was engaged.

He Did Not Need to Sue for Women's Affections for There Were Always Plenty of Them to Save Him the Trouble.

THIRING of war, of finding he could rise no higher in rank, he left the army while the Revolution was in progress and in 1782 opened a law office. In the same year he married Mrs. Prevost. He was 26 and she was nearly 37. Yet they were happy together—after a fashion. The wife did not live long enough to let the difference between their ages make her old while her husband was still middle-aged. She died a few years after their marriage. And there were many women eagerly ready to console her husband.

Burr meantime had bent his wonderful brain to the mastery of politics. He beat Gen. Schuyler for the United States Senate in 1791, to the rage of Schuyler's son-in-law, Alexander Hamilton, who henceforth became Burr's sworn enemy. Burr rose rapidly and in 1800 was Jefferson's rival for the presidency. The vote was a tie. Congress awarded the presidency to Jefferson by the custom of the time. Burr became Vice President. In 1804 his long quarrel with Hamilton reached a climax in a duel. Burr and Hamilton fought with pistols early one July morning at Weehawken. Dueling was a favorite and usual method of settling disputes in those days. And the fight was perfectly fair. Neither man was a good pistol shot and each had an equal chance. Yet when Hamilton was killed Burr was forced to go into hiding. For a storm of public indignation swept him forever from popularity and ended his political career.

HE next planned a vast Southwestern empire and induced his friend, Blennerhassett, to finance the scheme. Blennerhassett's wife is said to have been devoted to Burr and to have helped him induce her husband to take up the plan. The government nipped the project in the bud. Burr was tried for treason, escaped on a "not proven" verdict and went to Europe. There, according to one biographer:

But he nearly starved, and as soon as he dared came back to America. He was old and broken. His wife was dead. His only daughter, Theodosia, had been lost at sea. His fortune was gone and he was an outcast. Yet his power of fascination was so strong that when he was about 78 years old he conducted a "whirlwind courtship" that won him the heart, hand and fortune of a rich widow, Mme. Jumel.

He squandered much of his elderly wife's money and she soon left him. Burr died—forsaken save by one Scotch woman, who had cared for him in better days—in a Staten Island hut in 1836. (Copyright, 1928.)

New Gowns Include Matching Kerchiefs

HANDKERCHIEFS for every costume are advocated by Paris designers. A young man of fashion was the first to make the kerchief which a favored client wore tied around her wrist. It was a man sized affair with lace on two sides only which the lady wrapped twice around her wrist and tied in a knot. Now many women are wearing similar handkerchiefs and many exclusive shops are showing them in great assortment.

One of the original models was made of two triangles of chiffon in contrasting colors.

Romance Risked
By Shoulder Straps

"ONE would think that women might have learned, after these years, to do something about them," a man remarked after he had been dining with a charming girl. What did he mean by "them?" Shoulder straps. For while his dinner companion was quite unconscious of anything wrong, he had been bothered by a shoulder strap that slipped down on her sleeveless arm. Not only was it out of place. Worse—what was meant to be pink was an indefinite gray.

Perhaps romances do break up on such slender grounds as these. Charm is made up of many intangible things, but untidiness has no place among them. Shoulders, straps of any garment worn under the dress generally become soiled before the rest of the garment, if they are detachable, remove and wash them in soap suds frequently. While damp, stretch them out to dry, and they will not need to be ironed each time. If they are attached to the garment, hold it with one hand while "wading" the straps in suds with the other.

Dirt's Foes Are Child's Friends

YOUR child may scowl at soap and water and handbrush, but sometime he will realize that these foes of dirt are his real friends. He is emphasized by Dr. Herman N. Bundeisen, president of the American Public Health Association, and until recently Health Commissioner of Chicago, in "The Growing Child," his recent book addressed to parents.

"The child should have his own wash cloth, and towel," says Dr. Bundeisen, "in order that disease may not be carried to him from other persons, and the hands should be washed always on getting up in the morning, before meals, after going to the toilet, and at bed time."

The right way to wash the hands, he declares, includes these steps: Wash the hands and soap them. Use plenty of water, warm if possible. Scrub the palms and fingers well.

Use a brush, carefully scrubbing the nails, knuckles, and bony parts of the wrists. The nails should be kept short enough so that scrubbing will remove the dirt under them.

Thoroughly dry the hands. Empty the used water, clean and put away everything used in washing, and hang up the towel.

Regular bathing for the growing child as well as for the infant is of the first importance. Dr. Bundeisen points out. It cleans the skin, keeps away bad odors, speeds the blood circulation, and rests the muscles and nerves. There is the present oil on the healthy young skin which mixes with the perspiration, dust, and dead skin. Unless the skin is kept clean the little pores soon become clogged. Children who bathe often, he says, feel better, and usually have a clear, elastic, rosy skin.

A child's hair and scalp should be washed once a week with soap and warm water according to the same authority, and dried with soft warm towels. Every day the hair and scalp should be brushed thoroughly to remove the dust and to massage the scalp, thus improving the blood supply. Each child should have his own comb and brush.

"Remember, there are five important things that count in health," says Dr. Bundeisen. "They are right food, fresh air and sunshine, rest and sleep, exercise and play, and cleanliness."

THE PARIS MODE TODAY

As Seen at the Openings and at the Charity Ball

Special cable by Pierre LeBaux, director of the Paris Fashion Board, and E. Winifred Boulter, associate director.

PARIS, March 1. LANVIN'S exquisitely varied collection with its wealth of new ideas is characterized by its perfect workmanship. Her leading color is a pale pastel mauve next to which in importance comes beige, then gray, black, white and green. Wide belts, from three to four inches, are a note of both the daytime and evening dresses. Small triangular capes finished with a circular band collar slipping on over the head are seen on afternoon and evening dresses. Buttons are among the favored trimmings and also small plastrons, square or oval contrasting in color.

She uses several of Rodier's diagonal linings in light colors, for sport ensembles. The skirts are decidedly fuller, many circular with belts coming up over the blouse. Some straight ones have groups of pleating back and front. Many sleeveless jackets are shown worn under longer matching coats forming four piece sports ensembles. One dress of green crepe de chine has a cardigan of green and white print strapped with plain green. Of course, there are picture gowns in a Lanvin showing and these are very beautiful—of contrasting organdy. Some of the taffeta modes are made on princess lines, the very full skirts dipping in back, suggesting the line of the '80's, and trimmed with full ruffles of contrasting organdy.

Boulanger concentrates chiefly on afternoon and evening gowns and particularly emphasizes scarfs. The hip lines are fitted, the hems very uneven. Many of the skirts in her collection are considerably longer all around. Some of these are transparent from a few inches below the knee to the bottom. A novelty is the straight breeches which are apparent under most of the skirts, either through transparent chiffon or displayed between slashed panels. One white evening gown has a corsege dotted with silver like an Oriental scarf. This trimming also appears on the breeches half-way to the knee. They are finished with a wide chif-fon hem. The skirt is of plain chiffon, longer in the back and slashed into panels. She shows a good deal of taffeta, plain and figured moire and stiff satin. Several afternoon and dinner gowns have short puffed sleeves. Other sleeves widen at the wrist. A new chain-stitch embroidery makes its appearance in this collection, in narrow leaf and reed designs on corseges of the palest pastel colors. One dress with a pale lilac corsege has a very full, long, paneled skirt of flowered chiffon in which lilac predominates. A bunch of blue hyacinths are thrust into the belt in the front.

The taffeta gowns are trimmed with flounces edged with ruffles set at irregular intervals, especially in the back. This again gives the effect of the mode of the '80's. There are many shaded effects, some horizontal, such as a pink-spangled corsege edged with a diamond shell pattern with a sky blue skirt. Some are perpendicularly shaded, having long panels in the back of yellow, blue, mauve and pink—the corsege covered with leaf embroidery. One wonderful picture gown of white moire flowered in black has large puffs on the hips. There is also a lovely white satin sac coat trimmed with white fox, set on diagonally.

The Bal des Petit Lits Blancs, the leading charity function of the winter months, taking place at the Opera, showed that the 1880 line is already being adopted by many smart women. There were numbers of taffeta evening gowns in black and bright colors, made with full gathered puffs at the back under a somewhat tight-fitting corsege, and long pointed or oval skirts, tapering up short in front. The Marquise de St. Creux wore a black gown with a taffeta light-fitting corsege trimmed with a long V of diamond embroidery finished with a motif at the waist, and a bouffant skirt of tulle slipping in a point at the back.

Shredded sweet red peppers make an attractive garnish for the colorless salad.

GENERAL SAYS
SANDING WOULD WIN NICARAGUA
BUT FOR MARINES

General Sandoz Tells Senate Committee Irregular Leader Has Army Big Enough to Capture Managua.

COMMITTEE SHELVES
INQUIRY RESOLUTIONS

Senate Will Be Reported Out Borah Informs Senate During Attack on Coolidge Policy.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Without of United States Marines in Nicaragua, in the opinion of Senator General Rufus H. Lane,
Adjutant and Inspector of the Marine Corps, would be the signal for immediate march on Managua and capture of the Government by Sanjino.

Gen. Lane's opinion, given in se-ret to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at a hearing on Nicaraguan conditions last month,
was made public yesterday, along with testimony by Secretary of the Army Wilbur, Rear Admiral Dat-
ton, former commander of the United States naval forces in Nicaragua waters, and Major-General Sandoz, Commandant of the Marine Corps, by Chairman Borah
after a heated attack on the administration's policy by Senator
Dill (Dem.) of Washington.

Say Sandoz Broke Promise.
Much testimony on the point that American lives and property were in danger was given to the Foreign Relations Committee, Admiral Dill explaining that he first decided to force the Latin-American republic because of attacks on American settlements.
The naval and marine officers testified that Sandoz had promised to lay down his arms; had repeatedly refused to do so and had resisted a United States owned mine
before the marines took the field against him. These officers expressed the opinion that many of the recruits were from Honduras.
His force apparently was well armed and there were vivid accounts of the battles with the Americans, whose heroism was praised by the officers.

Sandoz, now officially classed as the Marine Corps as a "guerrilla"
was reported in the testimony
having refused time and again to lay down his arms after making promises to the Marines that he would do so.

Resolutions to Be Shelved.
In addition to making public this testimony, Senator Borah said that none of the resolutions now before his committee proposing an inquiry into Nicaraguan conditions or American policy would be reported. He expressed doubt that any action would have any effect on this policy.
Opening the Senate debate, Dill
asked questions relating to the latest dispatches between Sandoz and American forces in which five Marines were killed and eight wounded. He demanded that the Marines be withdrawn, declaring they were not to Nicaragua at the request of United States congressmen and that no American lives or property
were in danger.

Gallery Cheers Dill's Statement.
Dill demanded to know if the Marines could "wage war" in Nicaragua indefinitely regardless of Senate action.

Jumping into the debate, Senator Shortridge (Rep.) of California, insisted that the marines were protecting American lives and property and declared for a policy of lay down under the sun. With this declaration that marines should be sent out to be killed to protect the large investments of the Marine Corps, Vice President
Cox quickly suppressed it.

Senator Edge (Rep.) of New Hampshire, also defended the administration attitude, declaring that a solemn agreement entered into between the United States and the two major factions in Nicaragua, the Conservatives and Liberals.

Details of Latest Attack.
On the marine force of 34 men led by Lieut. Edward F. O'Day, in which were killed were received in
